OFFICIAL VISIT TO CITY—Governor Nelson Rockefeller will officiate at the opening of the Kingston Lions Home and Auto Show on Tuesday evening, April 27, it was announced this afternoon by George E. Yerry Jr., chairman of the Arrangements Committee of the Kingston Lions Club. He said that Mrs. Rockefeller will accompany the Governor to Kingston, and attend the opening ceremonies. Yerry said he had received confirmation from the Governor's office at about 12:30 p. m. today, and that further details will be forthcoming later in the week. At present, the Governor is in Venezuela, but is expected to return to the country over the weekend to open the Kingston Lions Show and meet other commitments on Tuesday.

Planes Again Hit Red Roads, Spans

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)— American and Vietnamese fighter-bombers hammered away at North Vietnamese roads and bridges again today.

One Pilot Killed

One Navy propeller - driven Skyraider was downed and its pilot killed. A U.S. Army officer was killed in fighting in South Viet Nam, and an American civilian died at a Viet Cong roadblock, raising the number of American dead in two days to 12.

Three Skyraiders left the carrier Hancock before dawn on a half-hour strafing run from the 17th Parallel northward along Highway 1.

Convoy Smashed

A U. S. spokesman said the planes smashed a convoy and two of the planes returned safely to the Hancock. The New China News Agency claimed that North Vietnamese groundfire downed two of the planes.

The spokesman said the planes encountered heavy groundfire during the initial part of the raid, but that there was no firing at the time the Skyraider crashed.

Later in the day, U.S. and Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers conducted three strikes against the My Duc bridge, south of Dong Hoi, and convoys on Highways 1, 8 and 12. All aircraft returned safely.

On Highway 1, 140 miles south of Hanoi, American jets caused heavy landslides with some 20 tons of bombs, a spokesman said. Antiaircraft fire was heavy in one area, but no Communist planes were sighted.

The My Duc bridge was reported still standing, but its approaches were dotted with craters.

The Army officer was killed in heavy fighting in Binh Dinh Province, on a peninsula opposite the coastal city of Qui Nhon, 280 miles northeast of Saigon. The officer was fatally wounded while helping with the evacuation of Vietnamese wounded.

9 Killed Monday

Nine American helicopter crewmen were killed by Viet Cong groundfire Monday during the operation. Three Vietnamese were killed and three wounded.

Initial reports indicated 42 Viet Cong have been killed, most of them by fire from helicopters.

Says U. S. Must Be Forced Out of Viet

TOKYO (AP) — Red China called today for "full preparations" to send Chinese troops into the Vietnamese war if the United States escalates the fighting and the Vietnamese people call for help.

Unanimous Adaption

A Peking broadcast said the standing committee of the National Peoples Congress (Parliament) ordered the preparations in the form of a resolution adopted unanimously this afternoon.

"In the name of the 650 million Chinese people," the resolution said, "the standing committee of the National Peoples Congress of China today solemnly passed a resolution calling on the people's organizations and their people throughout China 'to make full preparations to send their own people to fight together with the Vietnamese people and drive out the U.S. aggressors in the event that U.S. imperialism continues to escalate its war of aggression and the Vietnamese people need them."

The legislative body is empowered to decide on the proclamation of a state of war.

"China will continue to do everything within its power to give resolute and unreserved support to the Vietnamese people now engaged in a patriotic, just struggle to resist the U.S.," the resolution said.

Won't Sit By Idly

It said "the Chinese government and the Chinese people have solemnly declared that aggression by U.S. imperialism against the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam means aggression against China and that the Chinese people will absolutely not sit by idly without lending a helping hand."

"In accordance with the demands of the Vietnamese people and the requirements of the common struggle against U.S. imperialist aggression, the Chinese people have done and will continue to do their utmost to assist the Vietnamese people to defeat the U.S. aggressors completely," the resolution said.

In the fall of 1950, Red China sent "volunteers" into the Korean War.

Backs Hanoi View

The Chinese expressed support for North Vietnamese appeal which called, among others, for a halt in U.S. air strikes on North Viet Nam and the withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Viet Nam.

"We maintain," the resolution said, "that the necessary conditions for a political settlement of the Viet Nam problem can be created only by putting an end to the U.S. imperialist aggression against Viet Nam and forcing the United States to withdraw all its armed forces from Viet Nam."

The resolution also said it hoped that "all countries and people who oppose U.S. imperialism and love peace will warmly respond to the appeal of the National Assembly of the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam, take emergency action and launch a mass movement of unprecedented force on a worldwide scale to compel the U.S. aggressors to get out of Viet Nam, of Indochina and of all the other places they occupy."

Tilting Gasoline Tank Adding to Flood Woes

By HARVEY BREUSCHER

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — A tilting storage tank laden with 107,000 gallons of gasoline added an awesome fire peril today to the woes of La Crosse, braced for the record flood crest sweeping down the Mississippi River valley.

"God, can you imagine fire moving along on this crest," said a police officer assigned to the emergency guard over the tank farm where 15 million gallons of gasoline are stored.

A 75-foot rupture in a protecting dike poured eight feet of water over the complex Monday, and Fire Chief Fred Genz Sr. said the potential danger increased with the exposure of the tanks to flood debris.

While the self-sealing tanks are not leaking, the water around them is coated by an oil slick from a nearby auto junk yard.

Climbs to 17.4 Feet

The Mississippi climbed to 17.4 feet, more than five feet over flood stage at La Crosse, as it swept downriver.

At Winona, Minn., about 25 miles to the north, nearly 1,000 persons left their homes in an orderly evacuation when water began coming up through storm sewers after seeping under protective dikes.

Deep - sea diving equipment was ferried across the Mississippi Monday by National Guardsmen from Eau Claire, Wis., to Winona where volunteer divers placed an inflatable fabric bag in a manhole to seal off the flow. Two other sewers were to be plugged the same way today.

The river was expected to crest today at Winona at 21½ feet, 8½ feet above flood level, and crest at 18 feet at La Crosse Wednesday.

Warm Welcome Is Accorded Italy's Prime Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)— Prime Minister Aldo Moro of Italy received a warm welcome from President Johnson today as he arrived at the White House for get-acquainted talks.

Mrs. Johnson joined the President in greeting the prime minister, who was received with full military honors.

Moro's visit originally was scheduled for last July, but Italian political problems caused a postponement.

Friendly Aim

With no major decisions to be made, the talks are designed mainly for top American and Italian officials to get to know each other better.

Today's Johnson-Moro meeting is the first of two in two days. Johnson also will be host tonight at a White House dinner for Moro.

Moro, 48, a professor in the philosophy of law, was secretary general of Italy's Christian Democratic Party for four years before he assumed the premiership in 1963. He has been under fire recently from Communists and left-wing Socialists because of support for U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

To See Others

Besides Johnson, Moro meets with Secretary of State Dean Rusk today and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Wednesday. Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler gives a luncheon in Moro's honor today, Rusk will give one Wednesday and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will host a breakfst for him on Cpitol Hill Thursdy.

Upon his arrival late Monday at Washington National Airport, after a flight from New York, Moro said, "I am extremely gratified about the prospects of our talks which should reaffirm the ties of friendship and cooperation between the two countries." Rusk welcomed Moro in behalf of President Johnson.

After leaving Washington Thursday, Moro goes to Philadelphia and New York. He will return to Italy Friday night.

Fair to Reopen Wednesday, Runs Through Oct. 21

NEW YORK (AP) — The weeks of planning and refurbishing are ended. At exactly 8:30 Wednesday morning, the New York World's Fair reopens.

HHH, Brandt on Hand

The billion-dollar international exposition will be launched on its second and final six-month season with scores of foreign and national dignitaries scheduled to join in opening-day ceremonies. Included are Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

An army of workmen was assigned to work right up to the symbolic ribbon-cutting, tending to the last-minute technical and housekeeping problems that build up during six months of hibernation.

"We have everything in order," a fair spokesman said. "Now it's up to the public and the weather."

Nazi Leader Skipping Paltz, To Picket Substitute Speaker

Members of both the NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) and CORE (Committee on Racial Equality) reaffirmed today that they would picket the appearance of a representative of the American Nazi Party Wednesday night at the State University College at New Paltz, although a "substitute" speaker would appear instead of George Lincoln Rockwell.

Robert Pyle, SUC dean, told The Freeman today that the college was officially notified Monday afternoon that Rockwell, leader of the American Nazi Party, would be unable to appear as lecturer in the first of a series of "Modern Political Ideologies" scheduled for 8 p. m. Wednesday at the college campus. The lecture is one of a series sponsored by the college's Social Science Club in conjunction with a program of guest speakers representing the various political ideologies of today, including the "isms."

Editor Accepted

Dean Pyle said that Rockwell said that "Capt." John Patler, editor of the ANP publication, "Storm Trooper," would appear in place of Rockwell if it was "acceptable" to the club. He said that after a meeting of the club Monday night, it was decided to accept Patler's appearance in place of Rockwell.

Pyle said that no reason was given by Rockwell for his inability to appear, but it was learned that it was not due to the planned protest demonstrations by the NAACP and CORE units from both Ulster and Dutchess counties. A spokesman for Rockwell at the party's office in Arlington, Va., told The Freeman this morning that Rockwell was scheduled to appear today in federal court in Amaraillo, Texas, where he is plaintiff in a law suit against a television station.

Think That LBJ's Snub Is Disgrace to Shastri

An AP News Anlysis
By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The Indian government feels President Johnson deliberately snubbed Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri when he asked him to postpone his scheduled visit to Washington indefinitely.

Many Indian officials feel the American President was impolite or even arrogant in the abruptness of his request.

Shastri is deemed to have been disgraced publicly and thus to have lost face — and in Asia that's serious.

Pakistan Reaction Same

Reports from neighboring Pakistan indicate there was much the same reaction there to Johnson's request that Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan also put off his visit.

Ayub was scheduled to travel to Washington April 25 and Shastri on June 2.

The White House announced Friday it had requested the postponements. Administration spokesmen said Johnson would be too busy with the Viet Nam crisis and a heavy congressional workload.

Commissioner Conway Clears Wolter Of Any Race Bias in Renting Housing

Hendrick A. Wolter, operator of Skytop Townhouse Apartments off Route 28 just west of Kingston, "has given every indication of being committed to a firm policy of renting apartments and selling any homes under his control, on a completely non-discriminatory basis, without consideration of the factor of race, creed, color or national origin," according to a decision made April 16, by Commissioner J. Edward Conway of the State Commission For Human Rights.

The decision was handed down in two local cases involving applications of Negroes who sought to lease apartments in the Skytop Townhouse Apartments development.

Thomas L. Greene Jr. and David Collier lodged complaints with the State Commission for Human Rights, alleging that the defendants, Hendrick A. Wolter, doing business as Skytop Townhouse Apartments, and his agents Clarence Dickert, acting general manager, and Edward Noonan, rental agent, had refused to consider applications for housing accommodations because of race and color.

In a lengthy decision Commissioner Conway, a former Ulster County Judge, reviews the situation and states "upon the record herein taken as a whole, there is probable cause to credit the allegations of this complaint and I so find and decide."

However, Commissioner Conway notes that during the period of time during which the incidents occurred, Mr. Wolter "was first seriously ill, then convalescent and was not present in the vicinity. He was not able to and did not exercise his normal supervision over his business operations. In our subsequent contacts with him he has given every indication of being committed to pursuing a firm policy of renting all apartments and selling any homes under his control, on a completely non-discriminatory basis, without consideration of the factors of race, creed, color or national origin. There is no doubt that it is now and has been his intent that such a non-discriminatory policy should be pursued. However, it does not appear that this policy has been fully complied with by his subordinates."

Kosygin Cites Needs

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has told his economic planners the Soviet Union's next five-year plan must provide for more housing and consumer goods and higher wages.

Kosygin sketched the outline of the 1966-70 economic plan in a closed meeting March 19 of the State Planning Committee.

On Return of Legislators

Democrat Reapportionment Plan Likely for Tuesday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — When legislators return to the Capitol next Tuesday, a Democratic-devised reapportionment plan apparently will be waiting for them.

For, while the lawmakers take an Easter - Passover recess, the Legislature's Reapportionment Committee is working for adoption of a reapportionment plan by May 5 — a deadline set by a federal court.

Assemblyman Louis F. DeSalvio, D-Manhattan, the committee chairman, told the Associated Press Monday that the new redistricting plan is about half done.

The Democratic plan, he said, would call for Assembly districts averaging about 108,000 in citizen population.

"There will be some variation of course, but these will be no more than 3 to 5 per cent." DeSalvio said.

The Manhattan Democrat said his committee was using the now-voided Republican Plan A for realocating legislative seats as a partial guide for its work.

The GOP plan was ruled unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals because, in calling for a 165-member Assembly, the plan conflicted with a provision of the state constitution that sets Assembly membership at 150.

New York State's 70-year-old reapportionment formula was struck down last June by the U. S. Supreme Court in a ruling that said legislative districts must be substantially similar in population.

The decision by the Court of Appeals last week left the state without a valid reapportionment formula. Three other GOP plans, enacted last December at a special session of the then-Republican controlled Legislature, also have been rejected by state and federal courts.

A special reapportionment election is scheduled for next November but it is not certain that legislators will be up for election then — even if DeSalvio's committee gets its work done.

Republican Gov. Rockefeller could veto the Democratic plan and more reapportionment litigation could be added to cases already pending in the courts.

When the Republicans passed their reapportionment plans, the Democrats argued that the redistricting work should be turned over to a bi-partisan commission.

Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretzki, a Democrat, has said that the Legislature now could not meet, the May 5 deadline if the reapportionment work were turned over to such a commission.

The New York City area stands to gain representation in the Legislature under reapportionment in terms of the ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Bids Rejected On Duzine School

The Board of Education of New Paltz Central School District 1 rejected Monday night bids for general heating, plumbing and ventilating work on the Duzine School.

Frank Hamilton, business manager and school district clerk, said that the bids were in excess of the appropriation for the school addition work. He said the bids were opened and read at the board's regular meeting. He said the items will be rebid upon and reopened Tuesday, April 27 at the architect's office in Newburgh.

Board officials said that it was hoped that with the modifications, the new bids will allow the board to proceed with construction of the school addition. The work is provided under a $65,000 bond issue approved last Feb. 23.

Word on Keating Due

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Former Sen. Kenneth B. Keating said Monday night that a "quasi-public service venture," which he will head as national chairman, would be announced today in Washington.

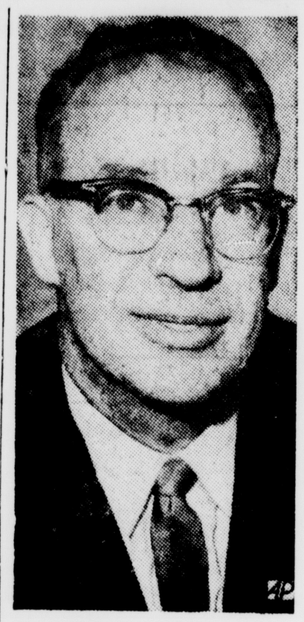

The New York Republican did not elaborate on his new position, except to say it was "not government." He spoke at a GOP fund-raising dinner here.

Workers Named For Cancer Drive In Marbletown

During April a house to house canvass is being made through the entire township of Marbletown to collect contributions toward the annual Cancer Fund Campaign of the American Cancer Society.

The Town Chairman in charge of this effort is Ross K. Osterhoudt of Stone Ridge. Assistants in their respective communities are Eli Zwick of High Falls, Mark V. Bryant of Lomontville and John Parete of Kripplebush. As mapped out it is expected that every door bell in the town will be rung by a canvasser. These people are generously volunteering their time and services in this good cause, which benefits all humanity. It is hoped that the citizens of the town will respond as generously as they have always done in the past.

The local canvassers are Mrs. Joseph Clarke, Mrs. Laurence Miller, Mrs. John Basten, Misses Patricia and Michele Saponaro, Mrs. Alice Chatfield, Mr. Harry Scarpati, Mrs. Edward Poenicke, Mrs. Sol Rind, Miss Doris Johnson, Mrs. Ward Jansen, Mrs. Reginald Palen, Mrs. John Davenport, Miss Peggy Lorzing, Mrs. Edward Maurer, Mr. John G. On Return of Legislators

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — When legislators return to the Capitol next Tuesday, a Democratic-devised reapportionment plan apparently will be waiting for them.

For, while the lawmakers take an Easter - Passover recess, the Legislature's Reapportionment Committee is working for adoption of a reapportionment plan by May 5 — a deadline set by a federal court.

Assemblyman Louis F. DeSalvio, D-Manhattan, the committee chairman, told the Associated Press Monday that the new redistricting plan is about half done.

The Democratic plan, he said, would call for Assembly districts averaging about 108,000 in citizen population.

"There will be some variation of course, but these will be no more than 3 to 5 per cent." DeSalvio said.

The Manhattan Democrat said his committee was using the now-voided Republican Plan A for realocating legislative seats as a partial guide for its work.

The GOP plan was ruled unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals because, in calling for a 165-member Assembly, the plan conflicted with a provision of the state constitution that sets Assembly membership at 150.

New York State's 70-year-old reapportionment formula was struck down last June by the U. S. Supreme Court in a ruling that said legislative districts must be substantially similar in population.

The decision by the Court of Appeals last week left the state without a valid reapportionment formula. Three other GOP plans, enacted last December at a special session of the then-Republican controlled Legislature, also have been rejected by state and federal courts.

A special reapportionment election is scheduled for next November but it is not certain that legislators will be up for election then — even if DeSalvio's committee gets its work done.

Republican Gov. Rockefeller could veto the Democratic plan and more reapportionment litigation could be added to cases already pending in the courts.

When the Republicans passed their reapportionment plans, the Democrats argued that the redistricting work should be turned over to a bi-partisan commission.

Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretzki, a Democrat, has said that the Legislature now could not meet, the May 5 deadline if the reapportionment work were turned over to such a commission.

The New York City area stands to gain representation in the Legislature under reapportionment in terms of the ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court.

City Asks Look At Fair Books as Opening at Hand

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — While the World Fair prepares to open its gates for second season Wednesday, the Court of Appeals is considering whether the fair should open its books to the New York City comptroller.

The state's highest court was asked Monday to allow Comptroller Abraham Beame to audit the books because "there seems to be so much confusion" about the fair's financial operations.

That argument came from John F. Kelly, an assistant corporation counsel for New York City, who said the city has a direct financial stake in the fair and Beame wants to protect that interest.

John V. Thornton represented the World's Fair Corp. in its appeal of two lower-court decisions that upheld Beame's authority to look at the books. He reasserted the argument that the organization is a private-membership corporation and Beame, therefore, had no authority to subpoena its books.

In preparations for the fair, New York City spent $24 million at Flushing Meadows Park in Queens County. The city is to receive money remaining after the fair demolishes existing structures, redeems its bonds and pays the rest of its bills.

Initially, the amount the city was to get was estimated at $49.7 million. After the first season, however, the corporation reported a balance of $12.6 million. Expenditures included $7.5 million to redeem bonds.

In an affidavit submitted to the court, Beame said reports published by the fair showed the balance of $12.6 million was used for between-seasons maintenance and salaries.

Also, Beame said, Robert Moses, president of the fair, had advised him that New York City should not assume it would recover the $24 million spent on the fair site.

Estimates Cost Of $12 Million To Collect Tax

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Tax commissioner says it will take a staff of about 850 persons and a payroll of up to $12 million a year to administer the new 2 per cent sales tax.

"This is quite realistic and I think quite low," Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy told a news conference Monday.

The administration costs, he said, would be about 1 per cent of the revenue collected for the state and localities. The state levy becomes effective Aug. 1., and the state tax department then will assume administration of all sales taxes.

The new tax is expected to add about $565 million a year to state revenues and, Murphy said, the state also will collect about $600 million a year for localities that levy separate sales taxes.

About 390 clerical workers and 460 supervisory and field employes would be needed to handle administrative chores, Murphy said.

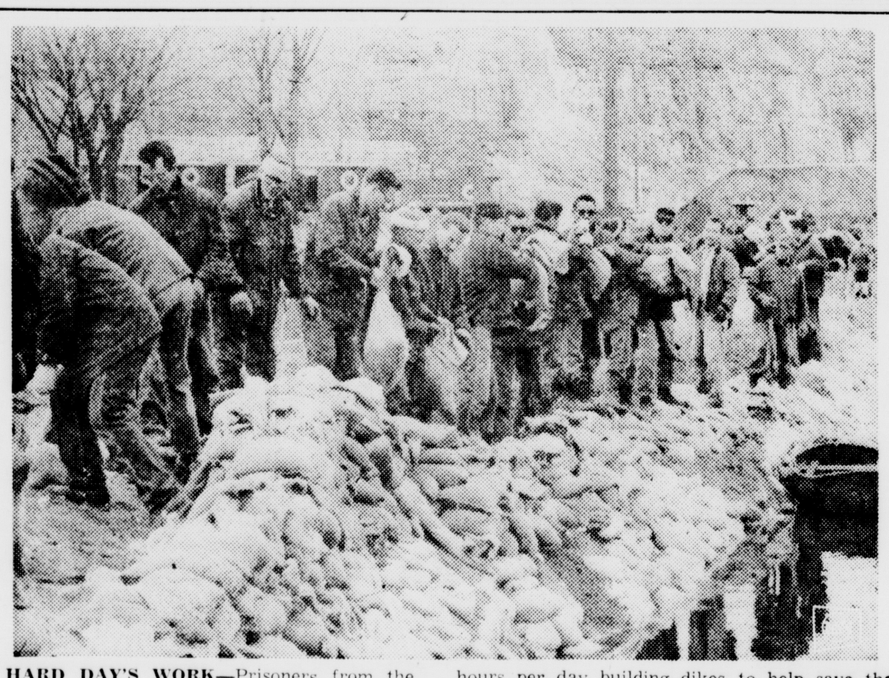

Many workers, Murphy said, would probably come from communities where some form of sales tax already is levied.

The tax department, Murphy said, also is making plans for registering the 650,000 business concerns and individuals who will collect the tax initially.

The first sales-tax returns will be due Sept. 20, he said, and ending in November, February, May and August.

Hudson Fire Got Start as Fuel Drums Blew Up

Hudson's disastrous $280,000 fire Friday started when two 55-gallon fuel oil drums exploded behind a small shed on Warren Street, Fire Chief James Murray reports.

Chief Murray said the fire, which destroyed five buildings on the city's main artery, may have been started by children. He said a small fire is believed to have been smouldering in the shed at 328 Warren Street for some time before the oil drums exploded.

Chief Murray said Prison Alley areas have been plagued by small fires of suspicious nature for many months. In addition to the five buildings destroyed at least three others were damaged by smoke and water.

3 Motorists Are Booked for DrunkDriving in County

Three motorists were arrested Monday for driving while intoxicated and three other charges each in separate traffic incidents in Ulster County. A fourth driver was cited for another violation.

Stanley Polakow, 37 of West Hartford, Conn., was scheduled to appear later today before Peace Justice John Beaver, Town of Esopus, to answer charges of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident. Unable to post $200 bail after his arrest about 10:30 p. m. Monday by Trooper Joseph Czaplicki, Highland substation, Polakow was committed to the county jail.

State Police said a car operated by Polakow was involved in an accident in the Town of Lloyd, and left the scene. They arrested the driver in the Town of Marlboro. Troopers said Polakow refused to submit to a sobriety blood test and also declined medical treatment for a cut over the eye.

Mrs. Joyce Moore, 43, of Highland, also was arrested by State Police from Highland on charges of driving while intoxicated and being an unlicensed operator.

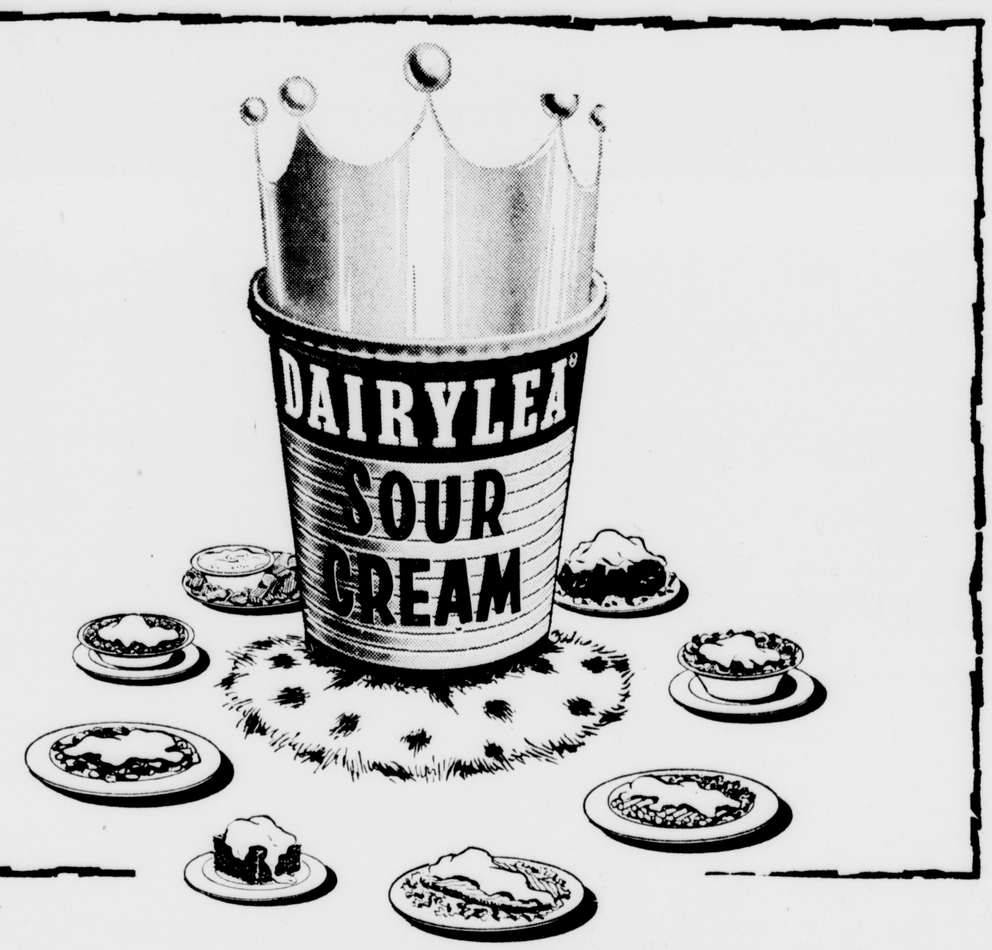

She posted $200 bail for a hearing April 27 before Peace Justice Patrick Mataraza, Town of Marlboro. Troopers Jack Ostmark and Magin said Mrs. Moore refused to submit to a sobriety blood test.

Frank E. Daley Jr., 31, of Sunset Drive, Port Ewen, was arrested at Route 9W and Boice's Lane in the Town of Ulster on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

He posted $200 bail for a hearing May 3 before Peace Justice Robert Stedge, Town of Ulster. Trooper J. F. McDonald of the Thruway detail made the arrest.

Paul M. Fitzmaurice, 29, of Kerhonkson, was cited for driving a car with unsafe tires after a one-car accident about 2 a. m. today on Route 209 about two miles south of Route 52.

Troopers from the Ellenville substation said that Fitzmaurice was driving south on Route 209 when his car went out of control, left the right side of the highway, sideswiped a tree, struck three mail boxes and came to a halt in a culvert. Troopers Kelly and Steiner investigated.

City Asks Look At Fair Books as Opening at Hand

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — While the World Fair prepares to open its gates for second season Wednesday, the Court of Appeals is considering whether the fair should open its books to the New York City comptroller.

The state's highest court was asked Monday to allow Comptroller Abraham Beame to audit the books because "there seems to be so much confusion" about the fair's financial operations.

That argument came from John F. Kelly, an assistant corporation counsel for New York City, who said the city has a direct financial stake in the fair and Beame wants to protect that interest.

Initially, the amount the city was to get was estimated at $49.7 million. After the first season, however, the corporation reported a balance of $12.6 million. Expenditures included $7.5 million to redeem bonds.

In an affidavit submitted to the court, Beame said reports published by the fair showed the balance of $12.6 million was used for between-seasons maintenance and salaries.

Also, Beame said, Robert Moses, president of the fair, had advised him that New York City should not assume it would recover the $24 million spent on the fair site.

Estimates Cost Of $12 Million To Collect Tax

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Tax commissioner says it will take a staff of about 850 persons and a payroll of up to $12 million a year to administer the new 2 per cent sales tax.

"This is quite realistic and I think quite low," Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy told a news conference Monday.

The administration costs, he said, would be about 1 per cent of the revenue collected for the state and localities. The state levy becomes effective Aug. 1, and the state tax department then will assume administration of all sales taxes.

The new tax is expected to add about $565 million a year to state revenues and, Murphy said, the state also will collect about $600 million a year for localities that levy separate sales taxes.

About 390 clerical workers and 460 supervisory and field employes would be needed to handle administrative chores, Murphy said.

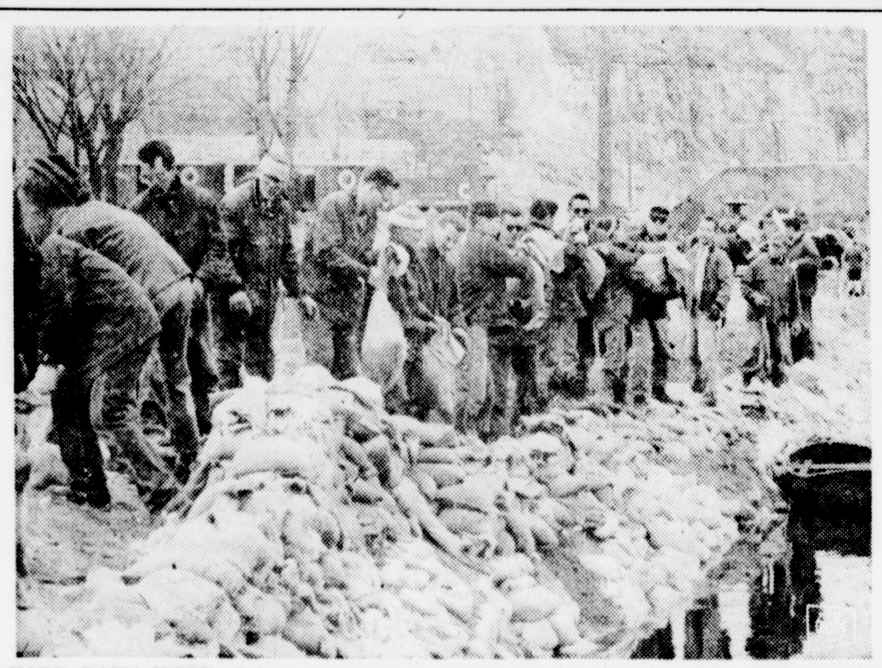

Many workers, Murphy said, would probably come from communities where some form of sales tax already is levied.

The tax department, Murphy said, also is making plans for registering the 650,000 business concerns and individuals who will collect the tax initially.

The first sales-tax returns will be due Sept. 20, he said, and ending in November, February, May and August.

Hudson Fire Got Start as Fuel Drums Blew Up

Hudson's disastrous $280,000 fire Friday started when two 55-gallon fuel oil drums exploded behind a small shed on Warren Street, Fire Chief James Murray reports.

Chief Murray said the fire, which destroyed five buildings on the city's main artery, may have been started by children. He said a small fire is believed to have been smouldering in the shed at 328 Warren Street for some time before the oil drums exploded.

Chief Murray said Prison Alley areas have been plagued by small fires of suspicious nature for many months. In addition to the five buildings destroyed at least three others were damaged by smoke and water.

3 Motorists Are Booked for DrunkDriving in County

Three motorists were arrested Monday for driving while intoxicated and three other charges each in separate traffic incidents in Ulster County. A fourth driver was cited for another violation.

Stanley Polakow, 37 of West Hartford, Conn., was scheduled to appear later today before Peace Justice John Beaver, Town of Esopus, to answer charges of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident. Unable to post $200 bail after his arrest about 10:30 p. m. Monday by Trooper Joseph Czaplicki, Highland substation, Polakow was committed to the county jail.

State Police said a car operated by Polakow was involved in an accident in the Town of Lloyd, and left the scene. They arrested the driver in the Town of Marlboro. Troopers said Polakow refused to submit to a sobriety blood test and also declined medical treatment for a cut over the eye.

Mrs. Joyce Moore, 43, of Highland, also was arrested by State Police from Highland on charges of driving while intoxicated and being an unlicensed operator.

She posted $200 bail for a hearing April 27 before Peace Justice Patrick Mataraza, Town of Marlboro. Troopers Jack Ostmark and Magin said Mrs. Moore refused to submit to a sobriety blood test.

Frank E. Daley Jr., 31, of Sunset Drive, Port Ewen, was arrested at Route 9W and Boice's Lane in the Town of Ulster on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

He posted $200 bail for a hearing May 3 before Peace Justice Robert Stedge, Town of Ulster. Trooper J. F. McDonald of the Thruway detail made the arrest.

Paul M. Fitzmaurice, 29, of Kerhonkson, was cited for driving a car with unsafe tires after a one-car accident about 2 a. m. today on Route 209 about two miles south of Route 52.

Troopers from the Ellenville substation said that Fitzmaurice was driving south on Route 209 when his car went out of control, left the right side of the highway, sideswiped a tree, struck three mail boxes and came to a halt in a culvert. Troopers Kelly and Steiner investigated.

BRACERO ERA IS ENDED

The braceros will not return. That was the understanding gained by truck farm owners in the Far West after Labor Secretary Wirtz visited them.

That is the prosiac, factual news. More humanely intriguing is the fact that a Cabinet member, rising at dawn for an unheralded visit to the fields, said he saw "what makes me ashamed that anything of this kind exists in this country." It was the "filth and squalor" in housing and housing and sanitation facilities that shocked him.

One rancher, for instance, was astonished by Wirtz's expectation that at least some sort of toilets would be provided for the workers. The secretary also saw school and church facilities which he branded as inadequate. But the makeshift living conditions disturbed Wirtz most.

The Council of California Growers has adopted what might be described as a philosophical view of the matter. It blamed "black sheep" among its members. "Unless we do something," it said in a public statement, "we will continue to get clobbered." Decent facilities, it added, are going to have to be provided for all employes.

This is true, but there is more to the matter than that. The underlying flaw in the migrant labor picture is that the workers are not paid enough to provide them even with a living standard that most Americans would consider minimal. The growers' admission that they had better "do something" comes too late to maintain the status quo. Whatever action they take to improve matters will now have to be taken outside the traditional bracero framework. That is the meaning of the visit by Secretary Wirtz, one of the conclusions he drew from what he saw.

VOTING REQUIREMENTS

If the right to vote is a fundamental measure of freedom and democracy, then what we so blithely and so often refer to as the "Free World" has a long way to go to measure up to that appellation.

A United Nations survey of voting requirements reveals wide differences from country to country.

Afghanistan, Jordan, Kuwait, Iraq, Liechtenstein and Switzerland, for example, do not allow women to vote or run for office.

In Andorra, only heads of families may vote for members of the General Council, while in Ecuador, literacy tests prevent much of the Indian population, which makes up over one-third of the total population, from going to the polls.

Neither have full voting rights been extended to Indians and Eskimos in some Canadian provinces.

In Thailand, monks or novices may not vote; in Brazil, the bar applies to illiterates and enlisted men in the armed forces, though voting is compulsory for others from 18 to 70.

In South Africa, only "Europeans" (whites) can vote for members of Parliament; in Liberia, only owners of a hut on which they pay a tax.

Every country has some requirements, of course, such as age and residency and citizenship. In two, however—Saudi Arabia and Yemen—voting is a simple matter. It doesn't exist at all.

WHO TAKES AFTER WHOM?

It's probably a rare mother who has never had the suspicion that some of Junior's personality quirks may have been inherited from some dim, distant ancestor—on the father's side, of course. Father may have his own ideas.

Enough suspicion exists in scientific circles for the National Institute of Mental Health to award a $4,076 grant to Dr. Irving I. Gottesman, assistant professor of psychology at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine, for work bearing the imposing title, "Genetics and Intrafamilial Personality Similarity."

The research will be based on personality and family data gathered by Gottesman from 180 pairs of twins over a three-year period, one of the largest studies of twins ever made in the United States. Twins were used because they have important genetic and environmental similarities in common.

All human beings vary when compared by any standards—height, weight, intelligence, personality. Some variations are clearly due to heredity.

"Human behavior shouldn't be all that different from other human characteristics," reasons Gottesman.

A rash of sexy films is a reminder that space scientists and movie producers have one thing in common: they're both trying to see how far they can go.

'These Days'

THE LEFT IS A PAPER TIGER

The Left in America is a paper tiger. It has suffed and puffed in recent weeks, but simply because Lyndon Johnson hasn't backed away in South Vietnam its empty pretensions to "muscle" have been exposed for all to see — provided, of course, they have eyes.

The fact that the President hasn't folded must be causing a great gnashing of teeth in Moscow, in Peking, in Hanoi, and among the brethren in the United States who set in motion the contagions that result in those newspaper "peace" advertisements calling upon LBJ to get out of Vietnam lest he be mistaken for Barry Goldwater. True enough, Johnson has said he is willing to confer with anybody, any time. But he has also said he won't let the South Vietnamese be taken over by phony neutrals — and this is what the Left paper tiger can't blow out of the way.

The Left is a paper tiger in America because it is all "front" and no real substance. Those "peace" ads and letters look very impressive when they string out long names of signers to back up their sophistical paragraphs. But just whom and what do they represent? A hundred and fifty members of the Yale University faculty got up a pseudo-moralistic missive the other day to send to Lyndon Johnson, and I was appalled when I read it. But when I asked Professor David Rowe, Yale's most knowledgeable Far Eastern expert, about it, he said, "Don't be misled. The university has a thousand professors, eight hundred of whom failed to sign it, either because they disagreed with it or weren't interested. This means that less than one-fifth of the faculty is duped by the boys." And Professor Rowe went on to tell me about an undergraduate group which circulated its own petition to the President to stay in South Vietnam. In a single day this group collected a thousand undergraduate names — which is evidence that the one hundred and fifty "peace"-mongering professors can hardly say they represent the "community of scholars" at Yale.

The Left in America has sounded big because it knows how to command access to white space and how to turn out its demonstrators at short notice. But its techniques are threadbare leftovers from the Nineteen Thirties, when the idea of using "innocent fronts" and "transmission belts" had its first big efflorescence. The phony front and the hoked-up demonstration at the UN worked to get Tshombe out of Katanga, and the use of the dishonest scholarship endorsed by supposedly "objective" foundations had a lot to do with collapse of U.S. policy in China and Indonesia. But the old hipper-dipper stuff hasn't worked this time, and if Lyndon Johnson keeps his nerve it will never, never, never work again.

This exposure of the paperish quality of the Leftist tiger has not been due to the cleverness or persistence of the non-Communists among us, or even to the brave but relatively ineffective sniping of the anti-Communists. What has happened has resulted from a combination of two things, stupidity on the part of our enemies and the instinct of a Texas politician for the realities of power.

The first stupid error on the part of our opponents was Sukarno's, when he threatened last year to invade Malaysia. This forced the British to move 50,000 soldiers to the Far East. Up to that time no good Labor Party politician in Britain would have had a kind word to say for a stick-to-it American policy in Vietnam. But the prospect of a Communist South Vietnam at the back of 50,000 British troops in Singapore caused the British Labor Prime Minister Harold Wilson to do a double-take on Southeast Asia — and a shaky Anglo-American alliance was reconstituted thereby.

The second mistake made by our opponents was to suppose that the new back-to-back position of the U.S. and Britain in Asia made no difference. But it certainly did make a difference to the man in power in the White House. With back-to-back aces, what Texan would drop his cards? Especially when dropping them would result in the collapse not merely of South Vietnam, but also of Thailand, Burma, India — and, in the long future, Australia and much of Africa?

So let the Leftist paper tiger wail. This is one tiger we don't want in our tank.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Gynecomastia Harmless, But Often Embarrassing

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am 19. My doctor says I have gynecomastia and that it is caused by a hormonal imbalance. He says there is nothing to worry about but I sure would like to get rid of it, because I don't want to look like a girl.

A—Enlargement of the male breast is very common at the onset of puberty. It usually subsides in 2 years or less. When it persists beyond 2 years as in your case you should have a biopsy specimen examined to determine whether or not the cause is a tumor. If so, it should be removed. If there is no tumor you can learn to live with this harmless condition or you can have the excess tissue removed by a plastic surgeon. Hormones and other drugs have not proved beneficial.

Q—Will it hurt to take Bilron pilln every day? They do relieve my gas and heartburn.

A—Iron bile salts (Bilron) are sometimes prescribed for liver and gall bladder diseases. Their effectiveness is not proved but, if they help you, take them unless you have acute hepatitis, far advanced cirrhosis of the liver or malnutrition with vitamin K deficiency. It would be much more sensible, however, to find the cause of your complaints and remove it.

Q—I had one tube removed in 1953. Is it possible for me to become pregnant?

A—Since you did not state your age, this factor would have to be considered. If the remaining uterine tube is free from obstruction and if the ovary on that side is still releasing ova, you should be able to conceive.

Q—Does a low blood sugar cause dizziness?

A—Low blood sugar is more likely to cause you to feel weak or faint than to feel dizzy. It may also cause a racing pulse, headaches and trembling. Between meal snacks that are low in carbohydrate should help you if your blood sugar is low but your doctor should look for other causes for your dizziness.

Q—I am a 78-year-old man. For about 3 years I have had to get up to urinate every 2 or 3 hours at night. What would cause this?

A—This is in part a natural accompaniment of age. Another factor is relaxation of the nervous tensions of the day. It may also be due to a chronic bladder infection. This would show up in a microscopic examination of urine. Perhaps the commonest cause, however, in a man of your age is an enlarged prostrate.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"Wanna Talk This Over in a Civilized Way?"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

That's the meaning of President Johnson's appointment of tough Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. (Ret.) as CIA director.

CIA has grown like Topsy since it evolved from Wild Bill Donovan's World War II Office of Strategic Services. The OSS started out with radical methods of intelligence gathering, some brilliantly conceived, some amateurish. The CIA has carried on that tradition, though growing more conventional and expensive with the years.

CIA has never had a hard-headed manager at its helm. It will have one now.

Old Raborn saying: "When I pass you in the hall, I want to feel a breeze."

KEY WHITE HOUSE, DEFENSE and State Department officials have been dissatisfied with CIA's results. Some CIA coups have been undeniably strokes of genius. But the organization has been caught flat-footed too.

It has not sufficiently penetrated the doings in North Viet Nam, Red China and Soviet Russia. It has missed the boat on occasion in South Viet Nam.

Men who know Raborn predict he will start his new job by gettig a task force of university, government and industrial experts to make a "thret-month study" of where CIA is going and how it should be getting there.

This program will be set up to a specific timetable with objectivts to be achieved by firm, fixed dates. Then Raborn will moke the changes this program calls for. He'll undoubtedly call in some of his old Polaris team if he can get them from Defense and industry. The day he was appointed, some of these men wrote the admiral saying they were ready, willing and able to come.

IF HE RUNS TRUE TO FORM, Rayborn will have weekly Monday morning meetings of division chiefs. Each will report on whether he's moved ahead according to the Rayborn schedule. Those that haven't will say why — and how the slippage can be corrected.

The CIA is going through a tough transition period in attempting to shift from conventional to computerized intelligence. It has the job of making use of millions of photographs taken by sattellites and millions of pages of foreign publications, in addition to agent and other reports. Infrared sensors will bring in millions of other items to be interrepted. Yet there are tens of thousands of missing pieces.

In the intelligence field, where science is providing new way-out techniques and equipment so rapidly the old may be out-of-date before being used, a CIA director must be able to switch methods in mid-stream, yet not be caught with overgadgeteering or overcomputerization. In some uses computers can lead to serious intelligence misjudgements.

FOR THREE REASONS, RABORN IS IDEAL for this ticklish job:

• He is one of the few men who has ramrodded a full-steam-ahead defense program (Polaris), shifting in midstream from one concept to another (from Jupiter to Polaris), taking advantage of new concepts as fast as they developed, without losing stride.

• Under Radborn's leadership, one of the most sophisticated of today's production management tools was developed. (PERT, Production Evaluation Review Technique, uses computers to help get effective management of complicated long-term programs).

• Rayborn is not overawed by computers. He's been known to say:

"The trouble with the computer is that there is no (horse feathers) ejector. There are some people in the Pentagon who believe any solutions arrived at by a computer are gospel. If you put (horse feathers) into a computer, you get (horse feathers) out."

The Danger of War Coming That Pacifists Try Avoiding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — With the best intentions in the world, pacifists sometimes bring on the very war to which they proclaim their opposition. Unwittingly they give aid and comfort to an enemy country and serve to increase the possiblity that American policy will be misconstrued by public opinion. Then chances will be taken by an adversary which could lead to war.

An example of the consequences of this misguided attitude is furnished in the following UPI dispatch from the Far East a few days ago:

"Hanoi's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, and China's New China News Agency devote almost daily space to the petitions, advertisements, picketing and demonstrations of Americans against U. S. policy.

"Nhan Dan, in a commentary today, said, 'The thousands-strong parade of American people held in New York on April 10 strikes a new note to the American people's determination to check the U. S. imperialists' dirty war against Viet Nam.'"

The danger at the moment is that the Red Chinese as well as the Soviets will get the impression that the American people are divided and that the pacifistic urge is dominant to such an extent that all the strong words of President Johnson can be regarded abroad as not reflecting the true American sentiment if a showdown comes.

Twice in the last half-century well-meaning Senators have unwittingly helped to weaken the American position. On both occasions the German governments in power were led to believe that the United States would not become involved in the conflict. Two world wars ensued, and the United States was obliged to enter both in self-defense.

Although President Wilson had severed diplomatic relations with the Kaiser's government in Germany on Feb. 3, 1917, and had protested the sinking of unarmed passenger vessels with the loss of many American lives, "a little group of willful men" in the United States Senate — as Mr. Wilson characterized them — filibustered to death a proposal that the United States arm its vessels in protection against German submarines.

Many historians believe that this particular debacle — on March 4, 1917—strengthened the determination of the Berlin regime to wage unrestricted submarine warfare against American passenger ships on the theory that the United States was divided and would not enter the war. A few weeks later—on April 2, 1917—the President of the United States found it necessary to appear before a special session of Congress to initiate American entry into World War I.

Somewhat the same circumstances occurred when President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress to give him authority to sell arms to Western Europe. He was refused permission by the United States Senate, as Congress adjourned on Aug. 5, 1939, without even acting on his request. This led to the belief in Berlin that the United States would not enter the conflict, and World War II came less than a month later.

History proves again and again that American presidents have been forced subsequently into awkward positions because of pacifist manifestations, often supported by Senators and Representatives who sincerely believe they are following popular sentiment.

The situation in the world today is a dangerous one. The United States is doing its utmost to help the government of South Viet Nam to retain its independence. Not only is America pledged by the Southeast Asia treaty to this principle, but the Congress of the United States by a resolution only last year expressed itself in unequivocal terms about the intention of this country to defend the smaller nations of Southeast Asia.

The resolution says in part:

"Consonant with the Constitution of the United States and the charter of the United Nations and in accordance with its obligations under the Southeast Asia Collective defense treaty, the United States is, therefore prepared, as the President determines, to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed force, to assist any member or protocol state of the Southeast Asia Collective defense of its freedom."

This is, therefore, American foreign policy, not only made by the executive branch of the government but supported by the overwhelming vote of both Houses of Congress.

Individual Senators and Representatives have every right to express themselves on any subject, but the net effect of the stand being taken today by some of them against American policy in Viet Nam could be disastrous. This attitude could mislead the enemy into a belief that drastic steps can be risked by its forces on the theory that American opinion would not sustain a decisive response. Instead of preventing a war, this could bring on a major conflict.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Somewhere someone puts away little historical items, and years later they come to the surface in the same nice condition they were put away so many years ago, and once again handled gently by those who care. I have before me a little brochure, "Address by William H. Seward" on the opening of the Auburn and Owasco Canal, Oct. 14, 1835, details of which will appear in another column. I see H. Polhemus was the chairman of the committee of arrangements for the celebration.

In the Auburn parade besides the officials, a procession appeared with cars, elegantly and appropriately decorated, drawn by horses, and on which the mechanics were carrying on the labor of their respective trades.

The blacksmiths were there with a forge in operation. Next came the bricklayers, busily engaged in constructing a portable fireplace. Then the stone cutters, preparing stone for the dam of the Auburn & Owasco Canal. The carpenters and joiners were employed in making window sash.

The painters and glaziers were giving a finish to some beautiful Venetian window blinds. The cabinet makers, with a rich display of their beautiful ware, and the chairmakers, who had chairs in every part of the process of construction were there. The printers were striking off and distributing to the people, a poem on Auburn, the fairest city of the West.

The carriage makers were very active in getting a fine coach ready for delivery. The wheelwrights, the copper, tin and sheet iron workers were even selling their wares among the crowd. The iron founders had a portable furnace, and were very busy making moulds, and other items. The Tobacconists were not only making their segars before the eyes of the public but giving them away.

This city of Auburn on that beautiful Oct. 14, 1835 day, as they described it, had this interesting parade and exhibition, which could be repeated today in 1965 and draw a crowd. The saddlers were making samples of their workmanship. Much of this art long lost in machine made things, and those old items only exist as collector's items, respected and admired by few, in this most mechanized world.

It seemed in those days there were ever so many printers, and if a speech was made, or at a funeral, it was all put into a little paper covered booklet. Today a printing job of this sort cost a great deal. For instance in this collection there are many such booklets. Here is one called Songs for the Campaign, Union and Peace, Fillmore and Donelson, printed by Robert M. DeWitt in New York in 1856. This was just before the Civil War and so in 1856 they could feel it coming as Millard Fillmore said knowing of the feeling of the North and South against each other. "For my own part, I know only my country, my whole country, and nothing but my country."

The various words were sung to popular songs of those days. They had one titled Away with Kansas Folly, sung to air, Away with Melancholy. Another, The Mustang Weasel, to air, Pop goes the Weasel, which is still known today. These were all political words, whose stories are unknown to us now. One called Jacky Boy, to air, Nelly Bly. Another, What Sam Tells the People, to air, Dandy Jim. No doubt they were sung with lusty and loud voices. Another is called National Club Song, sung to air, Star Spangled Banner. Rule Columbia, sung to Rule Britiannia. The Union Marsellaise, to air Marsellaise, still known of course today.

BRACERO ERA IS ENDED

The braceros will not return. That was the understanding gained by truck farm owners in the Far West after Labor Secretary Wirtz visited them.

That is the prosiac, factual news. More humanely intriguing is the fact that a Cabinet member, rising at dawn for an unheralded visit to the fields, said he saw "what makes me ashamed that anything of this kind exists in this country." It was the "filth and squalor" in housing and housing and sanitation facilities that shocked him.

One rancher, for instance, was astonished by Wirtz's expectation that at least some sort of toilets would be provided for the workers. The secretary also saw school and church facilities which he branded as inadequate. But the makeshift living conditions disturbed Wirtz most.

The Council of California Growers has adopted what might be described as a philosophical view of the matter. It blamed "black sheep" among its members. "Unless we do something," it said in a public statement, "we will continue to get clobbered." Decent facilities, it added, are going to have to be provided for all employes.

This is true, but there is more to the matter than that. The underlying flaw in the migrant labor picture is that the workers are not paid enough to provide them even with a living standard that most Americans would consider minimal. The growers' admission that they had better "do something" comes too late to maintain the status quo. Whatever action they take to improve matters will now have to be taken outside the traditional bracero framework. That is the meaning of the visit by Secretary Wirtz, one of the conclusions he drew from what he saw.

VOTING REQUIREMENTS

If the right to vote is a fundamental measure of freedom and democracy, then what we so blithely and so often refer to as the "Free World" has a long way to go to measure up to that appellation.

A United Nations survey of voting requirements reveals wide differences from country to country.

Afghanistan, Jordan, Kuwait, Iraq, Liechtenstein and Switzerland, for example, do not allow women to vote or run for office.

In Andorra, only heads of families may vote for members of the General Council, while in Ecuador, literacy tests prevent much of the Indian population, which makes up over one-third of the total population, from going to the polls.

Neither have full voting rights been extended to Indians and Eskimos in some Canadian provinces.

In Thailand, monks or novices may not vote; in Brazil, the bar applies to illiterates and enlisted men in the armed forces, though voting is compulsory for others from 18 to 70.

In South Africa, only "Europeans" (whites) can vote for members of Parliament; in Liberia, only owners of a hut on which they pay a tax.

Every country has some requirements, of course, such as age and residency and citizenship. In two, however—Saudi Arabia and Yemen—voting is a simple matter. It doesn't exist at all.

WHO TAKES AFTER WHOM?

It's probably a rare mother who has never had the suspicion that some of Junior's personality quirks may have been inherited from some dim, distant ancestor—on the father's side, of course. Father may have his own ideas.

Enough suspicion exists in scientific circles for the National Institute of Mental Health to award a $4,076 grant to Dr. Irving I. Gottesman, assistant professor of psychology at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine, for work bearing the imposing title, "Genetics and Intrafamilial Personality Similarity."

The research will be based on personality and family data gathered by Gottesman from 180 pairs of twins over a three-year period, one of the largest studies of twins ever made in the United States. Twins were used because they have important genetic and environmental similarities in common.

All human beings vary when compared by any standards—height, weight, intelligence, personality. Some variations are clearly due to heredity.

"Human behavior shouldn't be all that different from other human characteristics," reasons Gottesman.

A rash of sexy films is a reminder that space scientists and movie producers have one thing in common: they're both trying to see how far they can go.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE LEFT IS A PAPER TIGER

The Left in America is a paper tiger. It has suffed and puffed in recent weeks, but simply because Lyndon Johnson hasn't backed away in South Vietnam its empty pretensions to "muscle" have been exposed for all to see — provided, of course, they have eyes.

The fact that the President hasn't folded must be causing a great gnashing of teeth in Moscow, in Peking, in Hanoi, and among the brethren in the United States who set in motion the contagions that result in those newspaper "peace" advertisements calling upon LBJ to get out of Vietnam lest he be mistaken for Barry Goldwater. True enough, Johnson has said he is willing to confer with anybody, any time. But he has also said he won't let the South Vietnamese be taken over by phony neutrals — and this is what the Left paper tiger can't blow out of the way.

The Left is a paper tiger in America because it is all "front" and no real substance. Those "peace" ads and letters look very impressive when they string out long names of signers to back up their sophistical paragraphs. But just whom and what do they represent? A hundred and fifty members of the Yale University faculty got up a pseudo-moralistic missive the other day to send to Lyndon Johnson, and I was appalled when I read it. But when I asked Professor David Rowe, Yale's most knowledgeable Far Eastern expert, about it, he said, "Don't be misled. The university has a thousand professors, eight hundred of whom failed to sign it, either because they disagreed with it or weren't interested. This means that less than one-fifth of the faculty is duped by the boys." And Professor Rowe went on to tell me about an undergraduate group which circulated its own petition to the President to stay in South Vietnam. In a single day this group collected a thousand undergraduate names — which is evidence that the one hundred and fifty "peace"-mongering professors can hardly say they represent the "community of scholars" at Yale.

The Left in America has sounded big because it knows how to command access to white space and how to turn out its demonstrators at short notice. But its techniques are threadbare leftovers from the Nineteen Thirties, when the idea of using "innocent fronts" and "transmission belts" had its first big efflorescence. The phony front and the hoked-up demonstration at the UN worked to get Tshombe out of Katanga, and the use of the dishonest scholarship endorsed by supposedly "objective" foundations had a lot to do with collapse of U.S. policy in China and Indonesia. But the old hipper-dipper stuff hasn't worked this time, and if Lyndon Johnson keeps his nerve it will never, never, never work again.

This exposure of the paperish quality of the Leftist tiger has not been due to the cleverness or persistence of the non-Communists among us, or even to the brave but relatively ineffective sniping of the anti-Communists. What has happened has resulted from a combination of two things, stupidity on the part of our enemies and the instinct of a Texas politician for the realities of power.

The first stupid error on the part of our opponents was Sukarno's, when he threatened last year to invade Malaysia. This forced the British to move 50,000 soldiers to the Far East. Up to that time no good Labor Party politician in Britain would have had a kind word to say for a stick-to-it American policy in Vietnam. But the prospect of a Communist South Vietnam at the back of 50,000 British troops in Singapore caused the British Labor Prime Minister Harold Wilson to do a double-take on Southeast Asia — and a shaky Anglo-American alliance was reconstituted thereby.

The second mistake made by our opponents was to suppose that the new back-to-back position of the U.S. and Britain in Asia made no difference. But it certainly did make a difference to the man in power in the White House. With back-to-back aces, what Texan would drop his cards? Especially when dropping them would result in the collapse not merely of South Vietnam, but also of Thailand, Burma, India — and, in the long future, Australia and much of Africa?

So let the Leftist paper tiger wail. This is one tiger we don't want in our tank.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Gynecomastia Harmless, But Often Embarrassing

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am 19. My doctor says I have gynecomastia and that it is caused by a hormonal imbalance. He says there is nothing to worry about but I sure would like to get rid of it, because I don't want to look like a girl.

A—Enlargement of the male breast is very common at the onset of puberty. It usually subsides in 2 years or less. When it persists beyond 2 years as in your case you should have a biopsy specimen examined to determine whether or not the cause is a tumor. If so, it should be removed. If there is no tumor you can learn to live with this harmless condition or you can have the excess tissue removed by a plastic surgeon. Hormones and other drugs have not proved beneficial.

Q—Will it hurt to take Bilron pilln every day? They do relieve my gas and heartburn.

A—Iron bile salts (Bilron) are sometimes prescribed for liver and gall bladder diseases. Their effectiveness is not proved but, if they help you, take them unless you have acute hepatitis, far advanced cirrhosis of the liver or malnutrition with vitamin K deficiency. It would be much more sensible, however, to find the cause of your complaints and remove it.

Q—I had one tube removed in 1953. Is it possible for me to become pregnant?

A—Since you did not state your age, this factor would have to be considered. If the remaining uterine tube is free from obstruction and if the ovary on that side is still releasing ova, you should be able to conceive.

Q—Does a low blood sugar cause dizziness?

A—Low blood sugar is more likely to cause you to feel weak or faint than to feel dizzy. It may also cause a racing pulse, headaches and trembling. Between meal snacks that are low in carbohydrate should help you if your blood sugar is low but your doctor should look for other causes for your dizziness.

Q—I am a 78-year-old man. For about 3 years I have had to get up to urinate every 2 or 3 hours at night. What would cause this?

A—This is in part a natural accompaniment of age. Another factor is relaxation of the nervous tensions of the day. It may also be due to a chronic bladder infection. This would show up in a microscopic examination of urine. Perhaps the commonest cause, however, in a man of your age is an enlarged prostrate.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

"Wanna Talk This Over in a Civilized Way?"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

That's the meaning of President Johnson's appointment of tough Vice Adm. William F. Raborn Jr. (Ret.) as CIA director.

CIA has grown like Topsy since it evolved from Wild Bill Donovan's World War II Office of Strategic Services. The OSS started out with radical methods of intelligence gathering, some brilliantly conceived, some amateurish. The CIA has carried on that tradition, though growing more conventional and expensive with the years.

CIA has never had a hard-headed manager at its helm. It will have one now.

Old Raborn saying: "When I pass you in the hall, I want to feel a breeze."

KEY WHITE HOUSE, DEFENSE and State Department officials have been dissatisfied with CIA's results. Some CIA coups have been undeniably strokes of genius. But the organization has been caught flat-footed too.

It has not sufficiently penetrated the doings in North Viet Nam, Red China and Soviet Russia. It has missed the boat on occasion in South Viet Nam.

Men who know Raborn predict he will start his new job by gettig a task force of university, government and industrial experts to make a "thret-month study" of where CIA is going and how it should be getting there.

This program will be set up to a specific timetable with objectivts to be achieved by firm, fixed dates. Then Raborn will moke the changes this program calls for. He'll undoubtedly call in some of his old Polaris team if he can get them from Defense and industry. The day he was appointed, some of these men wrote the admiral saying they were ready, willing and able to come.

IF HE RUNS TRUE TO FORM, Rayborn will have weekly Monday morning meetings of division chiefs. Each will report on whether he's moved ahead according to the Rayborn schedule. Those that haven't will say why — and how the slippage can be corrected.

The CIA is going through a tough transition period in attempting to shift from conventional to computerized intelligence. It has the job of making use of millions of photographs taken by sattellites and millions of pages of foreign publications, in addition to agent and other reports. Infrared sensors will bring in millions of other items to be interrepted. Yet there are tens of thousands of missing pieces.

In the intelligence field, where science is providing new way-out techniques and equipment so rapidly the old may be out-of-date before being used, a CIA director must be able to switch methods in mid-stream, yet not be caught with overgadgeteering or overcomputerization. In some uses computers can lead to serious intelligence misjudgements.

FOR THREE REASONS, RABORN IS IDEAL for this ticklish job:

• He is one of the few men who has ramrodded a full-steam-ahead defense program (Polaris), shifting in midstream from one concept to another (from Jupiter to Polaris), taking advantage of new concepts as fast as they developed, without losing stride.

• Under Radborn's leadership, one of the most sophisticated of today's production management tools was developed. (PERT, Production Evaluation Review Technique, uses computers to help get effective management of complicated long-term programs).

• Rayborn is not overawed by computers. He's been known to say:

"The trouble with the computer is that there is no (horse feathers) ejector. There are some people in the Pentagon who believe any solutions arrived at by a computer are gospel. If you put (horse feathers) into a computer, you get (horse feathers) out."

The Danger of War Coming That Pacifists Try Avoiding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — With the best intentions in the world, pacifists sometimes bring on the very war to which they proclaim their opposition. Unwittingly they give aid and comfort to an enemy country and serve to increase the possiblity that American policy will be misconstrued by public opinion. Then chances will be taken by an adversary which could lead to war.

An example of the consequences of this misguided attitude is furnished in the following UPI dispatch from the Far East a few days ago:

"Hanoi's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, and China's New China News Agency devote almost daily space to the petitions, advertisements, picketing and demonstrations of Americans against U. S. policy.

"Nhan Dan, in a commentary today, said, 'The thousands-strong parade of American people held in New York on April 10 strikes a new note to the American people's determination to check the U. S. imperialists' dirty war against Viet Nam.'"

The danger at the moment is that the Red Chinese as well as the Soviets will get the impression that the American people are divided and that the pacifistic urge is dominant to such an extent that all the strong words of President Johnson can be regarded abroad as not reflecting the true American sentiment if a showdown comes.

Twice in the last half-century well-meaning Senators have unwittingly helped to weaken the American position. On both occasions the German governments in power were led to believe that the United States would not become involved in the conflict. Two world wars ensued, and the United States was obliged to enter both in self-defense.

Although President Wilson had severed diplomatic relations with the Kaiser's government in Germany on Feb. 3, 1917, and had protested the sinking of unarmed passenger vessels with the loss of many American lives, "a little group of willful men" in the United States Senate — as Mr. Wilson characterized them — filibustered to death a proposal that the United States arm its vessels in protection against German submarines.

Many historians believe that this particular debacle — on March 4, 1917—strengthened the determination of the Berlin regime to wage unrestricted submarine warfare against American passenger ships on the theory that the United States was divided and would not enter the war. A few weeks later—on April 2, 1917—the President of the United States found it necessary to appear before a special session of Congress to initiate American entry into World War I.

Somewhat the same circumstances occurred when President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress to give him authority to sell arms to Western Europe. He was refused permission by the United States Senate, as Congress adjourned on Aug. 5, 1939, without even acting on his request. This led to the belief in Berlin that the United States would not enter the conflict, and World War II came less than a month later.

History proves again and again that American presidents have been forced subsequently into awkward positions because of pacifist manifestations, often supported by Senators and Representatives who sincerely believe they are following popular sentiment.

The situation in the world today is a dangerous one. The United States is doing its utmost to help the government of South Viet Nam to retain its independence. Not only is America pledged by the Southeast Asia treaty to this principle, but the Congress of the United States by a resolution only last year expressed itself in unequivocal terms about the intention of this country to defend the smaller nations of Southeast Asia.

The resolution says in part:

"Consonant with the Constitution of the United States and the charter of the United Nations and in accordance with its obligations under the Southeast Asia Collective defense treaty, the United States is, therefore prepared, as the President determines, to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed force, to assist any member or protocol state of the Southeast Asia Collective defense of its freedom."

This is, therefore, American foreign policy, not only made by the executive branch of the government but supported by the overwhelming vote of both Houses of Congress.

Individual Senators and Representatives have every right to express themselves on any subject, but the net effect of the stand being taken today by some of them against American policy in Viet Nam could be disastrous. This attitude could mislead the enemy into a belief that drastic steps can be risked by its forces on the theory that American opinion would not sustain a decisive response. Instead of preventing a war, this could bring on a major conflict.

Red China, Soviet May Move In Deeper

Conflict in Southeast Asia Seems Likely for Months Yet

EDITOR'S NOTE — Now that Hanoi has rejected the appeal by 17 non-aligned countnries for unconditional negotiations, what course appears likely for the war in Viet Nam? John M. Hightower, chief of The AP's State Department staff, surveys the situation in the light of the latest blow to peace hopes.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Widespread efforts to open Vietnamese peace talks have now substantially collapsed and the conflict in Southeast Asia appears likely to continue at least for several more months.

During that time, Red China and the Soviet Union are likely to become increasingly involved.

Washington officials who have come to these conclusions say the basic fact about peace prospects in Viet Nam is that neither side is yet convinced it can't win.

Until one side or the other comes closer to disaster, according to this view, the war will go on and will gradually get bigger in the sense of involving more outside participants.

The latest blow to peace hopes came Monday with an announcement from Hanoi, capital of North Viet Nam, that it had turned down an appeal by 17 nonaligned countries for unconditional negotiations on Viet Nam.

Hanoi Rejection

The Hanoi rejection also turned aside mediation by the United Nations, saying that would be "also inappropriate because such approaches are basically at variants with the 1954 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam."

Hanoi's response to the 17-nation bid for unconditional talks was made following a week of secret talks between Soviet and North Vietnamese representatives in Moscow. The talks were followed by issuance of a communique which put the Russians in a position of supporting North Viet Nam's four-point peace program and also of backing the Communist National Liberation Front in the south as the proper "legal representative" for South Viet Nam.

The Red peace program for Viet Nam calls for withdrawal of all U.S. forces as an essential condition for a settlement.

The effect of the Soviet-North Vietnamese communique is to involve the Soviets more deeply in support of the Communist side in the Southeast Asian conflict. At the same time the Soviet leaders are moving cautiously. Talk of sending Soviet volunteers into North Viet Nam was hinged on conditions — that the United States should intensify attacks on the North, that Hanoi should appeal for volunteers and that volunteers should be found necessary.

Rocket Site Reports

Only a few days earlier, U.S. officials had disclosed reports that a site for antiaircraft rockets was being prepared near Hanoi. Authorities say that the site undoubtedly will be equipped with Soviet - supplied surface-to-air missiles.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said late Monday that Hanoi's rejection of the nonaligned appeal "at the first glance repeats what they have been saying for weeks.

"What is missing in the Vietnamese four points is a declaration that they are prepared to stop sending arms and men over the border and that is the key to the matter. If that point is taken care of then other things could happen speedily."

Peace hopes have soared to new heights of optimism only two weeks ago when President Johnson announced in a speech at Baltimore that the United States would accept unconditional talks on the Vietnamese conflict.

Avenue for Reds

The North Vietnamese, backed by the Chinese Communists, have emphasized repeatedly that they want a settlement which would provide for withdrawal of all U.S. forces from South Viet Nam and leave the Communist Viet Cong free to deal with the countryside and at Saigon. In other words, the North Vietnamese see peace negotiations as an avenue to securing a Communist victory in the South.

The United States has equally insisted that any settlement acceptable to it must provide for the security of South Viet Nam against aggression of any kind from the North. The Johnson administration argues that if men and guns stopped coming in to South Viet Nam from the North there would be no serious problem in pacifying the country.

According to its peace aim, therefore, each side in the conflict still believes it can win the struggle and neither side is willing to move toward any agreement which might involve compromise.

GIFT FROM BANK—James A. Dwyer, left, president of Rondout National Bank, presented check to James J. Rua, bank cashier, to cover cost of trip to Washington, D. C. for Mr. and Mrs. Rua in honor of cashier's 37 years service to bank. Rua, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rua of East Kingston, began his banking career with Rondout National Bank July 20, 1927, as an exchange clerk. He later worked his way up as a bookkeeper, teller and note teller until he was appointed cashier in January, 1953. Rua attended grammar school in East Kingston, Kingston High School and Moran Business School. He is married to the former Dolores Mellert. They have two children, Vincent, 11, and Susan, 7, and reside at 96 Jervis Avenue. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Greene Road Job To Be Largest Under May Bid

Included in bids to be opened by the State Department of Public Works on May 20 is the $11,947,000 reconstruction of Route 23 in Greene County from the east end of Cairo by-pass at Cairo easterly 8.11 miles to Route 9W in Catskill. This will be the largest job under bid at the opening in May. In addition to the main route there is included in the bidding 4.71 miles of access and intersecting roads.

The project also includes an interchange with existing Route 23 between Leeds and Catskill and two three-span bridges, 466 and 469 feet long, over Catskill creek just west of the Thruway, and intersections with South Cairo - Four Corners Road, Roundtop - South Cairo Road, Cairo Junction Road, Five Mile Woods Road and County Road 47.

Construction of this new route will connect Route 9W with the Cairo by-pass, mostly over new alignment and by-passing the vallage of Leeds to the west.

Openings on May 20 have an estimated cost of $34,565,600, and are for 36 highway projects.

The greatest number of accidents caused by tractors overturning occur while the tractors are being operated on the level ground, according to the National Safety Council.

T. J. Welch Dies, Correction Officer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Funeral services will be conducted Thursday for Thomas J. Welch, 58, director of identification in the State Department of Correction.

He died Monday in his home here after a short illness. Welch joined the correction department in 1957.

His survivors include his widow, Kathryn; a son, James T. Welch of Loudonville, and a daughter, Mrs. John Fitzgerald of Fairport.

A requiem mass will be sung at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the Blessed Sacrament Church. Burial will be in Stillwater.

Lauds Libraries

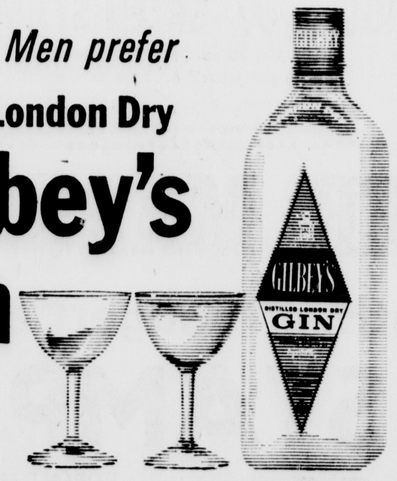

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Free public libraries "are among our greatest national assets" said Gov. Rockefeller as he proclaimed April 25-May 1 "Library Week" in New York State.

The governor noted that the first public library in the nation was the public library of New York City, founded in 1700.

Red China, Soviet May Move In Deeper

Conflict in Southeast Asia Seems Likely for Months Yet

EDITOR'S NOTE — Now that Hanoi has rejected the appeal by 17 non-aligned countries for unconditional negotiations, what course appears likely for the war in Viet Nam? John M. Hightower, chief of The AP's State Department staff, surveys the situation in the light of the latest blow to peace hopes.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Widespread efforts to open Vietnamese peace talks have now substantially collapsed and the conflict in Southeast Asia appears likely to continue at least for several more months.

During that time, Red China and the Soviet Union are likely to become increasingly involved.

Washington officials who have come to these conclusions say the basic fact about peace prospects in Viet Nam is that neither side is yet convinced it can't win.

Until one side or the other comes closer to disaster, according to this view, the war will go on and will gradually get bigger in the sense of involving more outside participants.

The latest blow to peace hopes came Monday with an announcement from Hanoi, capital of North Viet Nam, that it had turned down an appeal by 17 nonaligned countries for unconditional negotiations on Viet Nam.

Hanoi Rejection

The Hanoi rejection also turned aside mediation by the United Nations, saying that would be "also inappropriate because such approaches are basically at variants with the 1954 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam."

Hanoi's response to the 17-nation bid for unconditional talks was made following a week of secret talks between Soviet and North Vietnamese representatives in Moscow. The talks were followed by issuance of a communique which put the Russians in a position of supporting North Viet Nam's four-point peace program and also of backing the Communist National Liberation Front in the south as the proper "legal representative" for South Viet Nam.

The Red peace program for Viet Nam calls for withdrawal of all U.S. forces as an essential condition for a settlement.

The effect of the Soviet-North Vietnamese communique is to involve the Soviets more deeply in support of the Communist side in the Southeast Asian conflict. At the same time the Soviet leaders are moving cautiously. Talk of sending Soviet volunteers into North Viet Nam was hinged on conditions — that the United States should intensify attacks on the North, that Hanoi should appeal for volunteers and that volunteers should be found necessary.

Rocket Site Reports

Only a few days earlier, U.S. officials had disclosed reports that a site for antiaircraft rockets was being prepared near Hanoi. Authorities say that the site undoubtedly will be equipped with Soviet - supplied surface-to-air missiles.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said late Monday that Hanoi's rejection of the nonaligned appeal "at the first glance repeats what they have been saying for weeks.

"What is missing in the Vietnamese four points is a declaration that they are prepared to stop sending arms and men over the border and that is the key to the matter. If that point is taken care of then other things could happen speedily."

Peace hopes have soared to new heights of optimism only two weeks ago when President Johnson announced in a speech at Baltimore that the United States would accept unconditional talks on the Vietnamese conflict.

Avenue for Reds

The North Vietnamese, backed by the Chinese Communists, have emphasized repeatedly that they want a settlement which would provide for withdrawal of all U.S. forces from South Viet Nam and leave the Communist Viet Cong free to deal with the countryside and at Saigon. In other words, the North Vietnamese see peace negotiations as an avenue to securing a Communist victory in the South.

The United States has equally insisted that any settlement acceptable to it must provide for the security of South Viet Nam against aggression of any kind from the North. The Johnson administration argues that if men and guns stopped coming in to South Viet Nam from the North there would be no serious problem in pacifying the country.

According to its peace aim, therefore, each side in the conflict still believes it can win the struggle and neither side is willing to move toward any agreement which might involve compromise.

Pearson's Key to Viet Peace: Cong Must Let Neighbors Alone

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said today the key to peace in Viet Nam is for Communist North Viet Nam to abandon its policy of aggression and leave its neighbors alone.

"I think it is clear that any 'solution' based on capitulation to aggression would be neither honorable nor lasting—it would not, in fact, be a solution at all," Pearson stated.

Pearson's views on the war in Viet Nam and on other key global issues were expressed in reply to questions submitted to him by The Associated Press.

Pearson, an educator, author and politician, was president of the United Nations General Assembly in 1952 and was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957.

The Prime Minister said any solution in Indochina would have to include guarantees for the independence and neutrality of Laos, Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

Important Matter

He said an important part of the solution would be efforts by the internatioal community to assist in establishing a solid economy in the region — "perhaps through a spectacular enlargement of the United Nations' Mekong River Basin project."

This thought tied in with President Johnson's proposal for a gigantic economic aid program in Southeast Asia and Johnson's offer of $1 billion from the United States.

Other Answers

On other world issues, Pearson said:

— Communist China's role in the world has not, in the short run, been significantly affected by its successful explosion of a nuclear device. But Peking's weapon will "increase its prestige and positionn in the world-especially among Asian and African states.

— Pressure from smaller countries eventually will force the major powers to resolve their peacekeeping deadlock in the United Nations and enable the world body to continue its role.

— Relations between Canada and the United States "are close and friendly and I am sure will continue that way. But they are never easy. They are too important — especially for Canada — to be easy. They should never be taken for granted."

On the broad, general subject of peace prospects in Southeast Asia, here is the question posed to Pearson, and his answer:

Q — You have been closely associated in the past with solutions to dangerous international crises, notably the Suez affair. Do you think there is a prospect for peaceful solutions in Indochina or in the Indonesia-Malaysia dispute?

A — Of course, there is always the prospect for a peaceful solution for every international dispute. The two disputes mentioned seem intractable but, with a minimum of good will and trust, they could be solved.

In Viet Nam, the problem of the conflict between North and South is complicated by its exploitation by international communism and the intervention of the U.S.A. to help South Viet Nam resist aggression.

On Indochina

A solution in Indochina would involve, at the very least, arrangements for ensuring the independence, neutrality and territorial integrity of the countries forming part of that region. The governments and people of Laos, Cambodia and South Viet Nam should be permitted to pursue their goals in peace and security, free of the threat of aggression and subversion promoted by authorities outside their borders. If the cycle of crises which has plagued the area is to be broken, a permanent solution must be found and the history of the past 10 years makes it clear that will not be easy.

In 1962, following the agreement reached in Geneva by all the interested parties, it acpeared that the neutrality and security of Laos had been accepted and guaranteed.

No Solution at All

I think it is clear that any "solution" based on capitulation to aggression would be neither honorable nor lasting — it would not, in fact, be a solution at all.

The basic requirements for a permanent solution in Viet Nam would appear to be a decision by the authorities in North Viet Nam to desist from their present policies and to leave their neighbors alone. Just as important will be the willingness of the international community to find ways to guarantee the fulfillment of such an undertaking, and to assist in establishing the economic foundations of future understanding and security — perhaps through a spectacular enlargement of the United Nations' Mekong River Basin project. Only in this way, it seems to me, can the countries of the area be removed from the international conflicts in which they find themselves, and be permitted to pursue without interference their legitimate goals.

As for the Indonesia-Malaysia dispute, Canada is concerned and worried by the policy of "confrontation" adopted by Indonesia against its neighbor in Southeast Asia. The Commonwealth prime ministers at their July 1964 meeting in London assured the prime minister of Malaysia of their sympathy and support in his efforts to preserve the soverign pride independence and integrity of his country and to promote a peaceful and honorable settlement of current differences between Malaysia and neighboring countries." Following up this expression of support for Malaysia, a fellow member of the Commonwealth, Canada will extend to Malaysia over the next two years up to $4 million worth of military air transport equipment and training facilities in Canada. Thus, in a very practical way, Canada is assisting Mlaysia to develop its ability to defend itself, and so play a constructive and respected role in the international community. This program of military assistance is additional to the program of economic development assistance to Malaysia which Canada has maintained for some years and which is being increased.

Q — Canada is a member of the International Control Commission to supervise the 1954 Geneva agreements. What is your opinion of the usefulness and effectiveness of this commission at the present time?

A — The international commission for supervision and control in Viet Nam was given as its main task the supervision of the 1954 cease-fire agreement between the armed force of France and the so-called People's Army of Viet Nam. On the whole it performed effectively most of its functions relating to the military clauses of the agreement although it was not able to prevent the military buildup in North Viet Nam nor was it able to ensure that the inhabitants of the two zones, North and South, were guaranteed democratic freedoms When war broke out between the two Viet Nams the peacekeeping operation entered an extremely difficult stage. What had been a Vietnamese war against a colonial power became a Communist attack against an independent Vietnamese state in the South. The international commission therefore was no longer supervising a cease-fire between two parties who were prepared to observe the provisions of the agreement; it was on the contrary attempting to maintain peace when one party — North Viet Nam — had deliberately embarked upon a policy of aggression against its neighbor. Naturally, where the will to maintain peace was absent, the Viet Nam commission became virtually powerless.

I do not think therefore that the commission should be judged too harshly because it has been placed in a situation with which it was not designed to cope. Furthermore it is possible that if some settlement of the present crisis is reached the commission or a similar peacekeeping body may once more have a role to play in maintaining the peace.

Central Hudson Improves Service By Extending Line

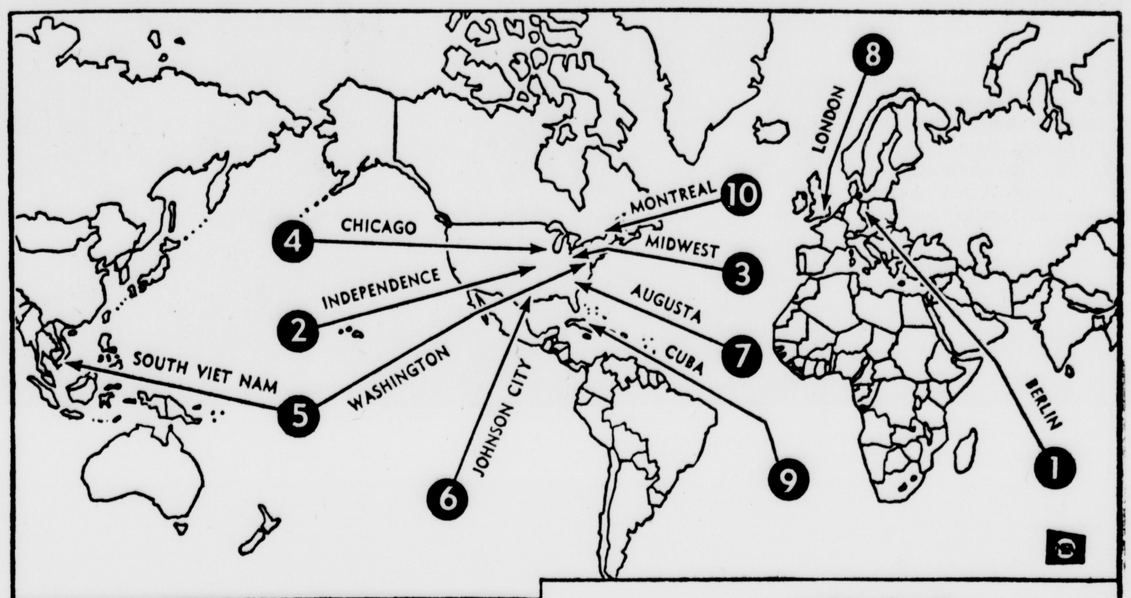

Work is now in progress by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., in extending an improved service line from a substation on Hurley Avenue to one at Glenford.

It will improve service in the West Hurley-Morgan Hill areas.

Sections of old line over the distance are being replaced and a new section is to be added from a point along Route 28 near the top of the Stony Hollow hill extending westward. At points in the West Hurley area it will border New York City's Ashokan Reservoir property.

Two Sides Stand Pat on Conditions For Viet Peace

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam and the United States stood pat today on their conditions for peace in Viet Nam. Each said the other must get out of South Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam rejected an appeal by 17 nonaligned nations for unconditional talks on Viet Nam, listing "withdrawal of foreign military personnel" as one of four conditions for any settlement.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in turn said North Viet Nam must declare it is prepared to "stop sending arms and men over the border."

"If that point is taken care of, then other things could begin to happen speedily," Rusk said.

The North Vietnmese statedent, broadcast by the official North Viet Nam news agency, also ruled out any mediation by the United Nations as inappropriate and contrary to the 1954 Geneva agreement which partitioned Viet Nam.

The North Vietnamese statement had been awaited in Wshington as the key to the Hanoi regime's position on President Johnson's April 7 offer for "unconditional discussions" as well as on the appeal signed April 1 by the 17 nonaligned nations in Belgrade.

The Hanoi broadcast repeated Communist demands made a week ago as a first reaction to Johnson's speech. U.S. officials rejected these at the time, but Undersecretary of State George W. Ball left the door open, saying the North Vietnamese should reply to the appeal by the nonaligned nations.

The new broadcast called for:

1. Recognition of basic national rights of the Vietnamese people.

2. Withdrawal of foreign military personnel in accord with the 1954 Geneva agreement on Viet Nam.

3. Settlement of South Viet Nam's internal affairs "in accordance with the program" of the Communist Viet Cong.

4. Peaceful reunification of Viet Nam "without any foreign interference."

In Washington, Rusk said the Hanoi broadcast "at the first glance repeats what they have been saying for weeks."

"What is missing in the Vietnamese four points is a declaration that they are prepared to stop sending arms and men over the border and that is the key to the matter," he continued. "If that point is taken care of, then other things could begin to happen speedily."

The first of the 17 nonaligned nations to comment on Hanoi's rejection was India. A government spokesman in New Delhi said the North Vietnamese stand was "highly regrettable."

President Johnson's special envoy, Henry Cabot Lodge, arrived in Canberra, Australia, and said the United States could derive great benefits from Australia's advice on Viet Nam.

The complaint lodged with the State Commission for Human Rights by David Collier and Thomas L. Greene Jr., alleged that they had made application for apartments and had been refused. Collier charged he had applied on December 22, 1964 and Greene that he had applied during the month of December. They allege that their applications were rejected, but on December 31, 1964, a white person was able to obtain a lease.

William Jones, also a Negro, submitted an affidavit to the Commission setting forth his attempts on December 31, 1964, to rent an apartment. He was successful in having his application accepted by an agent of the company but was told no apartments were then available. Another affidavit was submitted by Gerald L. Wapner, who is white, and who on December 31, 1964, filed an application and was told that an apartment would be available for him on January 15, 1965.

Gist of Decision

In his decision Commissioner Conway said, "The evidence tends to establish . . . that in the failure to accept complainant's (Collier) application as a reserve back-up application, in the failure to pursue the possibility of an apartment for complainant by checking with tenants on file who were doubtful, and the failure to consider complainant's continuing desire to file an application when an apartment became available, respondents did not extend to complainant the same treatment accorded to other individuals who are white".

The result of the investigation conducted by the Commissioner's investigators who came to Kingston are reviewed in the six page decisions of Commissioner Conway in both of the complaints.

was expected that the court proceedings would require Rockwell to remain in Texas through tomorrow. He said the ANP leader and his staff had no knowledge of the planned picketing at the SUC lecture tomorrow, but "that was to be expected." He said this would make no difference in tentative plans for the substitute speaker's appearance.

Meanwhile, officials of the demonstrating units said that the picketing would go on as schedule inasmuch as the original protest was directed against the appearance of Rockwell "or his representative."

Everette Hodge of Kingston, president of the local branch of NAACP, said that the branch unanimously voted last night to "hold a demonstration for human brotherhood and democracy; that this organization be joined with others in this demonstration to protest the doctrine of Nazism; and that this demonstration take place at 8 p. m. Wednesday, April 21 at State University College, New Paltz."

Ronald L. Mimms of Poughkeepsie, chairman of the Dutchess County Branch of NAACP, and Thomas Greene and Andrew Hudson, chairmen of the Ulster and Dutchess chapters, respectively, of CORE, attended the meeting of the AME Church on Foxhall Avenue and confirmed their intention "to solocit the full support of his organization and community for this effort, a physical declaration of American ideals," and "A physical denunciation of un-American ideologies."

Hodge said that signs, picket equipment and posters would be made at a meeting scheduled for 5:30 p. m. today at the home of A. Thomas Waters, 2 Farrelly Street ,and that a picket "convoy" would form at the AME Church at 6:45 p. m. Wednesday for the New Paltz demonstration.

Calls for Turnout

William B. Jones, member of the local NAACP branch board of directors and also of CORE, said in a statement released after last night's meeting, "Let those who said they would 'stand up and be counted' come forth in protest. And those who decried the KKK (Ku Klux Klan) in Selma, not ignore the ANP in New Paltz."

A storm of protests came on the heels of an announcement last week that Rockwell, a national controversial figure who has been an outspoken critic of the Civil Rights demonstrations in the south, was invited to lecture on the "political ideology" embraced by the Nazi Party in the U.S.

College officials stressed that Rockwell's appearance was by no means any endorsement of his political beliefs, but was in keeping with a State University policy of exploring all phases of political philosophies. They pointed out that it was hoped that other speakers would be obtained to discuss communism and conservatism, and that efforts would be made to obtain speakers from both major political parties. However, Supervisor Joseph Martorana (R-Plattekill), chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee of the Board of Supervisors, called the scheduled appearance of Rockwell, "Deplorable." He urged fellow committee members and veterans' groups to join in the protest and to write Governor Rockefeller and Dr. James E. Allen Jr., state commissioner of education, in protesting the appearance.

Await Reply From Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel union negotiators met briefly today then recessed, presumably to await a reply from the companies on the union's latest contract demand for a 3.2 per cent increase.

Negotiators for both sides are trying to work out an interim agreement to avert a May 1 steel strike.

Reliable sources said the union's proposal, made late Monday afternoon, was based on President Johnson's recommended 3.2 per cent annual wage-increase guideline.

This would mean about a 14-cent hourly wage boost and a 3-cent cost-of-living hike, the sources said. Steelworkers currently average $4.40 an hour in wages and benefits.

There was no confirmation of a report the industry had rejected the offer.

It was not known if the USW proposed any definite length for the interim agreement.

Last week the union rejected an industry proposal calling for a five-cent hourly boost under an interim agreement of from 60 days to six months.

The union's 170-member wage policy committee will meet Thursday.

President David J. McDonald announced the meeting Monday but didn't say what the committee would be asked to consider.

The committee could be asked to ratify a contract extension or to give union negotiators authority to call a strike.

In the past, particularly in strike years, the union made use of the committee's "no" decisions to impress upon the steel companies that the union means business.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, has conferred privately with both sides.

Simkin sized up the situation as far from hopeless. In fact, he said the chance of working out an extension is excellent.

To Discuss Increasing Support

McNamara Joins Parley On Action in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM BARR

HONOLULU (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was to complete the "war room quorum" at Pacific Military Command headquarters today to consider future military and diplomatic strategy in Viet Nam.

McNamara arrived Monday night in Honolulu, where top U.S. military men in the Pacific already had started talks on Southeast Asia.

In a planeside news conference McNamara said the conference will discuss increasing American logistics support to South Viet Nam's expanding army.

South Viet Nam has decided, he said, to increase its forces from 100,000 to 160,000 men and "we have decided to support that increase. Now we must decide what action is to be taken."

McNamara replied, "That is not on our agenda," to a question of whether the conference would consider the matter of either continuing or discontinuing air strikes against North Viet Nam.

The conference came as Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin warned the United States it is nearing a "dangerous deadline" in Viet Nam, and shortly after Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., called for a temporary suspension of U.S. bombings in North Viet Nam.

Pentagon sources and Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and senior military man at conference, denied any crisis atmosphere.

Wheeler said, "I wouldn't call it a crisis. It's just a matter of exchanging views between Ambassador (Maxwell) Taylor and Secretary McNamara."

Wheeler; Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp Jr., the Pacific military commander; and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the top U.S. military man in South Viet Nam, began the talks Monday morning.

The ambassador to South Viet Nam arrived unannounced in Honolulu Sunday evening but did not join the sessions until after lunch Monday. He kept a dental appointment at Tripler army headquarters earlier in the day.

The high-level talks were to continue throughout today and possibly into Wednesday, military officials said.

Paneling Book Gives Wall Tips

Discriminating people agree that nothing can beat the rich elegance or the individuality of a wall paneled in solid lumber.

But what kind of paneling should a person choose? Douglas fir, western hemlock, ponderosa pine, western red cedar, Engelmann spruce, or another of the distinctive western species?

Should it be a butt-joint tongue-and-groove wall, or would a pattern be preferable? Is a knotty grade more interesting than a clear grade; would rough-sawn or saw-textured panel boards be better than smooth surfaced lumber?

What will the paneling look like if it's finished clear? Can it be color tinted or stained a natural wood shade?

A copy of "What You Can Do with Paneling" is available by Western Wood Products Association, Yeon Building, Portland, Oregon, and enclosing 10c to cover postage and handling.

Low-Cost Wall

Got the spring bug to redecorate the house? Start by facelifting one room with western wood paneling. The Western Wood Products Association estimates cost of paneling an 8x12 foot wall at about $50, and this is for solid lumber boards.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By JIM GILPATRIC

Psychologists ask the question in behalf of clients when screening and examining employee applications.

"Of all the men you know, have known, met or heard of, what one man would you most like to be like?" Explain why—. Some of the selections and reasons show peculiar, even fuzzy thinking. What person, at least of Christian faith, could possibly fail to select the One who not only changed the course of history, but changed the calendar as well? Even non-Christians who deny His Divinity, know He DID live on earth. Apart from the religious aspect, this Man was so remarkable, our calendar is dated B. C. and A. D. — before Christ and in the year of our Lord. From his birth to his crucifixion He lived an exemplary life of selflessness; never a thought or act of selfishness. His life, His acts, His teaching left an indelible imprint with more impact than any other man who ever lived.

At Easter, let us rejoice that He proved life is continuous; indestructible; that His resurrection proved eternity does not start with death, but from the moment of mortal birth; that He proved our physical life of imperfections is only a prelude to spiritual perfection He promises us in His Heaven. When we reject Him, we reject the precious gift of Easter . .

Two Sides Stand Pat on Conditions For Viet Peace

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam and the United States stood pat today on their conditions for peace in Viet Nam. Each said the other must get out of South Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam rejected an appeal by 17 nonaligned nations for unconditional talks on Viet Nam, listing "withdrawal of foreign military personnel" as one of four conditions for any settlement.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in turn said North Viet Nam must declare it is prepared to "stop sending arms and men over the border."

"If that point is taken care of, then other things could begin to happen speedily," Rusk said.

The North Vietnmese statedent, broadcast by the official North Viet Nam news agency, also ruled out any mediation by the United Nations as inappropriate and contrary to the 1954 Geneva agreement which partitioned Viet Nam.

The North Vietnamese statement had been awaited in Wshington as the key to the Hanoi regime's position on President Johnson's April 7 offer for "unconditional discussions" as well as on the appeal signed April 1 by the 17 nonaligned nations in Belgrade.

The Hanoi broadcast repeated Communist demands made a week ago as a first reaction to Johnson's speech. U.S. officials rejected these at the time, but Undersecretary of State George W. Ball left the door open, saying the North Vietnamese should reply to the appeal by the nonaligned nations.

The new broadcast called for:

1. Recognition of basic national rights of the Vietnamese people.

2. Withdrawal of foreign military personnel in accord with the 1954 Geneva agreement on Viet Nam.

3. Settlement of South Viet Nam's internal affairs "in accordance with the program" of the Communist Viet Cong.

4. Peaceful reunification of Viet Nam "without any foreign interference."

In Washington, Rusk said the Hanoi broadcast "at the first glance repeats what they have been saying for weeks."

"What is missing in the Vietnamese four points is a declaration that they are prepared to stop sending arms and men over the border and that is the key to the matter," he continued. "If that point is taken care of, then other things could begin to happen speedily."

The first of the 17 nonaligned nations to comment on Hanoi's rejection was India. A government spokesman in New Delhi said the North Vietnamese stand was "highly regrettable."

President Johnson's special envoy, Henry Cabot Lodge, arrived in Canberra, Australia, and said the United States could derive great benefits from Australia's advice on Viet Nam.

Simkin sized up the situation as far from hopeless. In fact, he said the chance of working out an extension is excellent.

To Discuss Increasing Support

McNamara Joins Parley On Action in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM BARR

HONOLULU (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was to complete the "war room quorum" at Pacific Military Command headquarters today to consider future military and diplomatic strategy in Viet Nam.

McNamara arrived Monday night in Honolulu, where top U.S. military men in the Pacific already had started talks on Southeast Asia.

In a planeside news conference McNamara said the conference will discuss increasing American logistics support to South Viet Nam's expanding army.

South Viet Nam has decided, he said, to increase its forces from 100,000 to 160,000 men and "we have decided to support that increase. Now we must decide what action is to be taken."

McNamara replied, "That is not on our agenda," to a question of whether the conference would consider the matter of either continuing or discontinuing air strikes against North Viet Nam.

The conference came as Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin warned the United States it is nearing a "dangerous deadline" in Viet Nam, and shortly after Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., called for a temporary suspension of U.S. bombings in North Viet Nam.

Pentagon sources and Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and senior military man at conference, denied any crisis atmosphere.

Wheeler said, "I wouldn't call it a crisis. It's just a matter of exchanging views between Ambassador (Maxwell) Taylor and Secretary McNamara."

Wheeler; Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp Jr., the Pacific military commander; and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the top U.S. military man in South Viet Nam, began the talks Monday morning.

The ambassador to South Viet Nam arrived unannounced in Honolulu Sunday evening but did not join the sessions until after lunch Monday. He kept a dental appointment at Tripler army headquarters earlier in the day.

The high-level talks were to continue throughout today and possibly into Wednesday, military officials said.

Paneling Book Gives Wall Tips

Discriminating people agree that nothing can beat the rich elegance or the individuality of a wall paneled in solid lumber.

But what kind of paneling should a person choose? Douglas fir, western hemlock, ponderosa pine, western red cedar, Engelmann spruce, or another of the distinctive western species?

Should it be a butt-joint tongue-and-groove wall, or would a pattern be preferable? Is a knotty grade more interesting than a clear grade; would rough-sawn or saw-textured panel boards be better than smooth surfaced lumber?

What will the paneling look like if it's finished clear? Can it be color tinted or stained a natural wood shade?

A copy of "What You Can Do with Paneling" is available by Western Wood Products Association, Yeon Building, Portland, Oregon, and enclosing 10c to cover postage and handling.

Low-Cost Wall

Got the spring bug to redecorate the house? Start by facelifting one room with western wood paneling. The Western Wood Products Association estimates cost of paneling an 8x12 foot wall at about $50, and this is for solid lumber boards.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By JIM GILPATRIC

Psychologists ask the question in behalf of clients when screening and examining employee applications.

"Of all the men you know, have known, met or heard of, what one man would you most like to be like?" Explain why—. Some of the selections and reasons show peculiar, even fuzzy thinking. What person, at least of Christian faith, could possibly fail to select the One who not only changed the course of history, but changed the calendar as well? Even non-Christians who deny His Divinity, know He DID live on earth. Apart from the religious aspect, this Man was so remarkable, our calendar is dated B. C. and A. D. — before Christ and in the year of our Lord. From his birth to his crucifixion He lived an exemplary life of selflessness; never a thought or act of selfishness. His life, His acts, His teaching left an indelible imprint with more impact than any other man who ever lived.

At Easter, let us rejoice that He proved life is continuous; indestructible; that His resurrection proved eternity does not start with death, but from the moment of mortal birth; that He proved our physical life of imperfections is only a prelude to spiritual perfection He promises us in His Heaven. When we reject Him, we reject the precious gift of Easter . .

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The rock 'n' roll beat is wild — but the dance is wilder. It's the Letkis.

For once Hollywood has latched onto a new dance craze that makes some sense — couples wind up kissing each other.

It hit the Sunset Strip the other night and soon group of Hollywood names were doing it.

Zsa Zsa Gabor said: "It makes me feel like the only girl in a fraternity house."

Finnish in origin, the dance is kind of a wild polka, but something you'll never see on the Lawrence Welk show.

The guys and gals hop forward, jump back, hop-hop-hop ahead. And finally, kiss-kiss-kiss.

It can be done in groups or by couple.

The dance got its start in the cave discotheques of Paris last December via a recording by Finnish bandleader Anton Letkis.

From Paris the dance spread to Munich's two-month pre-Lenten fasching fling.

There as the beer flowed, the dancers hopped and kissed all over the Bavarian city. Priests denounced the dance from the pulpits and even doctors deplored its germ-carrying potential.

Hollywood's introduction to the craze came in a brash press agent way. Four Star television, which has a record subsidiary, Valiant Records, got the American rights to "The Letkis" music.

John Buck and the Blazers recorded it. Four Star imported a couple of European experts in the dance, hired a hall and invited the stars. The European dancers pulled the stars on the floor and taught them how.

Brandt Would Talk Directly to Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has indicated he will talk directly to the Soviet Union about German reunification if he becomes chancellor of West Germany.

Brandt and incumbent Ludwig Erhard are rival candidates for the chancellorship. The election is in September.

Brandt said the present German government is reluctant to talk to the Russians because of "too much fear that we might be regarded unreliable partners" of the West.

Brandt appeared Sunday on NBC's radio and television program "Meet the Press." The program was taped last Thursday.

Tricky Play Works Mostly

Put yourself in the South seat today and look over the dummy. You note that your partner didn't quite have enough for his positive response to your opening two bid and you are glad that you settled for the small slam.

You also note that the slam is not a lay down and look around for the best way to play the hand.

The simple way is to play some trumps and continue with king and a small spade with the intention of finessing if the queen does not appear. Then you note a diamond to your ten spot.

Later on you will overtake your king of spades with dummy's ace and take a second diamond finesse.

This really is a good play. It wins any time that East holds the queen of spades and wins the first spade trick with it. It wins any time that either East or West hold the doubleton or singleton queen of spades and assuming that the spade play does not work it still wins unless West holds both the king and queen of diamonds.

Rockefellers Are Vacationing This Week in Venezuela

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller are vacationing in Venezuela this week and will return to New York State Sunday, the governor's office announced.

The governor owns three estates in the South American country, but his press secretary, Robert McManus, said he did not know whether the Rockefellers would visit them. He said they would visit friends in Caracas.

The vacation coincides with the Easter-Passover recess of the State Legislature, which returns to the Capitol next Tuesday.

Summer Space

Need more summer living space in your home? If you can use the unroofed kind, build a deck. A deck can be put over a driveway, on a rooftop, off the second story, down at first floor level, or in a corner of the garden. Western woods are best to use for deck construction.

John Wayne Appeals For Cancer Support

Movie Actor John (Duke) Wayne in a personal letter to the Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society, appeals to area residents to generously support the 1965 Cancer Crusade now in its third week.

The popular movie star of western and other outstanding motion pictures, sent the letter in reply to one written to him in February by Walter S. Clark Jr., chairman of publicity for the Ulster County Unit's participation in the fund-raising drive.

Scores of volunteer workers in every township of Ulster County and in the City of Kingston, are giving their time and effort for the cause, by visiting every home in their area distributing leaflets and collecting contributions to this year's Crusade.

Wayne was on location doing his latest movie in Durango, Mexico, when he received the letter from the local unit of the ACS. His latest picture is "Sons of Katie Elder."

Text of Letter

His letter to the unit follows:

"During the 1965 Cancer Crusade my thoughts are certainly with you and the other dedicated volunteers of the American Cancer Society throughout the United States who are fighting this dreadful disease.

"Cancer strikes one person in four. This is a frightening statistic, but it is just that — a statistic — until that one in four becomes yourself.

"Half the battle in fighting cancer is having regular checkups and early treatment. Informing the public and persuading fellow citizens to act without delay when cancer strikes is of the utmost importance, and the American Cancer Society is outstanding in this great effort.

"Congratulations on the fine work they are doing."

Thought for Others

An article in a recent issue of Cancer Volunteer said Wayne said he has conquered the great killer — cancer, according to newspaper reports. The article quoted further, "Big Duke" once a five-pack-a-day smoker of unfiltered cigarettes, said a hospital stay earlier this year was for removal of a lung malignancy.

"I caught it early," Wayne said. "I don't care if I never sell another ticket at the box office—I'd rather tell my story so that some poor soul some place can get a checkup with his doctor and be as lucky as I was."

Louella O. Parsons, noted Hollywood writer of highlights said in an article published in February:

"Not a chance that all that action stuff he's doing in 'Sons of Katie Elder' will wear down John Wayne.

"Duke feels like a million on location in Durango, Mexico and director Henry Hathaway is seeing to it that he keeps on feeling that way. The shooting schedule has been rearranged so that Duke and Pilar can get away on a second honeymoon all by themselves in a deluxe trailer. They are driving the 900 miles from Durango to Mexico City.

"It's been a long time since Pilar and I have been able to get away alone," Duke told the Hollywood columnist. "Thanks to the Man Upstairs, I have my health back and new appreciation of what a lucky man I am to have a girl like Pilar."

Support Urged

J. Wilson Tinney, of Port Ewen, chairman of the Ulster County Cancer Unit's participation in the Cancer Crusade, and George Svirsky, president of the county unit, today renewed an appeal to all residents of Ulster to do their part in making the local fund-raising drive a success, again this year.

Any resident, who was missed by a volunteer solicitor, may send contributions to the American Cancer Society, Ulster County Unit, 400 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

Gets Silver Star Late For Argonne Battle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Robert E. Galloway earned the Silver Star in the Argonne Forest in World War I but didn't get his medal until after he casually mentioned it to a friend nearly a half century later.

The friend was Rep. George Grider, D-Tenn., who asked the Army for help. That resulted in a surprise ceremony Monday with Brig. Gen. Ward S. Ryan, acting 101st Airborne Division commander, pinning the medal on Galloway.

Galloway was wounded in the battle and spent four months in a hospital before he was sent home. Through an oversight the medal was not presented.

Penn Railroad Profit Reported $4,204,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad, in a sharp turnabout from 1963, has reported first quarter profits of $4,204,000.

The total is a gain of 33 per cent over the first three months of 1964 and compares with a deficit of $2,455,086 in the first quarter of 1963.

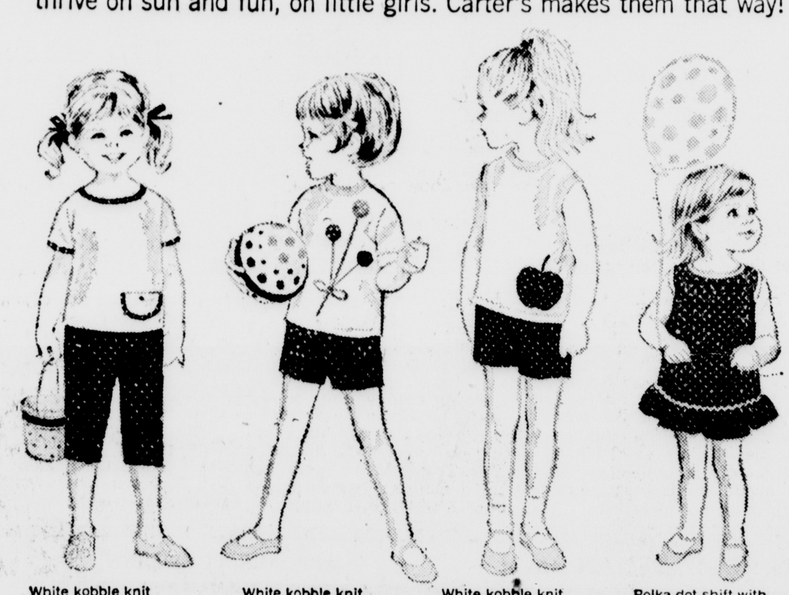

Stuart T. Saunders, board chairman of the nation's biggest railroad, said the profit rise came despite a 35-day longshoremen strike, heavier-than-usual snows in some areas and increased wages.

Rockefellers Are Vacationing This Week in Venezuela

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller are vacationing in Venezuela this week and will return to New York State Sunday, the governor's office announced.

The governor owns three estates in the South American country, but his press secretary, Robert McManus, said he did not know whether the Rockefellers would visit them. He said they would visit friends in Caracas.

The vacation coincides with the Easter-Passover recess of the State Legislature, which returns to the Capitol next Tuesday.

Summer Space

Need more summer living space in your home? If you can use the unroofed kind, build a deck. A deck can be put over a driveway, on a rooftop, off the second story, down at first floor level, or in a corner of the garden. Western woods are best to use for deck construction.

Mother Faces Charges

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP) — A 19-year-old mother faced a charge of first-degree manslaughter today in connection with the death of her 18-day-old daughter.

Police said that Mrs. Kay L. Dicky of North Tonawanda, dropped the baby, Melinda Kay, on the floor April 12. The baby died Sunday.

John Wayne Appeals For Cancer Support

Movie Actor John (Duke) Wayne in a personal letter to the Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society, appeals to area residents to generously support the 1965 Cancer Crusade now in its third week.

The popular movie star of western and other outstanding motion pictures, sent the letter in reply to one written to him in February by Walter S. Clark Jr., chairman of publicity for the Ulster County Unit's participation in the fund-raising drive.

Scores of volunteer workers in every township of Ulster County and in the City of Kingston, are giving their time and effort for the cause, by visiting every home in their area distributing leaflets and collecting contributions to this year's Crusade.

Wayne was on location doing his latest movie in Durango, Mexico, when he received the letter from the local unit of the ACS. His latest picture is "Sons of Katie Elder."

Text of Letter

His letter to the unit follows:

"During the 1965 Cancer Crusade my thoughts are certainly with you and the other dedicated volunteers of the American Cancer Society throughout the United States who are fighting this dreadful disease.

"Cancer strikes one person in four. This is a frightening statistic, but it is just that — a statistic — until that one in four becomes yourself.

"Half the battle in fighting cancer is having regular checkups and early treatment. Informing the public and persuading fellow citizens to act without delay when cancer strikes is of the utmost importance, and the American Cancer Society is outstanding in this great effort.

"Congratulations on the fine work they are doing."

Thought for Others

An article in a recent issue of Cancer Volunteer said Wayne said he has conquered the great killer — cancer, according to newspaper reports. The article quoted further, "Big Duke" once a five-pack-a-day smoker of unfiltered cigarettes, said a hospital stay earlier this year was for removal of a lung malignancy.

"I caught it early," Wayne said. "I don't care if I never sell another ticket at the box office—I'd rather tell my story so that some poor soul some place can get a checkup with his doctor and be as lucky as I was."

Louella O. Parsons, noted Hollywood writer of highlights said in an article published in February:

"Not a chance that all that action stuff he's doing in 'Sons of Katie Elder' will wear down John Wayne.

"Duke feels like a million on location in Durango, Mexico and director Henry Hathaway is seeing to it that he keeps on feeling that way. The shooting schedule has been rearranged so that Duke and Pilar can get away on a second honeymoon all by themselves in a deluxe trailer. They are driving the 900 miles from Durango to Mexico City.

"It's been a long time since Pilar and I have been able to get away alone," Duke told the Hollywood columnist. "Thanks to the Man Upstairs, I have my health back and new appreciation of what a lucky man I am to have a girl like Pilar."

Support Urged

J. Wilson Tinney, of Port Ewen, chairman of the Ulster County Cancer Unit's participation in the Cancer Crusade, and George Svirsky, president of the county unit, today renewed an appeal to all residents of Ulster to do their part in making the local fund-raising drive a success, again this year.

Any resident, who was missed by a volunteer solicitor, may send contributions to the American Cancer Society, Ulster County Unit, 400 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y.

Gets Silver Star Late For Argonne Battle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Robert E. Galloway earned the Silver Star in the Argonne Forest in World War I but didn't get his medal until after he casually mentioned it to a friend nearly a half century later.

The friend was Rep. George Grider, D-Tenn., who asked the Army for help. That resulted in a surprise ceremony Monday with Brig. Gen. Ward S. Ryan, acting 101st Airborne Division commander, pinning the medal on Galloway.

Galloway was wounded in the battle and spent four months in a hospital before he was sent home. Through an oversight the medal was not presented.

Penn Railroad Profit Reported $4,204,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad, in a sharp turnabout from 1963, has reported first quarter profits of $4,204,000.

The total is a gain of 33 per cent over the first three months of 1964 and compares with a deficit of $2,455,086 in the first quarter of 1963.

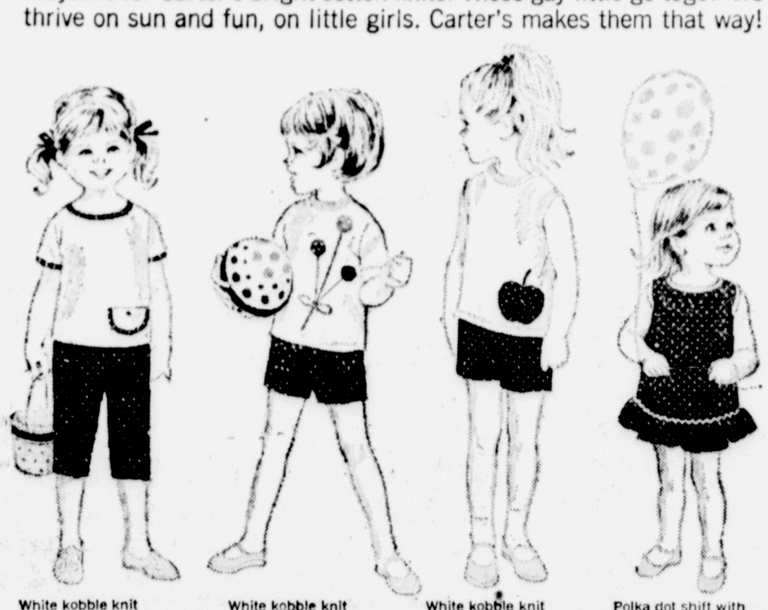

Stuart T. Saunders, board chairman of the nation's biggest railroad, said the profit rise came despite a 35-day longshoremen strike, heavier-than-usual snows in some areas and increased wages.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock market advance pushed further into record high ground early this afternoon but gains were trimmed back. Trading was heavy.

Auto stocks were ahead unanimously in early trading but later took sharp losses.

Steels remained generally higher, along with electrical equipments, cigarettes, chemicals, utilities and nonferrous metals.

There was some nervous reaction against the widely publicized suit against Texas Gulf Sulphur.

At the same time, Wall Street was disappointed at the quarterly earnings reported by Chrysler. Its stock erased a gain and showed a net loss of more than 2 points.

General Motors also reacted after touching a historic high.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.20 at 913.96.

Wall Street estimates of Chrysler earnings had been from $1.50 to $1.60, but the company reported earnings of $1.44 a share. Although this was a record for the quarter, traders sold.

General Motors advanced to a historic high of 110¼ but as Chrysler weakened, traders began to take profits on GM which has had a sustained climb to one new high after another. The stock showed a net loss exceeding a point. Ford lost a fraction.

Yank Toll . . .

Rode Into Trap

Security men said Cone and a Kim Cuong, 27, were riding along the Bien Hoa highway on a motorscooter behind a policeman and the policeman's wife.

Cuong was wounded critically and the other three shot to death when they rode into the Viet Cong trap. Several other vehicles were burned at the roadblock. Some of their occupants are believed to have been kidnaped.

The past 48 hours raised the toll of American dead in combat operations or as the result of Viet Cong attacks to 346 since December 1961.

15 Yanks Wounded

U. S. spokesmen said 15 American servicemen were wounded in scattered actions in South Viet Nam Monday.

Four enlisted men were wounded in an explosion in a bar in Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles northeast of Saigon. The blast, believed to have been a Viet Cong bomb, killed 11 Vietnamese and wounded 37 others.

A 16-year-old Buddhist monk, Thich Giac Thanh, committed suicide by fire in Saigon today, leaving behind a letter saying he was taking his life in support of his prayers for an end of the war.

Three patrols moved out in the early morning, two on foot and the third in vehicles. They were made up of 60 Marines, 30 Vietnamese regional soldiers and nine civil affairs personnel.

One company of Vietnamese soldiers stood by, as well as Marine helicopter units.

Part of the operation was designed to counter Viet Cong propaganda directed against the Marines. The civil affairs workers handed out leaflets to the villagers telling them the Marines were in Viet Nam as friends and not as enemies, as the Viet Cong has been claiming.

Marine officers in the patrols also had pockets filled with candy which they were passing out to children along the way.

To Check Sabotage

Sources said a C47 transport plane carrying Premier Phan Huy Quat over the Communist-controlled "D" zone 40 miles northeast of Saigon during the weekend lost power on both engines momentarily. The pilot managed to restart one engine and limped back to Bien Hoa.

The sources said the craft was impounded to determine if sabotage was involved.

A stepup in the flow of American weapons and training and advisory personnel to South Viet Nam is under discussion at a top-level strategy meeting in Honolulu.

American civilian and military leaders from Saigon, Washington and Pacific military headquarters gathered Monday for the three-day meeting. U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor flew there from Saigon and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara came from Washington.

Fulbright's Bomb Pause Demand Raising Doubts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright's call for a pause in the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam appears to reflect rising apprehension in Congress over the course of the Southeastern Asia war.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, obviously caused some high-level agitation in the administration with his suggestion for a temporary cessation in air raids as a possible avenue toward peace talks.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara went on record quickly against any interruption of U.S. air strikes against North Viet Nam. He said there had been no indication that such a course "would move the North Vietnamese to discussions leading to termination of their aggression against the South."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke similarly in advance of the Fulbright proposal. Rusk said the idea of a halt had been considered and rejected as unlikely to disclose any Communist willingness to negotiate.

Fullbright's general attitude toward the Viet Nam situation is shared by a substantial number of his colleagues who have supported President Johnson's course in escalating the hostilities with some misgivings.

The influential members of this group — and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana is among them — are convinced that the war will only be ended by negotiations and are deeply disturbed lest the road be closed to such talks.

They have not been encouraged by Communist reaction to the President's statement in his April 7 Baltimore speech that he was willing to negotiate without fixing preconditions. Communist North Viet Nam rejected Monday an appeal from 17 nonaligned nations for such negotiations. It also refused mediation by the United Nations.

Because they hesitate to be placed in the position of questioning the President's judgment in a grave and continuingly critical situation, influential Democrats generally have kept their worries to themselves and have maintained public silence.

This has left public defense of the President's acceleration of the conflict to Republicans like Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen. Dirksen specifically opposed Fulbright's suggestion for a temporary halt in bombings, saying, "We have to hold their feet to the fire."

Democrats suspect one reason that the Republicans are giving such solid support to the President is because former President Dwight D. Eisenhower first involved the United States in Viet Nam.

The President has tried through White House briefings to convince Democrats and Republicans that he is pursuing the wisest possible course in Viet Nam under the circumstances.

Johnson quieted some critics, at least temporarily, by his Baltimore speech. But many senators continue to wear an air of uneasiness.

Think LBJ's . . .

press do not believe the explanation.

Foreign Minister Swaran Singh told Parliament today the government had informed the U.S. government there is likely to be misunderstanding in India over the postponement. Members shouted "nonsense" and "shame" when the foreign minister suggested India should accept Johnson's explanation that he would be too busy to meet Shastri.

Wanted to Show Displeasure

It is generally believed Johnson wanted to show displeasure over Indian criticism of U.S. foreign policy. Indian officials, particularly Foreign Minister Singh, have been highly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policy. The belief is widespread here that Johnson took offense at Indian efforts to pressure the United States into negotiations.

Johnson also was felt to have been offended by India's frequent but unproven charges that Pakistan is using weapons from the American military aid program to kill Indian troops in border skirmishes.

Pakistan has been using Washington as its diplomatic whipping boy in the same manner. it is reasoned here that Johnson became angry with both nations.

In Italy, a country of 52 million population, only 900,000 women have drivers' licenses. More than half of these got their licenses in the last five years.

Tilting Gasoline

ago when the winter's snow began to melt.

Damage in Wisconsin and Minnesota, which have so far borne the brunt, has been estimated as high as $60 million by Civil Defense officials. The Red Cross said that 40,000 persons have been displaced in a five-state area, and the worst is still to come in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Minnesota lists 10 deaths and one man missing. Wisconsin counts a man missing.

Nearly 3,500 homes have been damaged or destroyed in Wisconsin and Minnesota, with 2,428 in Minnesota.

Plan About Food

Milk and bread trucks made their last runs in Marquette, Iowa, to stock stores and restaurants while Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois and Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri met at Quincy, Ill., to plan flood defenses for their states.

At Marquette, isolated by flood waters, motel operator Mrs. Dale Reynolds said, "I think everyone has food and supplies to last a week. I just hope we're not cut off more than a week."

Use Army Duck

Elsewhere along Iowa's eastern border, there were indications of record floods in the next 10 days but they may not be as costly as those of the past.

Brig. Gen. H. G. Woodbury, deputy director of civil work for the Army Corps of Engineers, said the riverbank communities "seem to be ready." He said the response of citizens has been heartening, and added, "I saw grammar school children filling sandbags at Dubuque."

Illinois Gov. Kerner made an aerial inspection of the Mississippi along his state, and then pulled on hip boots for an auto and boat tour of the critical Indian Graves levee and drainage district north of Quincy. A dike on the district's northern sector washed out last weekend, flooding 7,000 lowland farm acres.

Students Praised

Kerner praised the college students who have been working on the levies.

"Americans are neither soft nor selfish," he said.

About 350 Army Corps of Engineers employes, mostly civilians, moved 650,000 sandbags into place in the Rock Island-Moline-East Moline-Davenport area of Illinois and Iowa Monday. The Quad Cities were bracing for a 21-foot crest, the present levels of the protecting dikes.

Gov. Hearnes of Missouri suggested that dynamiting might relieve the pressures in the Quincy, Ill.-Hannibal, Mo., area but Army Engineers spokesmen said any relief would be temporary. About 390 persons have been evacuated from 165 homes in the Hannibal area.

The flood cleanup was starting in some Minnesota communities, and in many places the aftermath seemed worse than the flood.

At Chaska, where homeowners have started to return, many residents found a blackish silt piled three feet deep in their yards.

Boys Due for Tests

LONDON (AP)—Two 11-year-old boys were found guilty today of trying to derail a suburban passenger train. A court committed them for psychiatric study. The train's motorman testified it hit a collection of junk at about 40 miles an hour. The train was not derailed.

Diversify Holdings For Retirement

Q) "I hold down a good job. Looking to the future, I have bought the following stocks for added income and hope these stocks are sound. They are American Can, International Paper and United Gas Corp. Shall I add to these, or—as has been suggested to me—buy San Diego Gas & Electric and Niagara Mohawk Power?" —G.B.

A) I am very much pleased to tell you that I regard your shares as sound from an income standpoint. They are, however, rather lacking in growth potential. In your position, for purposes of diversification and for better growth prospects, I would buy the two utilities that have been suggested to you. San Diego Gas & Electric has raised dividends frequently in recent years, and Niagara Mohawk Power plans to split its shares two-for-one next May 4. Higher dividends will be paid on the split shares.

Q) "A broker friend said I should eliminate one of my stocks because it seemed to be in a 'distribution phase.' Exactly what did he means by this expression?" —A.C.

A)—I can understand your being puzzled by this very technical remark. Your friend meant that your stock was being actively traded at a relatively high price level but was not getting anywhere. The best way to understand what he meant is to regard a stock"s price movement as being made up of four primary cycles — accumulation, mark-up, distribution, and mark-down. Accumulation is the phase in which astute buyers pick up their shares, often when public sentiment i s most bearish. Then, as the company's picture improves, a mark-up stage follows in which the stock climbs rapidly. When upward momentum is lost, the early buyers frequently take their profits. This distribution phase transfers the stock from strong to weak hands and often sets the stage for decline, or mark-down.

Pay $1,120,000 Benefits Monthly to County Folk

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Ulster County now top $1,120,000, George J. Habernig, district manager of social security in Kingston, said today on releasing his annual county benefit data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 5 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Habernig said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

"There is no longer any doubt. Social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Ulster County."

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Habernig noted that as of Dec. 31, 1964, some 16,000 residents were collecting about 13½ million dollars yearly from social security, an increase of five per cent over the same date in 1963.

More people in Ulster County, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January 1965, in the nation at large, more than 19 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of 1 and 1/3 billion dollars per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $77.57 for all states, while in the State of New York the average was $83.71, and in Ulster County it was $78.72, Habernig said.

Beneficiary Group	No. of Beneficiaries	Tot. Mo. Pay'ts
Retired Worker	9745	$767,146
Wife or Husband	2041	86,213
Widow or Widower	1716	118,299
Mothers and Children	1610	94,994
Disabled Workers & Dependents	828	60,229

The year 1965 marks several milestones in the history of social security. The January 1965 benefit payment marked the 300th month of payment since monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940. The number of monthly benefits currently being paid will reach the 20 million mark in 1965. In addition, August is the 30th anniversary of the signing of the Social Security Act by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Habernig said.

Tells S-A Help In Flood Sector

The Salvation Army has responded with round-the-clock service in the areas of the midwest struck by tornodoes and floods, Brigadier Jacob Hohn, commanding officer of the local Salvation Army, reported today.

Brigadier Hohn's report follows:

Lt. Colonel Raymond Johnson reports from Minneapolis headquarters that both flood victims and volunteers working on dikes are being supplied with food and clothing. Men's Social Service Center trucks are on duty for evacuation work and for transporting supplies.

All personnel and resources of the Salvation Army in the hard-hit tornado disaster area around Grand Rapids, Mich., are on full-time service. In a wire from Brigadier Olin Brigman, it was learned that Men's Social Service Center trucks are helping families to remove personal possessions to safety. Five station wagons tour the area every two hours with coffee and food for families, law enforcement officers and workmen. A central feeding station is located in the Area Emergency Headquarters, established to distribute food, clothing and furniture. Teams of officers are visiting injured in hospitals and all Salvation Army branches and volunteers are cooperating beautifully.

Col. Douglas Norris, Central Territory Chief Secretary, reports from Chicago that service unit personnel in the stricken areas of the Central Territory are working with officers in magnificent service. Cadets have been dispatched to one area. Food and supplies are being distributed and messages concerning missing relatives are being relayed through Salvation Army units. National Guardsmen, police and volunteer workers in ravaged areas are being served hot food and coffee regularly by Army mobile canteens.

Lt. Colonel Giles Barrett reports Salvation Army units serving in Toledo, Elyria and Strongville. Seven mobile units in the field are providing food. Men's Socal Service Centers are cooperating by housing the displaced families. Toledo Men's Social has set up a clothing center at the scene of disaster in a school.

Keogh to Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Eugene J. Keogh, D-N.Y., announced today he will retire from Congress after completing his present term in January 1967. He will have served 30 years in the House.

"It becomes increasingly difficult for one to discharge the duties of important public office and to engage in one's business or profession," the 57-year-old Brooklyn House member said in a statement. "Uninformed and cynical critics do not help in this regard."

17 Hauled Away

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young demonstrators protesting U.S. policy toward Viet Nam dropped to the ground in front of the White House gate today after failing to get through to see President Johnson. Police hauled them off in patrol wagons.

The demonstrators had been picketing since Sunday demanding that they be allowed to present a petition to Johnson.

The largest living fish ever recorded was a 45-foot whale shark taken off Florida in 1912, the National Georgraphic says. Estimated weight was 20 tons.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock market advance pushed further into record high ground early this afternoon but gains were trimmed back. Trading was heavy.

Auto stocks were ahead unanimously in early trading but later took sharp losses.

Steels remained generally higher, along with electrical equipments, cigarettes, chemicals, utilities and nonferrous metals.

There was some nervous reaction against the widely publicized suit against Texas Gulf Sulphur.

At the same time, Wall Street was disappointed at the quarterly earnings reported by Chrysler. Its stock erased a gain and showed a net loss of more than 2 points.

General Motors also reacted after touching a historic high.

Wall Street estimates of Chrysler earnings had been from $1.50 to $1.60, but the company reported earnings of $1.44 a share. Although this was a record for the quarter, traders sold.

General Motors advanced to a historic high of 110¼ but as Chrysler weakened, traders began to take profits on GM which has had a sustained climb to one new high after another. The stock showed a net loss exceeding a point. Ford lost a fraction.

Yank Toll . . .

Rode Into Trap

Security men said Cone and a Kim Cuong, 27, were riding along the Bien Hoa highway on a motorscooter behind a policeman and the policeman's wife.

Cuong was wounded critically and the other three shot to death when they rode into the Viet Cong trap. Several other vehicles were burned at the roadblock. Some of their occupants are believed to have been kidnaped.

The past 48 hours raised the toll of American dead in combat operations or as the result of Viet Cong attacks to 346 since December 1961.

15 Yanks Wounded

U. S. spokesmen said 15 American servicemen were wounded in scattered actions in South Viet Nam Monday.

Four enlisted men were wounded in an explosion in a bar in Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles northeast of Saigon. The blast, believed to have been a Viet Cong bomb, killed 11 Vietnamese and wounded 37 others.

A 16-year-old Buddhist monk, Thich Giac Thanh, committed suicide by fire in Saigon today, leaving behind a letter saying he was taking his life in support of his prayers for an end of the war.

Three patrols moved out in the early morning, two on foot and the third in vehicles. They were made up of 60 Marines, 30 Vietnamese regional soldiers and nine civil affairs personnel.

One company of Vietnamese soldiers stood by, as well as Marine helicopter units.

Part of the operation was designed to counter Viet Cong propaganda directed against the Marines. The civil affairs workers handed out leaflets to the villagers telling them the Marines were in Viet Nam as friends and not as enemies, as the Viet Cong has been claiming.

Marine officers in the patrols also had pockets filled with candy which they were passing out to children along the way.

To Check Sabotage

Sources said a C47 transport plane carrying Premier Phan Huy Quat over the Communist-controlled "D" zone 40 miles northeast of Saigon during the weekend lost power on both engines momentarily. The pilot managed to restart one engine and limped back to Bien Hoa.

The sources said the craft was impounded to determine if sabotage was involved.

A stepup in the flow of American weapons and training and advisory personnel to South Viet Nam is under discussion at a top-level strategy meeting in Honolulu.

American civilian and military leaders from Saigon, Washington and Pacific military headquarters gathered Monday for the three-day meeting. U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor flew there from Saigon and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara came from Washington.

Fulbright's Bomb Pause Demand Raising Doubts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright's call for a pause in the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam appears to reflect rising apprehension in Congress over the course of the Southeastern Asia war.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, obviously caused some high-level agitation in the administration with his suggestion for a temporary cessation in air raids as a possible avenue toward peace talks.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara went on record quickly against any interruption of U.S. air strikes against North Viet Nam. He said there had been no indication that such a course "would move the North Vietnamese to discussions leading to termination of their aggression against the South."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke similarly in advance of the Fulbright proposal. Rusk said the idea of a halt had been considered and rejected as unlikely to disclose any Communist willingness to negotiate.

Fullbright's general attitude toward the Viet Nam situation is shared by a substantial number of his colleagues who have supported President Johnson's course in escalating the hostilities with some misgivings.

The influential members of this group — and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana is among them — are convinced that the war will only be ended by negotiations and are deeply disturbed lest the road be closed to such talks.

They have not been encouraged by Communist reaction to the President's statement in his April 7 Baltimore speech that he was willing to negotiate without fixing preconditions. Communist North Viet Nam rejected Monday an appeal from 17 nonaligned nations for such negotiations. It also refused mediation by the United Nations.

Because they hesitate to be placed in the position of questioning the President's judgment in a grave and continuingly critical situation, influential Democrats generally have kept their worries to themselves and have maintained public silence.

This has left public defense of the President's acceleration of the conflict to Republicans like Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen. Dirksen specifically opposed Fulbright's suggestion for a temporary halt in bombings, saying, "We have to hold their feet to the fire."

Democrats suspect one reason that the Republicans are giving such solid support to the President is because former President Dwight D. Eisenhower first involved the United States in Viet Nam.

The President has tried through White House briefings to convince Democrats and Republicans that he is pursuing the wisest possible course in Viet Nam under the circumstances.

Johnson quieted some critics, at least temporarily, by his Baltimore speech. But many senators continue to wear an air of uneasiness.

press do not believe the explanation.

Foreign Minister Swaran Singh told Parliament today the government had informed the U.S. government there is likely to be misunderstanding in India over the postponement. Members shouted "nonsense" and "shame" when the foreign minister suggested India should accept Johnson's explanation that he would be too busy to meet Shastri.

Wanted to Show Displeasure

It is generally believed Johnson wanted to show displeasure over Indian criticism of U.S. foreign policy. Indian officials, particularly Foreign Minister Singh, have been highly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policy. The belief is widespread here that Johnson took offense at Indian efforts to pressure the United States into negotiations.

Johnson also was felt to have been offended by India's frequent but unproven charges that Pakistan is using weapons from the American military aid program to kill Indian troops in border skirmishes.

Pakistan has been using Washington as its diplomatic whipping boy in the same manner, it is reasoned here that Johnson became angry with both nations.

In Italy, a country of 52 million population, only 900,000 women have drivers' licenses. More than half of these got their licenses in the last five years.

Tilting Gasoline

ago when the winter's snow began to melt.

Damage in Wisconsin and Minnesota, which have so far borne the brunt, has been estimated as high as $60 million by Civil Defense officials. The Red Cross said that 40,000 persons have been displaced in a five-state area, and the worst is still to come in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Nearly 3,500 homes have been damaged or destroyed in Wisconsin and Minnesota, with 2,428 in Minnesota.

Plan About Food

Milk and bread trucks made their last runs in Marquette, Iowa, to stock stores and restaurants while Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois and Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri met at Quincy, Ill., to plan flood defenses for their states.

At Marquette, isolated by flood waters, motel operator Mrs. Dale Reynolds said, "I think everyone has food and supplies to last a week. I just hope we're not cut off more than a week."

Use Army Duck

Elsewhere along Iowa's eastern border, there were indications of record floods in the next 10 days but they may not be as costly as those of the past.

Brig. Gen. H. G. Woodbury, deputy director of civil work for the Army Corps of Engineers, said the riverbank communities "seem to be ready." He said the response of citizens has been heartening, and added, "I saw grammar school children filling sandbags at Dubuque."

Illinois Gov. Kerner made an aerial inspection of the Mississippi along his state, and then pulled on hip boots for an auto and boat tour of the critical Indian Graves levee and drainage district north of Quincy. A dike on the district's northern sector washed out last weekend, flooding 7,000 lowland farm acres.

Students Praised

Kerner praised the college students who have been working on the levies.

"Americans are neither soft nor selfish," he said.

About 350 Army Corps of Engineers employes, mostly civilians, moved 650,000 sandbags into place in the Rock Island-Moline-East Moline-Davenport area of Illinois and Iowa Monday. The Quad Cities were bracing for a 21-foot crest, the present levels of the protecting dikes.

Gov. Hearnes of Missouri suggested that dynamiting might relieve the pressures in the Quincy, Ill.-Hannibal, Mo., area but Army Engineers spokesmen said any relief would be temporary. About 390 persons have been evacuated from 165 homes in the Hannibal area.

The flood cleanup was starting in some Minnesota communities, and in many places the aftermath seemed worse than the flood.

Boys Due for Tests

LONDON (AP)—Two 11-year-old boys were found guilty today of trying to derail a suburban passenger train. A court committed them for psychiatric study. The train's motorman testified it hit a collection of junk at about 40 miles an hour. The train was not derailed.

Diversify Holdings For Retirement

Q) "I hold down a good job. Looking to the future, I have bought the following stocks for added income and hope these stocks are sound. They are American Can, International Paper and United Gas Corp. Shall I add to these, or—as has been suggested to me—buy San Diego Gas & Electric and Niagara Mohawk Power?" —G.B.

A) I am very much pleased to tell you that I regard your shares as sound from an income standpoint. They are, however, rather lacking in growth potential. In your position, for purposes of diversification and for better growth prospects, I would buy the two utilities that have been suggested to you. San Diego Gas & Electric has raised dividends frequently in recent years, and Niagara Mohawk Power plans to split its shares two-for-one next May 4. Higher dividends will be paid on the split shares.

Q) "A broker friend said I should eliminate one of my stocks because it seemed to be in a 'distribution phase.' Exactly what did he means by this expression?" —A.C.

A)—I can understand your being puzzled by this very technical remark. Your friend meant that your stock was being actively traded at a relatively high price level but was not getting anywhere. The best way to understand what he meant is to regard a stock"s price movement as being made up of four primary cycles — accumulation, mark-up, distribution, and mark-down. Accumulation is the phase in which astute buyers pick up their shares, often when public sentiment i s most bearish. Then, as the company's picture improves, a mark-up stage follows in which the stock climbs rapidly. When upward momentum is lost, the early buyers frequently take their profits. This distribution phase transfers the stock from strong to weak hands and often sets the stage for decline, or mark-down.

Pay $1,120,000 Benefits Monthly to County Folk

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Ulster County now top $1,120,000, George J. Habernig, district manager of social security in Kingston, said today on releasing his annual county benefit data report.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Habernig said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

"There is no longer any doubt. Social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Ulster County."

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Habernig noted that as of Dec. 31, 1964, some 16,000 residents were collecting about 13½ million dollars yearly from social security, an increase of five per cent over the same date in 1963.

More people in Ulster County, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January 1965, in the nation at large, more than 19 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of 1 and 1/3 billion dollars per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $77.57 for all states, while in the State of New York the average was $83.71, and in Ulster County it was $78.72, Habernig said.

Beneficiary Group	No. of Ben.	Tot. Mo. Pay'ts
Retired Worker	9745	$767,146
Wife or Husband	2041	86,213
Widow or Widower	1716	118,299
Mothers and Children	1610	94,994
Disabled Workers & Dependents	828	60,229

The year 1965 marks several milestones in the history of social security. The January 1965 benefit payment marked the 300th month of payment since monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940. The number of monthly benefits currently being paid will reach the 20 million mark in 1965. In addition, August is the 30th anniversary of the signing of the Social Security Act by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Habernig said.

Period of Confusion

Daylight Saving Time Starts Sunday, April 25

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States is about to enter into an annual period of confusion.

Daylight saving time (DST) will soon be here for much of the country.

This yearly clock juggling will affect business, transportation and ordinary citizens.

Next Sunday 100 million Americans in 20 states will advance clocks one hour and thus get out of step with the other 85 million Americans. These other 85 million will either shift to DST on different dates or will remain on standard time.

Thus, the country will become a patchwork of time.

Benjamin Franklin is credited, or blamed for DST. It's said that, when ambassador to France, he awoke one morning and found sunlight streaming through his window while the city slept.

This "wasted" sunlight annoyed the frugal author of Poor Richard's Almanac and he soon evolved a plan to conserve this daylight by advancing the clock one hour.

DST chieved its first wide observance in World War I when it was adopted throughout the country to give farmers more time to work in their fields.

Except for during the two world wars, observance of DST has been optional. As a result, the country is spotted with areas of observance and nonobservance. This is what has created the confusion.

For example, in 1964, 15 states started DST the last Sunday in April and ended it the last Sunday in October. Another 16 states either started or ended DST — or both — on different dates. The remaining states didn't observe DST at all.

Now there's a move on foot to get some uniformity into the picture.

Next Monday Congress is due to begin action on legislation that would eliminate the snarls now involved in observing DST.

The Senate Commerce Committee will hold a hearing on a bill proposed by the Committee on Time Uniformity, which was formed by the Transportation Association of America.

The bill would fix the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of October as the mandatory starting and ending dates for DST in states and communities utilizing it. The measure would have nothing to do with whether DST was observed in any particular area.

Child Burns in Car

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP) —Yvonne Robinson, 3, burned to death Monday in an abandoned car after it caught fire from a match tossed inside by a playmate.

Police said it wasn't known the girl was in the car until firemen doused the flames.

District Engineer to Speak

Ernest W. Harris, district engineer, U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Public Roads, will speak on the subject "Bureau of Public Roads—Its Role in the Highway Program" at the dinner meeting of the Ulster Chapter New York State Society of Professional Engineers. This meeting will be held at the Kirkland Hotel at 6:30 p. m. on Wednesday. B. L. Burtnett, president of Ulster Chapter may be contacted for reservations.

Says City Now Serving 100,000

The statement was made today by Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, based on the population increases shown in the special census recently announced.

"The rate of population increase which took place from 1950 to 1960, has slowed down somewhat," Kurdt said, "but the seven townships within 15 miles of Kingston, in which the special census was taken increased another seventeen (17) per cent since 1960." The increase from 1950 to 1960 was 55 per cent

"It is interesting to note," Kurdt continued, "where the greatest increases took place. The township of Hurley, for example, increased a little over 200 per cent in population from 1,980 in 1950 to 6,082 in 1965. This combined with the very substantial populaton increases in the townships of Ulster and Saugerties, and the traffic congestion created by an equivalent increase in the number of cars on our streets and highways, clearly dictates the location of expanding business," Kurdt concluded.

About half of the fires on the farm happen in the home according to the National Safety Council.

Period of Confusion

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States is about to enter into an annual period of confusion.

Daylight saving time (DST) will soon be here for much of the country.

This yearly clock juggling will affect business, transportation and ordinary citizens.

Next Sunday 100 million Americans in 20 states will advance clocks one hour and thus get out of step with the other 85 million Americans. These other 85 million will either shift to DST on different dates or will remain on standard time.

Thus, the country will become a patchwork of time.

Benjamin Franklin is credited, or blamed for DST. It's said that, when ambassador to France, he awoke one morning and found sunlight streaming through his window while the city slept.

This "wasted" sunlight annoyed the frugal author of Poor Richard's Almanac and he soon evolved a plan to conserve this daylight by advancing the clock one hour.

DST chieved its first wide observance in World War I when it was adopted throughout the country to give farmers more time to work in their fields.

Except for during the two world wars, observance of DST has been optional. As a result, the country is spotted with areas of observance and nonobservance. This is what has created the confusion.

For example, in 1964, 15 states started DST the last Sunday in April and ended it the last Sunday in October. Another 16 states either started or ended DST — or both — on different dates. The remaining states didn't observe DST at all.

Now there's a move on foot to get some uniformity into the picture.

Next Monday Congress is due to begin action on legislation that would eliminate the snarls now involved in observing DST.

The Senate Commerce Committee will hold a hearing on a bill proposed by the Committee on Time Uniformity, which was formed by the Transportation Association of America.

The bill would fix the last Sunday of April and the last Sunday of October as the mandatory starting and ending dates for DST in states and communities utilizing it. The measure would have nothing to do with whether DST was observed in any particular area.

Says Faubus Owes Much of Victory Margin to Frauds

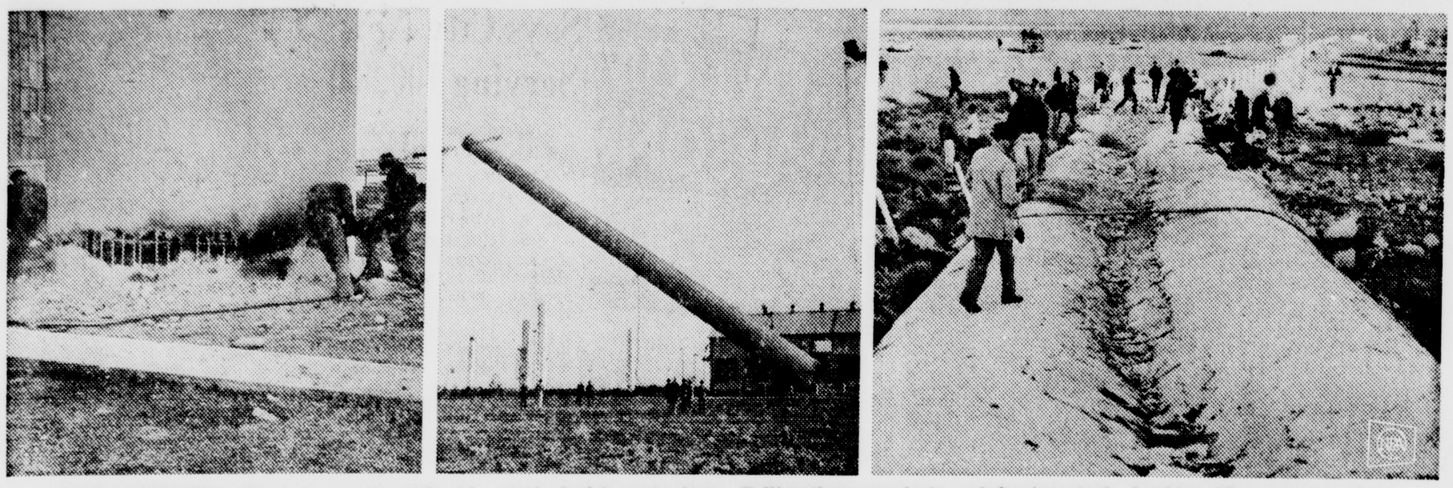

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller, the unsuccessful Republican dandidate for governor of Arkansas last year, says his opponent. Gov. Orval E. Fabus, owed much of his victory margin to voting frauds.

Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, spoke before a group of Yale law students Monday night on the topic: "The GOP in the south and voting irregularities."

"In a summary devoted only to absentee voting irregularities, the nonpartisan Election Research Council concluded that more than half of the 30,930 votes recorded were invalid," he said.

Faubus defeated Rockefeller by a margin of 85,000 votes, but Rockefeller won more votes than any GOP gubernatorial candidate before him. He also led the national GOP ticket in Arkansas by some 11,000 votes.

Amman has more than 300,000 inhabitants. Arab Jerusalem, the spiritual capital of Jordan, has 70,000.

TOWER TOPPLERS—What do you do with old smokestacks when they are obsolete? That problem faced executives of the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America in Fritch and Stinnett, Tex. They decided the 200-foot, three-quarter-million-pound stacks had to come down. Felling them was just like felling a tree. Workmen sliced a wedge cut in the base of the stack to indicate the direction of the drop, cutting away 13½ inches of concrete at the base. Then used torches to cut through reinforcing steel. Looking like a huge cannon (center photo), stack starts its short journey to oblivion. Spectators swarmed atop the fallen giant (photo right) to take a last look at what had been a towering landmark for 34 years.

YMCA Will Hold Father, Son Night Tuesday, April 27

James Rundle, of the Y Day Camp staff, will be master of ceremonies at the annual Father and Son Banquet, April 27.

Mothers assisting in the preparation for a ham dinner are Mrs. Robert Burhans, Mrs. Joseph Berryann, Mrs. Bernard Scheffel and Mrs. Regina Zeeh.

Waitresses are from the Abend Star Hi-Y club, including Patricia Maisenhelder, Christine Ladge, Alice Valentine, Mari Rae Minasian, Linda Roe, Sally Hazenbush, Marsha Miller and Vendy Canning.

Stewart Air Force Base Officers will present a two-fold program starting with colored slides of the military man in space. The second part will be on survival equipment carried on all military aircraft and will include a parachute, life raft, fishing equipment, folding gun and other items for personal survival. This program should be of interest to dads and sons.

Charles Sims, YMCA physical director will give awards for athletic achievement to Larry Flowers, Dallas Pickett, Brian Williams, Harold Wynkoop, Chester Baltz III, Steven Naccarato, David Every, Clifford Mathis, Gary Schantz, Gus Hof, John Miller, Michael Nacarato, Leo Smith and Harold Pine.

Swim team members are Michael Lipp, Charles Plunket, John Quick, Douglas Jacobson and Peter Lewis. Members of the gymnastic team to receive awards are Donald Parker, Larry Flowers, and Justin Beck.

Reservations for the banquet must be in by Saturday, April 24, and may be made by calling the Y.M.C.A.

Ponds on Farms Can Be Dangerous

To make ponds safe for recreational purposes, the National Safety Council suggests:

Place a fence that can't be climbed around the pond so children can't play there without adult supervision.

Provide lifesaving devices, such as ring buoys, ropes or long poles.

Post safety instructions for swimming and boating.

Zaretzki Urges Temporary Basis Reapportionment

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Zaretzki, majority leader of the state Senate, suggests that the Democratic - controlled Legislature reapportion Senate and Assembly seats now on a temporary basis.

He also proposes that the Legislature order a special state census and a constitutional convention to design another redistricting in 1967.

The proposal, made by the Manhattan Senator Sunday, was challenged by two other Democratic legislators—Sen. Jack E. Bronston of Queens and Assemblyman Albert H. Blumenthal of Mnhattan.

Bronston and Blumenthal, who have sponsored a bill to create a nonpartisan commission for reapportionment, said there is still time for such a commission to redraw legislative districts, as the majority Democrats originally proposed.

A federal court here has set May 5 as a deadline for passage of reapportionment legislation. This is in line with the U.S. Supreme Court decision that seats in both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned substantially on the basis of population.

As soon as the Legislature reconvenes April 27 after an Easter recess, Zaretzki said, it will receive the proposal to put the question of a 1967 constitutional convention on the ballot next November.

TV Reviews, Best Bets

NEW YORK (AP) — The major television networks are excited because after May 2 they can bring in live telecasts from Europe via the Early Bird satellite launched earlier this month.

ABC, CBS, and NBC plan live news shows May 3, the first day the satellite is available.

NBC's "Today Show" will scatter its regulars around in London, Paris, Rome and Washington for two-way discussions, and that night, Chet Huntley will broadcast his contribution to the evening news from London.

CBS will broadcast in the early afternoon a "Town Meeting of the World" show with Secretary of State Dean Rusk in London, Barry Goldwater in New York and British and French leaders in their capitals. It will be taped for rebroadcast in the regular "CBS Reports" hour late that evening.

During the first eight weeks — an experimental period — the commercial satellite will be available to the networks only for periods on Mondays.

For the fourth consecutive period — totaling almost two months — NBC has emerged as the leader in the national Nielsen ratings. The most recent, covering the two weeks ending April 4, gives NBC a 20.8 rating, followed by CBS with 19.6 and ABC with 18.9.

There is little change in the programs which Nielsen finds are the 10 most popular. They are, in order, Bonanza, Gomer Pyle, Bewitched, the Fugitive, the Dick Van Dyke Show, the Andy Griffith Show, Gilligan's Island and Red Skelton (tied), the Walt Disney hour and the Beverly Hillbillies.

Recommended tonight: "Our Man in Washington," NBC, 10-11 (EST) — David Brinkley narrates a second show about the nation's capital in a news special.

Torraca to Speak To Ulster GOP Thursday Night

District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca will be guest speaker at a regular meeting of the Town of Ulster Republican Club, Inc., Thursday night, it was made known today by Jack Smith Jr., club president.

The speaker's topic will be The Concern of Ourselves With the Rights of Society. Great emphasis has been recently stressed on the rights of the defendant and little has been said about the rights of society and the rights of victims who fall prey to crime, Smith said.

"It is time we start to consider the rights of law abiding citizens, as well as those accused of crime," the club president said.

The meeting will be held at Elmer's Inn, Ruby, starting at 8 p. m. The public is invited to attend. The session will conclude with a social hour. Refreshments will be provided by the club.

Muhammed Returns

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad has returned to his home in Phoenix from Chicago, marking his first visit to the Arizona city since the assassination of his former lieutenant, Malcolm X, in New York last February.

The Story of Nations and How They Unite and Also Split Up

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Danger holds people and nations together like glue. When the danger eases, the glue melts.

It's happening now, in both the Communist and Western worlds.

The Communist world was a pretty solid mass in the postwar years when East-West hostility was most intense. Red China was glued to the Soviet Union then.

As the Soviet Union began to feel more secure under Premier Khrushchev, having its own nuclear weapons, the Communist leadership there relaxed.

Gradually the Russians and their Chinese allies began to split apart. And the satellites began asserting some independence in Eastern Europe.

Split Wide Now

Now the Soviet Union has abandoned much of its former belligerence and the Russian-Chinese split is wide.

The Chinese remain the belligerent ones, perhaps not so much from ideology as from insecurity and the tension of trying to build their society.

Even the neutralist nations in the more harrowing days of the 1950s were closer than they are now.

In those days, when West Europeans knew a Russian attack could destroy them unless America backed them, the Western Alliance had more unity than now.

Now, in a Europe bursting with prosperity and no longer worried about Russian devastation, France is weakening the alliance with its self-assertions.

Here at home there is even splintering among the Republicans who were divided in the last election over Sen. Barry Goldwater.

It is questionable the Republicans would have nominated him then if the world had been tense at the time and war a grave possibility.

His tough international talk didn't frighten his party into cohesiveness when there was no crisis.

But it might have, and cost him the nomination, if the nation at the time felt that every word had to be weighed for its consequences.

Johnson the Man

If the Democrats are an exception to all this, and they are more solidly united than in years, most of the credit can go to President Johnson.

This master politician, knowing his success in the presidency depends on party support in Congress, is working overtime to keep Democrats together.

He is not letting the Democrats relax.

What is happening now around the world had its counterpart in the years after World War I.

The Western powers relaxed after the war and, as a result the League of Nations became a joke.

And at that time, feeling safe again, the United States had returned to its isolation. It was a fat cat, purring.

It let the rest of the world drift by.

When Hitler emerged he was a combination of several things: depression, German nationalism, and deep German resentment over World War I settlements.

The rest of Europe, not concerned about an attacker because it failed to understand Hitler's earnestness, worried about economics and stood split.

If there's a lesson to be learned from what happened after the first world war, it's not clear now. The circumstances are not all the same.

There was drift then. There's forward motion now by both the United States and the Communist world. There's action without crisis.

Ponds on Farms Can Be Dangerous

To make ponds safe for recreational purposes, the National Safety Council suggests:

Place a fence that can't be climbed around the pond so children can't play there without adult supervision.

Provide lifesaving devices, such as ring buoys, ropes or long poles.

Post safety instructions for swimming and boating.

Trial Date Set On September 8 For Six Millers

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A federal court judge has set Sept. 8 as the trial date for six flour-milling company executives accused of a price-fixing conspiracy.

Judge John O. Henderson of federal court announced the trial date Monday after a conference with the executives' attorneys.

A federal grand jury indicted the officials and 12 flour-milling companies on charges they had conspired to fix the price of flour sold to commercial bakeries. The companies later pleaded no contest and were fined March 22 a total of $190,000.

Tornadoes Slam Texas, Student Killed in Dorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms slackened to thundershowers in sections of the South today after an outbreak of violent weather in wide areas from Texas to Alabama.

Three tornadoes hit southern Texas Monday, killing one and injuring several others. Strong winds, heavy hail and rain pounded wide areas in the southern part of Texas as well as in Alabama and Louisiana.

A twister which struck the small Bay Ridge Christian College between Kendleton and East Bernard, Tex., killed Isaac Colvin, 21, where a dormitory collapsed. Several other students suffered minor injuries. Other tornadoes hit the Victoria area and about five miles north of El Campo.

Hail, rain and gusty winds hammered Houston. Heaviest rainfall in Texas was five inches in a severe thunderstorm at Mirando City, 30 miles east of Laredo. Winds were clocked at 80 m.p.h. The mercury soared to 99 at Laredo, the nation's top mark.

Strong winds, hail and rain also raked areas in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama with fairly heavy rain also dousing sections of northern Florida.

The modern marathon race commemorates the legendary feat of a Greek soldier, who in 490 B.C. is supposed to have run from Marathon to Athens, a distance of 22 miles, 1,470 yards, to bring news of his countrymen's victory over the Persians. It was first staged at the revival of the Olympic games at Athens in 1896. In 1924 the Olympic marathon distance was standardized at 26 miles, 385 yards. There is no world record for the marathon since the courses are not standardized.

Trial Date Set On September 8 For Six Millers

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A federal court judge has set Sept. 8 as the trial date for six flour-milling company executives accused of a price-fixing conspiracy.

Judge John O. Henderson of federal court announced the trial date Monday after a conference with the executives' attorneys.

A federal grand jury indicted the officials and 12 flour-milling companies on charges they had conspired to fix the price of flour sold to commercial bakeries. The companies later pleaded no contest and were fined March 22 a total of $190,000.

Catches Purse Snatcher

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Joy Laney, wife of an Oklahoma City attorney, lost her purse temporarily Monday. A purse snatcher entered her home, grabbed the purse and ran out the door.

Mrs. Laney chased the man for two blocks before catching him and getting the purse back. Neighborhood children also joined in the chase.

Then police, with most of the work already done, arrived on the scene and made the arrest.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission has concluded that the day of U.S. foreign investment capital in Indonesia is over and the outlook is dim for some $480 million worth of American oil and rubber investments in that country.

The mission headed by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker is preparing its report after talks with President Sukarno and other Indonesian government leaders.

U.S. officials said the number of Americans in Indonesia, now in the vicinity of 2,000, will decline sharply if the Jakarta government carries out its announced plan to take over the active operational management of U.S. oil and rubber properties.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A German measles epidemic early this year may cause the birth of thousands of defective babies, according to "very crude and preliminary estimates" cited to a House subcommittee by a government doctor.

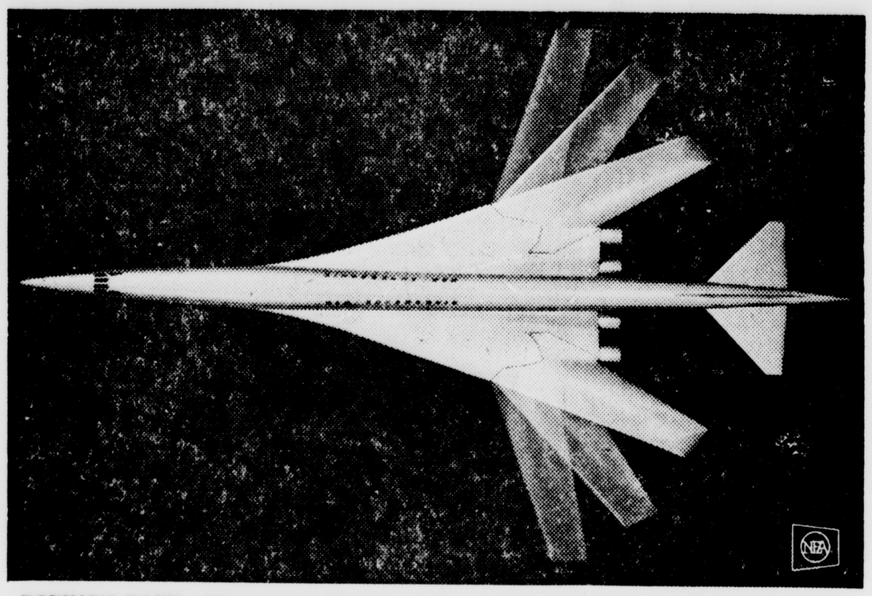

Dr. Richard Masland, director of the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness, referred to surveys in Houston, Baltimore, Memphis, the District of Columbia and other cities of women who contracted the disease while pregnant.

"Since many of these women have not delivered yet, the full impact of this has not hit the country," he said, "but this is a major tragedy."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has received no new request for aid from the United Arab Republic and no discussions are currently under consideration, the State Department said Monday.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey commented after reports the U.A.R. has asked for more than $500 million in aid.

After a series of incidents, Congress voted last January to cut off foreign aid to the Cairo regime but later voted to let President Johnson determine if such aid is in the U.S. interest.

Library Friends To Sponsor Booth At Lions Exhibit

The Committee of the Whole of the Kingston City Library Association is sponsoring a library booth at the Lions Club Exposition during the week of April 27 through May 1.

The Committee, composed of friends of the library, is anxious to contribute its combined assistance to the board of trustees in bringing the library up to par. By this exhibit the group expects to show the people of Kingston what can be done to improve conditions at the library.

The Mid-Hudson Library System is supplying books and services. Don Sager, director of the library, has announced that rare books and documents from the Kingston Library collection as well as autographs of General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Wendell W. Wilkie and Eleanor Roosevelt will be on display at the booth. Other interesting features will be Early Americana and books published in the 16th and 17th Centuries.

To Answer Questions

Members of the association will be in the booth to answer questions and advise of the progress made to date. They will distribute materials explaining the services of the library. New books will also be on display.

A drawing of the plans for the proposed annex to the library, showing the renovations and additions will be on exhibition.

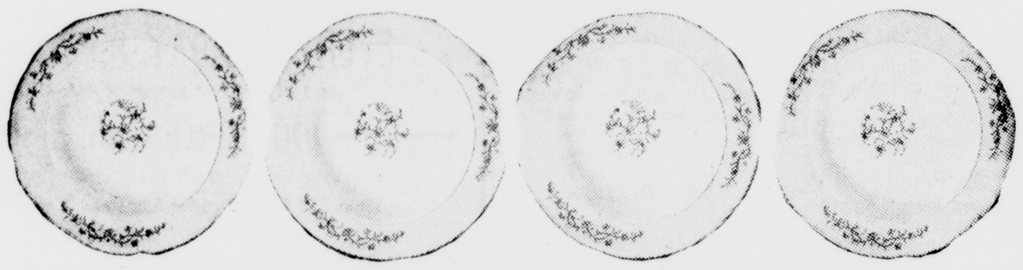

Applications for membership in the Kingston Library Association will be accepted at the both during the entire Exposition.

Another feature of the exhibit will be a list of books suggested as lasting memorials to loved ones. These books will be identified by special In Memoriam bookplates. Attendants will be available to take orders for these books.

SERIOUS BUT NOT ENGAGED, SHOULD BOY BUY GIRL SILVER?

Q: I have been dating a boy for the past six months. We have serious intentions but as he still has another year to go before finishing college, we do not intend to become engaged or make any marriage plans until he graduates. In the meantime, I have started to put aside things for my trousseau and have also started to buy my sterling silver flatware, a piece or two at a time. Would it be proper for my boy friend to help buy some of this silver? My mother doesn't think it would be right. What do you think about this?

A: Your mother is right. As you are not engaged and your wedding plans are indefinite, he should not contribute toward the buying of your silver.

Invitation to Bridegroom's Parents

Q: I am not having engraved invitations made for my wedding as it is to be fairly small. I am writing personal notes instead. Should a note be sent to the bridegroom's parents? I understand it is customary to send them in invitation.

A: When sending out engraved invitations, one is customarily sent to the bridegroom's parents as they are naturally interested in seeing what the invitation looks like and may perhaps even want to keep it as a souvenir, but when writing personal notes of invitation, it is not at all necessary to send them one.

Is He 2nd Or 3rd?

Q: If there is a John Smith Sr., and a John Smith Jr., in a family, is the next person to be given this name John Smith, 2nd or John Smith, 3rd? There has been considerable discussion in our family about this and we would like to clear this up for us.

A: It depends. If he's the son of Jr., he is "third." If he's a cousin or nephew, he is "2nd."

Who pays what at the wedding? The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Expenses" answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self - addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Great Society to Be Theme of Democratic Women's Political Education Day on May 1

Miss Rose M. Ferro, of Rochester, vice chairman of the Monroe County Democratic Committee, will take part in a Democratic women's forum on Women in the Great Society at the "Day of Political Education" presented by the Ulster County Democratic Women's Division, Saturday morning, May 1 at Ski-Minne Restaurant, Minnewaska Trail.

All those present will take part in this forum, contributing ideas and experiences and asking questions of particular interest to work for the Democratic party in their areas.

John C. Quimby, of Marlboro, and Peter W. Rakov, of Woodstock, will join Miss Ferro on the panel, and Mrs. Florence Crosby, of Kingston, will serve as moderator. Quimby will discuss "What Women Should Know About Ulster County Issues;" Rakov, "How Women Can Help Strengthen Democratic Organization;" while Miss Ferro will give some highlights on "Why Women in Politics."

Miss Ferrro will bring to the discussion the experience gained as a Democratic leader in an up-state urban and rural area, where she has served as state committeewoman as well as vice chairman. An alternate delegate to the 1956 National Convention and a delegate to several State Conventions, Miss Ferro served as chairman of the 1965 statewide 14th Annual Political Conference of the Women's Division of the Democratic State Committee of New York. During Governor Harriman's administration she served on the Business Women's Council and has successfully worked for minimum wage laws for women in industry.

As construction manager, expeditor, vice president and treasurer of the Fred DeBlase Construction Company, Miss Ferro has proved a woman's worth in a field traditionally reserved for men.

Active in numerous civic affairs, she has the unique distinction of being the only woman to become an honorary member of the Fire Fighters Association of Rochester.

Mr. Quimby, a native of Marlboro, who has been supervisor of that town since 1956, has been minority leader of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors since January, 1964. He owns and operates a fruit farm in Marlboro.

Formerly connected with the Agricultural Conservaton Program and the Federal Land Bank of Springfield, he is at present vice president of the Hudson Fruit Exchange and an elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Marlboro. Mr. Quimby was elected assessor before being chosen supervisor. He is married and is the father of two children.

ROSE F. FERRO

Mr. Rakov, vice president of the Woodstock Democratic Club in 1963, became president in 1964. In 1963 he was a candidate for justice of the peace in that town.

From 1959-61, before coming to Ulster County, Mr. Rakov was vice president of the Ansonia Independent Democratic Club, and in 1960 served as campaign manager for Assemblyman Jerome Kretchmer, Third Assembly District of New York City.

Mr. Rakov is administrative assistant to the president of Rotron Manufacturing Company of Woodstock. He is chairman of the Friends of Turnau Opera Association and a member of the Onteora District Arts Council.

Democratic women who will serve as round table discussion leaders are Mrs. Kaye Quick, Kingston; Mrs. Ethel Reilly, Esopus; Mrs. Josephine Formisano, Gardiner; Mrs. Ruth Decker, Highland; Mrs. Eleanor Spagnola, Marlboro; Mrs. Margaret Crans, Wallkill; Mrs. Helen Martens, Ruby; and Mrs. Chester Miller, Woodstock.

Chairman of the program committee is Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr. Serving on the committee, in addition to Mrs. Crosby, are Mrs. Irma Coty, Division President, Mrs. Ruth Heider, Mrs. Margaret Eckert, Mrs. Marie Green, Mrs. June Canino, and Mrs. Freda Martens.

Registration for The Day will start at 10 a. m. Mrs. Belen Nauss, Box 99, RD 2, New Paltz is general chairman. Reservations should be made by April 26 with Mrs. Nauss, or the local registration chairman: Mrs. Joseph McConnell, 440 Washington Avenue, for Kingston.

The panel is scheduled to begin at 10:30. Luncheon will be served at 12:30. Speakers at the luncheon program will stress the theme of the Day: the role of Democratic Women In The Great Society, in the State, and in the Nation.

DROPPING IN FOR BREAKFAST WITH THE KINGSTON LIONS are a group of Canadian honor students from Sundridge, Ont., on their way to New York City. The annual trip is sponsored by the Sundridge Lions Club with Kingston selected as a church and feeding stop after the overnight bus trip. Members of the Kingston Lions Club took the youngsters to Easter services at the Drive-In Theatre and at St. Joseph's Church, and then hosted a breakfast at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Shown (left to right at the head table) are: Ralph Cisco, Kingston Lions Club; Nellie Mallender, R. N., from Sundridge; the Rev. Dear Abby . . . Either Sick or Tired!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 36 years and the best thing my husband does is sleep. I practically have to assault him to get him out of bed in the morning for work. The minute he finishes his supper in the evening he falls asleep and I have to fight with him to get him to take his clothes off and go to sleep in the bedroom. It's bad enough that sleeps so much on work days, but on holidays and week-ends it's even worse. He falls asleep in chairs, on the couch, and even on the floor! It irks me to have him sleeping all over the house when I have housecleaning to do. Do I have the right to wake him up and tell him to go sleep in the bedroom? And does a grown man need that much sleep?

"RIP VAN WINKLE'S WIFE"

DEAR WIFE: First, insist that "Rip" get a through physical checkup. Excessive sleep is sometimes a symptom of illness. If your husband is as fit as a fiddle, but just likes to saw wood, work around him and let him be.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man for nearly a year. He works just around the corner from where I work and that's how we met. I have never met any of his friends or family. I gave him my telephone number but he never gave me his. I have asked him how I could get in touch with him in case of emergency, but he got around it some way and he still didn't give me his number. What do you make of this?

NO NUMBER

DEAR NO: He could be hiding something—like a wife. Or a live-in companion. I think you already have his number.

DEAR ABBY: While this inquiry might be out of your line, I hope you'll answer. I am a woman of 60, and the first time in my life I became the proud owner of a mink stole. The other night my husband remarked that since the stole was so expensive, we could save money by placing it in a plastic bag and storing it in our freezer. That way we wouldn't have to pay to store it at a regular fur storage place. I have never heard of this, have you? I'm afraid if I ask the furrier who sold us the stole he will say it is absolutely necessary to store it at a regular fur storage place (meaning his) because that is part of hs business. What do you think?

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: NEVER, NEVER, NEVER place fur in a freezer! Store the stole in a regular fur storage place. It's a steal!

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If "CHEATED" (the baby sitter who complained of being underpaid) is the one who came to our house, ate a pound of candy, two packages of potato chips, half a lemon pie, drank 2 bottles of beer, and then left with the grocery money, my new white gloves and all my hair-rollers, please tell her we won't "cheat" her again. We can't afford her.

Dear Abby . . . Either Sick or Tired!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 36 years and the best thing my husband does is sleep. I practically have to assault him to get him out of bed in the morning for work. The minute he finishes his supper in the evening he falls asleep and I have to fight with him to get him to take his clothes off and go to sleep in the bedroom. It's bad enough that sleeps so much on work days, but on holidays and week-ends it's even worse. He falls asleep in chairs, on the couch, and even on the floor! It irks me to have him sleeping all over the house when I have housecleaning to do. Do I have the right to wake him up and tell him to go sleep in the bedroom? And does a grown man need that much sleep?

"RIP VAN WINKLE'S WIFE"

DEAR WIFE: First, insist that "Rip" get a through physical checkup. Excessive sleep is sometimes a symptom of illness. If your husband is as fit as a fiddle, but just likes to saw wood, work around him and let him be.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man for nearly a year. He works just around the corner from where I work and that's how we met. I have never met any of his friends or family. I gave him my telephone number but he never gave me his. I have asked him how I could get in touch with him in case of emergency, but he got around it some way and he still didn't give me his number. What do you make of this?

NO NUMBER

DEAR NO: He could be hiding something—like a wife. Or a live-in companion. I think you already have his number.

DEAR ABBY: While this inquiry might be out of your line, I hope you'll answer. I am a woman of 60, and the first time in my life I became the proud owner of a mink stole. The other night my husband remarked that since the stole was so expensive, we could save money by placing it in a plastic bag and storing it in our freezer. That way we wouldn't have to pay to store it at a regular fur storage place. I have never heard of this, have you? I'm afraid if I ask the furrier who sold us the stole he will say it is absolutely necessary to store it at a regular fur storage place (meaning his) because that is part of hs business. What do you think?

NO NAME

DEAR NO NAME: NEVER, NEVER, NEVER place fur in a freezer! Store the stole in a regular fur storage place. It's a steal!

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: If "CHEATED" (the baby sitter who complained of being underpaid) is the one who came to our house, ate a pound of candy, two packages of potato chips, half a lemon pie, drank 2 bottles of beer, and then left with the grocery money, my new white gloves and all my hair-rollers, please tell her we won't "cheat" her again. We can't afford her.

Was Willing to Meet May 30 Schedule Committment--Davi

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The United States Open's loss appears to be Wiltwyck Country Club's gain.

Some time ago the United States Golf Association announced that the Open's historic format of 36 holes on the third and final day of the tournament would be scrapped in favor of the conventional four rounds of 18 holes each.

Taking a cue from the same brass who converted the U.S. Amateur from match play to 72-holes of medal, the Wiltwyck tournament committee has announced a 72-hole medal tournament for the 1965 club championship. And they go a step farther — there will be a 36-hole finale on the third day.

Eighteen holes will be played on Saturday, July 31, and 18 on August 1. Thirty six holes are slated on August 8. The golf committee also reserves the right to cut the field for the last 36 holes.

IT WAS THE TRADEMARK:

The 36-hole backbreaker over the nation's toughest courses is what made the U.S. Open the world's No. 1 tournament. Supporters of the Masters at Augusta, Georgia, have been claiming that distinction for the past several years. But so long as the Open retained its 36-hole finale it remained the premier test of golf in the world.

USGA officials advanced many reasons for the change. Cynics who have watched the take over of baseball, football, basketball and other sports by television just winked knowingly and said it was just another surrender to the electronic monster. The purists in golf, long regarded as the highest principled of all sports, were shocked and grief stricken.

"It's just another tournament now," they wailed. And they were right.

So what happens at Wiltwyck, where they're tough and sturdy when it comes to tournament golf? They scrap a traditional match play format and commit their hotshots to the most challenging club championship in the United States. Yes, we said the United States. Dutchess Golf and Country Club at Poughkeepsie went to 72-holes of medal in 1964, but on four days.

Wiltwyck which can be stretched beyond 7,000-yards for a championship tournament is a formidable site. And thirty six holes in the August heat is a factor of major importance. Let's just score another impressive first for the boys from Wiltwyck.

BIRDIES AND BOGIES:

Woodstock Country Club's picturesque layout lay under a heavy blanket of white at 7 a. m. Monday, a jolting experience to one who had seen the hardier species cavorting there in 38-degree temperature only 15 hours earlier . . . The National PGA has set Monday, May 31, as the date for National Golf Day this year . . . Since its inception in 1952, National Golf Day has made it possible for American golfers to contribute $1,000,000 to a great many golf projects and deserving charities . . . Mrs. Walter S. (Sally) Van Wagenen and David Dean have been presented coveted golf award certificates by pro Jim Hutchins in behalf of Golf Digest, the world's leading golf publication, as the Most Improved Golfers of the year 1964 at Woodstock . . . Mrs. Van Wagenen had a banner season last year, winning the President's Cup in the women's division, Trophy Day in August and was runnerup in the women's club championship. She lowered her handicap throughout the season. Dean, a graduate of the caddy ranks and OCS high school varsity, showed consistent improvement in club tournament play and was runnerup to the old master, Bill Van Aken, in the 1964 club championships. Golf Digest rewards these players for achieving the game's most important objective — improvement.

COMMEMORATIVE GOLF STAMPS:

The United States Golf Association has asked the Postmaster General to issue a commemorative golf postage stamp this year in recognition of: (1) The 35th anniversary of the "Grand Slam" of Robert T. Jones, Jr. (the 1930 British and United States Open and Amateur Championships) (2) the 70th anniversary of national golf championships conducted by the USGA and (3) the 180th year since golf was reportedly introduced into the United States (in Charleston, S.C. in 1786).

Clubs and associations are urged to ask their individual members to write the Postmaster General and their Representatives and Senators in Congress. The Professional Golfers Association of America has endorsed the idea and through its president, Warren Cantrell.

Since 1932 the United States has issued stamps commemorating skiing, track and field, baseball, physical fitness, the Olympics and basketball. The USGA believes that golf's position and record warrant similar recognition.

If you support the idea, address your letter to: Hon. John A. Gronouski, The Postmaster General, Washington, D.C. 20260.

Says League Had Decided to Play With 7 Teams

BY CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

A third dimension was added today to continuing baseball debate: Was Fred Davi railroaded out of the Interstate Baseball League, or was he rejected because Kingston couldn't meet the Interstate schedule requirements?

The Kingston promoter has come up with previously unpublicized angles while steadfastly clinging to his position that a stubborn Millbrook management was the cause of it all.

Some days ago, Davi said that refusal by Dutch Wisseman, Millbrook pilot, to agree to a change in schedule with Kingston led to the locals' exit. Davi further charged that Wisseman said he would rather play with a 7-team league than accede to Kingston's request for a change in date.

Wisseman and sundry others connected with the Interstate's official family have flately denied the charges.

The new angles are these:

1) Davi says Bill Wing, league president, suggested that Kingston forfeit the first game, if necessary. (The penalty for forfeit, a rare occurrence in the Interstate was not spelled out).

2) Davi left the April 4 meeting when it was apparent no agreement could be reached on revising the Kingston schedule. He says he drove "a couple of miles", toward home then had a change of mind. He returned to the meeting and asked for a couple days time to work out the necessary schedule revisions.

3) When he walked out of the meetings, says Davi, the Interstate was ready to go with seven teams.

4) Two days after the meeting —Tuesday, April 6—Davi notified Joe Costine, Interstate schedule maker, that he would take the schedule from May 30 on. He had already switched dates with three originally scheduled dates—May 9, Winsted; May 16, Amenia; Mary 23, Millerton.

5) That same night, April 6, he called Bill Wing, league president, and told him of his decision.

6) On Wednesday, April 7,—he received a telegram alerting him to a special meeting in Amenia. In mid-afternoon, he called Costine to inform him he would be delayed en route to the meeting. He repeated the call from Poughkeepsie. When he arrived at the special meeting, the league had already acted on the applications of Sharon and Dover Plains to (round) out an 8-team league.

So, Kingston is not in the Interstate League. But Davi, the perennial optimist, is not one easily deterred. He says there will be a baseball team in Kingston in 1965. More details later.

Japanese Sets New Record for Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Morio Shigematsu led a promised blitz of the Boston A.A. marathon Monday and stamped the 1965 edition "Made in Japan."

The delegation from Nippon predicted it would capture the first five places. Two-time defending champion Aurele Vandendriessche of Belgium said "They can always dream."

When it was over, Vandendriessche was the lone obstacle between the Japanese and realization of their goal.

Shigematsu, 25-year-old senior business major at Fukuoka University, sprinted the final two miles for a 2:16:33 clocking. Hideaki Shishido and Takayuki Nakao completed a 1-2-3 sweep in 2:17:13 and 2:17:31, respectively.

Foiled by Japanese strategy and a blistered right heel in his attempt to make it three straight, Vandendriessche was fourth in 2:17:44, still faster than the course mark of 2:18:58 he set two years ago.

Japan's Hoshikazu Funasako and Kazuo Matsubara were fifth and sixth.

Escorted by four, then three, then two Japanese most of the way when the field began to thin out, Vandendriessche was left far astern by Shigematsu's dashman takeoff two miles from the end. Vandy was second at that point but lost ground in the remaining distance.

"Everything went right for me," said Shigematsu. "The weather, the road — everything was very good.

"I worried about Vandendriessche up to 20 miles," he said through an interpreter. "I was very confident after that."

It was Shigematsu's first victory in 12 marathons. The Japanese had not been represented in the Boston event in the past seven years, but had three winners in the 1951-55 period.

Sadowski Hits 2 For Atlanta Team

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Sadowski, 34-year-old Atlanta catcher, is the third Sadowski of the same family to play for the Crackers in three years.

His two homers Monday night drove in four runs and gave the Crackers, frontrunners in the International League, their fourth victory in a row — a 6-3 belting of Rochester.

The triumph gave the Crackers a clean sweep of their opening four-game series and moved them a full game in front of Toronto, which swept both ends of a doubleheader from Toledo, 7-6 and 5-3.

In other games, Buffalo edged Columbus 3-2 and Jacksonville won its first game over Syracuse, 6-5.

Sadowski, who batted only .173 in the Pacific Coast League last season, currently is 4-for-11 in four games — three homers and a double. That gives him a .364 average.

His brothers, Ted and Bob, both pitchers, preceded him with the Crackers. Ted pitched here last year, and Bob, currently a starting pitcher for Milwaukee, compiled a 9-2 record with the Crackers in 1963 before he was called up to the Braves.

Six Syracuse errors helped erase a 5-0 lead, and the last error — a dropped fly ball by left fielder Purn Goldy — sent the winning run across for Jacksonville in the eighth inning.

Buffalo cashed in on Phil Cunningham's wildness for a 3-2 victory over the Jets. Darrel Harrelson drew one of Cunningham's nine walks in the seventh, stole second and scored the winning run on Bernie Smith's single.

Joe Gosger's two-run homer in the fifth inning proved to be the winning margin in Toronto's first victory over Toledo. It put the Maple Leafs out front 7-1, and they survived a late surge by the Mud Hens.

Signs With Chiefs

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Al Dotson, who played with Grambling College last season and has signed with the Kansas City Chiefs in the American Football League, was added today to the West squad roster in the fifth annual All-America game at Buffalo.

Dotson, a 6-3, 255-pound defensive specialist, passed up his last year of college football eligibility to sign with the Chiefs.

The All-America game will be played here June 26.

Nicklaus Is Top PGA Money Winner

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders is the only professional golfer on the 1965 tour who has won more than one tournament, but he's not the top money winner.

Sanders, who ranks second on the Professional Golfers' Association list of top 10 money winners, won the Pensacola and Doral Opens.

Kingston BRL Slates Meeting

Members of the Kingston Babe Ruth League will hold their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., at the American Legon building on West O'Reilly St.

Directors, managers and coaches are requested to attend. Very important business will be discussed.

Twilight Golf At Wiltwyck CC

The Wiltwyck Country Club's men's Twilight Golf League opens its second season of play on May 11.

Forty-four players competed in the first league in 1964. The same format will be followed again this year with 15 weeks of play on Tuesday evenings.

Teams consist of two men each and matches are played on a 9-hole basis starting prior to 5:45 p. m. A sign-up sheet has been posted on the bulletin board at Wiltwyck and 29 players already have signed for the competition. The deadline for registration is April 30.

Marlboro Beats Pine Bush, 6-2

Pitcher Neil Fino belted a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning to aid his own cause in hurling Marlboro to a 6-2 UCAL victory yesterday at Pine Bush.

Charlie Alexander of the Bushmen had a 1-0 led starting the fifth. He gave up a single to Jim Russo and then walked Pat Mataraza and Jim Fino to clog the sack and set the stage for Neil Fino's belt.

Coach Jack Kroh's club club added two runs more in the fifth and another in the sixth to win its circuit debut. Pine Bush has lost two straight in league play.

Marlboro is listed to oppose visiting Onteora today and will play at New Paltz on Friday.

"It's just another tournament now," they wailed. And they were right.

So what happens at Wiltwyck, where they're tough and sturdy when it comes to tournament golf? They scrap a traditional match play format and commit their hotshots to the most challenging club championship in the United States. Yes, we said the United States. Dutchess Golf and Country Club at Poughkeepsie went to 72-holes of medal in 1964, but on four days.

Wiltwyck which can be stretched beyond 7,000-yards for a championship tournament is a formidable site. And thirty six holes in the August heat is a factor of major importance. Let's just score another impressive first for the boys from Wiltwyck.

BIRDIES AND BOGIES:

Woodstock Country Club's picturesque layout lay under a heavy blanket of white at 7 a. m. Monday, a jolting experience to one who had seen the hardier species cavorting there in 38-degree temperature only 15 hours earlier . . . The National PGA has set Monday, May 31, as the date for National Golf Day this year . . . Since its inception in 1952, National Golf Day has made it possible for American golfers to contribute $1,000,000 to a great many golf projects and deserving charities . . . Mrs. Walter S. (Sally) Van Wagenen and David Dean have been presented coveted golf award certificates by pro Jim Hutchins in behalf of Golf Digest, the world's leading golf publication, as the Most Improved Golfers of the year 1964 at Woodstock . . . Mrs. Van Wagenen had a banner season last year, winning the President's Cup in the women's division, Trophy Day in August and was runnerup in the women's club championship. She lowered her handicap throughout the season. Dean, a graduate of the caddy ranks and OCS high school varsity, showed consistent improvement in club tournament play and was runnerup to the old master, Bill Van Aken, in the 1964 club championships. Golf Digest rewards these players for achieving the game's most important objective — improvement.

COMMEMORATIVE GOLF STAMPS:

The United States Golf Association has asked the Postmaster General to issue a commemorative golf postage stamp this year in recognition of: (1) The 35th anniversary of the "Grand Slam" of Robert T. Jones, Jr. (the 1930 British and United States Open and Amateur Championships) (2) the 70th anniversary of national golf championships conducted by the USGA and (3) the 180th year since golf was reportedly introduced into the United States (in Charleston, S.C. in 1786).

Clubs and associations are urged to ask their individual members to write the Postmaster General and their Representatives and Senators in Congress, The Professional Golfers Association of America has endorsed the idea and through its president, Warren Cantrell.

Since 1932 the United States has issued stamps commemorating skiing, track and field, baseball, physical fitness, the Olympics and basketball. The USGA believes that golf's position and record warrant similar recognition.

If you support the idea, address your letter to: Hon. John A. Gronouski, The Postmaster General, Washington, D.C. 20260.

Says League Had Decided to Play With 7 Teams

BY CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

A third dimension was added today to continuing baseball debate: Was Fred Davi railroaded out of the Interstate Baseball League, or was he rejected because Kingston couldn't meet the Interstate schedule requirements?

The Kingston promoter has come up with previously unpublicized angles while steadfastly clinging to his position that a stubborn Millbrook management was the cause of it all.

Some days ago, Davi said that refusal by Dutch Wisseman, Millbrook pilot, to agree to a change in schedule with Kingston led to the locals' exit. Davi further charged that Wisseman said he would rather play with a 7-team league than accede to Kingston's request for a change in date.

Wisseman and sundry others connected with the Interstate's official family have flately denied the charges.

The new angles are these:

1) Davi says Bill Wing, league president, suggested that Kingston forfeit the first game, if necessary. (The penalty for forfeit, a rare occurrence in the Interstate was not spelled out).

2) Davi left the April 4 meeting when it was apparent no agreement could be reached on revising the Kingston schedule. He says he drove "a couple of miles", toward home then had a change of mind. He returned to the meeting and asked for a couple days time to work out the necessary schedule revisions.

3) When he walked out of the meetings, says Davi, the Interstate was ready to go with seven teams.

4) Two days after the meeting —Tuesday, April 6—Davi notified Joe Costine, Interstate schedule maker, that he would take the schedule from May 30 on. He had already switched dates with three originally scheduled dates—May 9, Winsted; May 16, Amenia; Mary 23, Millerton.

5) That same night, April 6, he called Bill Wing, league president, and told him of his decision.

6) On Wednesday, April 7,—he received a telegram alerting him to a special meeting in Amenia. In mid-afternoon, he called Costine to inform him he would be delayed en route to the meeting. He repeated the call from Poughkeepsie. When he arrived at the special meeting, the league had already acted on the applications of Sharon and Dover Plains to (round) out an 8-team league.

So, Kingston is not in the Interstate League. But Davi, the perennial optimist, is not one easily deterred. He says there will be a baseball team in Kingston in 1965. More details later.

Nicklaus Is Top PGA Money Winner

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders is the only professional golfer on the 1965 tour who has won more than one tournament, but he's not the top money winner.

Sanders, who ranks second on the Professional Golfers' Association list of top 10 money winners, won the Pensacola and Doral Opens.

Kingston BRL Slates Meeting

Members of the Kingston Babe Ruth League will hold their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., at the American Legon building on West O'Reilly St.

Directors, managers and coaches are requested to attend. Very important business will be discussed.

Twilight Golf At Wiltwyck CC

The Wiltwyck Country Club's men's Twilight Golf League opens its second season of play on May 11.

Forty-four players competed in the first league in 1964. The same format will be followed again this year with 15 weeks of play on Tuesday evenings.

Teams consist of two men each and matches are played on a 9-hole basis starting prior to 5:45 p. m. A sign-up sheet has been posted on the bulletin board at Wiltwyck and 29 players already have signed for the competition. The deadline for registration is April 30.

Marlboro Beats Pine Bush, 6-2

Pitcher Neil Fino belted a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning to aid his own cause in hurling Marlboro to a 6-2 UCAL victory yesterday at Pine Bush.

Charlie Alexander of the Bushmen had a 1-0 led starting the fifth. He gave up a single to Jim Russo and then walked Pat Mataraza and Jim Fino to clog the sack and set the stage for Neil Fino's belt.

Coach Jack Kroh's club club added two runs more in the fifth and another in the sixth to win its circuit debut. Pine Bush has lost two straight in league play.

Marlboro is listed to oppose visiting Onteora today and will play at New Paltz on Friday.

PITCHING — Jim Maloney, Reds, allowed only one hit, a leadoff single by Denis Menke in the eighth inning, as Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 2-0.

BATTING — Deron Johnson, Reds, provided Maloney with the runs he needed with a two-run homer in the second inning.

Japanese Sets New Record for Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Morio Shigematsu led a promised blitz of the Boston A.A. marathon Monday and stamped the 1965 edition "Made in Japan."

The delegation from Nippon predicted it would capture the first five places. Two-time defending champion Aurele Vandendriessche of Belgium said "They can always dream."

When it was over, Vandendriessche was the lone obstacle between the Japanese and realization of their goal.

Shigematsu, 25-year-old senior business major at Fukuoka University, sprinted the final two miles for a 2:16:33 clocking. Hideaki Shishido and Takayuki Nakao completed a 1-2-3 sweep in 2:17:13 and 2:17:31, respectively.

Foiled by Japanese strategy and a blistered right heel in his attempt to make it three straight, Vandendriessche was fourth in 2:17:44, still faster than the course mark of 2:18:58 he set two years ago.

Japan's Hoshikazu Funasako and Kazuo Matsubara were fifth and sixth.

Escorted by four, then three, then two Japanese most of the way when the field began to thin out, Vandendriessche was left far astern by Shigematsu's dashman takeoff two miles from the end. Vandy was second at that point but lost ground in the remaining distance.

"Everything went right for me," said Shigematsu. "The weather, the road — everything was very good.

"I worried about Vandendriessche up to 20 miles," he said through an interpreter. "I was very confident after that."

It was Shigematsu's first victory in 12 marathons. The Japanese had not been represented in the Boston event in the past seven years, but had three winners in the 1951-55 period.

Sadowski Hits 2 For Atlanta Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Sadowski, 34-year-old Atlanta catcher, is the third Sadowski of the same family to play for the Crackers in three years.

His two homers Monday night drove in four runs and gave the Crackers, frontrunners in the International League, their fourth victory in a row — a 6-3 belting of Rochester.

The triumph gave the Crackers a clean sweep of their opening four-game series and moved them a full game in front of Toronto, which swept both ends of a doubleheader from Toledo, 7-6 and 5-3.

In other games, Buffalo edged Columbus 3-2 and Jacksonville won its first game over Syracuse, 6-5.

Sadowski, who batted only .173 in the Pacific Coast League last season, currently is 4-for-11 in four games — three homers and a double. That gives him a .364 average.

His brothers, Ted and Bob, both pitchers, preceded him with the Crackers. Ted pitched here last year, and Bob, currently a starting pitcher for Milwaukee, compiled a 9-2 record with the Crackers in 1963 before he was called up to the Braves.

Six Syracuse errors helped erase a 5-0 lead, and the last error — a dropped fly ball by left fielder Purn Goldy — sent the winning run across for Jacksonville in the eighth inning.

Buffalo cashed in on Phil Cunningham's wildness for a 3-2 victory over the Jets. Darrel Harrelson drew one of Cunningham's nine walks in the seventh, stole second and scored the winning run on Bernie Smith's single.

Joe Gosger's two-run homer in the fifth inning proved to be the winning margin in Toronto's first victory over Toledo. It put the Maple Leafs out front 7-1, and they survived a late surge by the Mud Hens.

Signs With Chiefs

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Al Dotson, who played with Grambling College last season and has signed with the Kansas City Chiefs in the American Football League, was added today to the West squad roster in the fifth annual All-America game at Buffalo.

Dotson, a 6-3, 255-pound defensive specialist, passed up his last year of college football eligibility to sign with the Chiefs.

The All-America game will be played here June 26.

And there's no doubt he hits better that way.

Gentile, the slugging Kansas City first baseman, revealed his change of stance Monday night after belting his third homer of the season and lifting his batting average to .412 as the Athletics walloped the New York Yankees 8-2.

The 30-year-old left-handed swinger was benched when the season started after he asked to leave the land of Finley green and gold because of what he termed unfair publicity given a spring training incident that resulted in a $500 fine.

But the outspoken Gentile has changed his mind.

"I decided the only way to get back in their good graces was to keep my mouth shut and just meet the ball," he said.

Has Three Homers

And so Gentile, who has never been able to match the 41 homers and 141 runs-batted-in levels he reached at Baltimore in 1961, has curbed his temper and cuffed the ball for seven hits in 17 trips while becoming the first player in the American League to hit three homers.

He wound up his shelling of the Yankees — 5-for-11 with all three homers in the three-game set — by collecting a single and a towering homer off Whitey Ford that hit 45 feet high on the scoreboard, which is 422 feet from home plate.

While the Athletics were pounding the Yankees, the Chicago White Sox located their home-run touch for the first time and whipped Baltimore 7-2 —but only after tying a league record by using five pinch hitters in one inning.

In the only other game played, Marcelino Lopez posted his first major league victory with a seven-hitter in the Los Angeles Angels' 4-2 victory over Detroit.

The A's pounced on Ford for four first-inning runs and that turned out to be enough for Diego Segui, who kept eight Yankee hits well scattered.

Rookie Ken Berry, Danny Cater and Moose Skowron homered for the White Sox, who had gone six games without one. But it took considerable managerial maneuvering by Al Lopez to put Chicago ahead to stay.

A Strong Bench

The White Sox trailed 2-1 in the seventh inning when Lopez went to work. His first two pinch hitters, Don Buford and Cater, didn't produce but regulars Ron Hansen and Berry stroked singles, so Lopez went to the bench again.

He tapped John Romano, who tied the game with a run-scoring single. Dave Nicholson was next but never got to bat. When the Orioles changed pitchers — Dick Hall for Steve Barber — Lopez countered with pitcher Gary Peters instead of Nicholson — and he singled in the lead run.

Marcelino Lopez had a shaky start but did not allow a Tiger past first base after the third inning. The Angels, meanwhile, posted their first victory against Mickey Lolich in six decisions.

Dick Little's 642 Major Loop High

No Trouble as Yet With Koufax' Elbow

Koufax' cherished elbow, which hurled nine victorious innings against the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday and was still slim and limber Monday, is nonetheless arthritic and could flare up again, warns Koufax.

Koufax, who threw a touch wild against the Phils, said Monday, "I'm very happy about the condition of my arm," after the precarious joint weathered the workout with no swelling.

But pleasure at the elbow's condition was tempered by Koufax' additional statement that: "I'm not looking for any trouble and I don't expect any. But I have still got arthritis. There's no telling when it will blow up next."

"No matter what I think of it, it's not going to help. It felt good yesterday, it feels good today. Tomorrow, who knows?"

Nevele Holiday Wins Feature at Yonkers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nevele Holiday paced to an easy victory in the $5,000 invitational feature at Yonkers Raceway Monday night before 22,345 spectators.

The winner returned $16.30 for his time of 2:04 1-5. Billy Rip was second and Royal Black showed.

Across New York State, at Batavia Downs, France Richelieu defeated Lloyds Direct in the $1,000 pace. The winner clipped the mile in 2:11 2-5 and paid $22.60. Linda Chief was third.

'Y' Health Club Very Successful

Classes are held each Monday and Thursday. In addition to the physical fitness classes, there is volleyball and paddleball.

Participants also use the steam room, weight room, swimming pool and exercise equipment in the health club proper. The club contains wall pulley weights, sets of solid dumbbells in graduated sizes, an isometric rack, barbells, rowing machine and an electric bicycle.

Virginia Tech Quits League

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Ambitious Virginia Tech has cut its Southern Conference ties and set an athletic course it hopes will lead straight into the arms of the powerful Atlantic Coast Conference.

After 44 years in the Southern, of which it was the last remaining charter member, Tech announced Monday night it was withdrawing June 1. It said bluntly that it had outgrown the league.

And although Tech President T. Marshall Hahn said the college had made no plans other than to operate independently, it was abundantly clear that Tech had ACC membership in mind.

Considerably less clear was whether the eight-member ACC would welcome the 6,500-student college with open arms. Six members must favor any addition to the conference, and not that many did in 1958 when Tech applied formally and didn't make the grade.

In any event, Tech Athletic Director Frank Moseley said he will attend the ACC spring meeting April 28 at Greensboro, N.C. He hinted, without saying outright, that any Tech bid for membership would await the winter meeting in December.

Tech's resignation as a Southern Conference member will coincide with the admission of East Carolina as a member at the league's spring meeting May 7 at Natural Bridge, Va. Thus, the Southern will continue as a nine-member league.

Goodrich Paces U. S. Cage Stars

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The deft touch of UCLA All-America Gail Goodrich and the smooth floor play of his teammates gave the U.S. All-Stars a 67-61 basketball victory over the Russian National team Monday night.

Both teams opened slowly before a crowd of 6,000. After nine minutes of play the score was tied at 16-16, with the Americans controlling the backboards but missing most of their shots.

Goodrich then came off the bench and popped in four jump shots within two minutes. He scored 13 points before the half and led the Americans at the final buzzer with 21.

Eight of the Russians played on the Olympic squad that finished second to the Americans in Tokyo.

The game was the first in an eight-game national tour by the two teams.

Holy Cross Receives Alcindor Application

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The entrance application of New York basketball star Lew Alcindor has been received at Holy Cross, the Boston Globe reported today.

The report said Alcindor, the 7-foot-1 star of Power Memorial High School, mailed his application last week.

Alcindor's high school coach, Jack Donohue, was recently hired to coach the Holy Cross basketball team next fall and already has started recruiting efforts.

Last Thursday, Donohue said Alcindor told him he wasn't interested in Holy Cross.

'Y' Gymnasium Exhibition Is Slated Saturday Night

Members of the YMCA Gymnasium team will present their annual exhibition on Saturday, 7:30 p. m. at the local gym. The public is invited and admission is free.

About 100 boys will participate in physical fitness drills and physical skills. The program will consist of marching groups and gymnastic dance drills.

A specialty will be the making of pyramids by 30 to 40 boys participating in human pyramids in physical fitness skill positions.

Louis H. Schafer YMCA secretary and Dr. Frederick Schwitz will have an acrobatic group performing many difficult stunts and acrobatic pyramids. Schafer will also give a demonstration of electric Indian club swinging.

Physical director (Bud) Sims has the "Y" leaders doing trampolet leaping over the vaulting box. Members of the gym team will also perform on the trampoline, as well as on the parallel bars and the gym side horse.

Several boys and girls from the Newburgh YMCA will give two gym demonstrations, one of which will be on the trampoline with girls performing.

Maloney Hurls 3rd 1-Hitter

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Add Denis Menke to Jim Maloney's collection of Ellis Burton and Joe Christopher.

The one-hitter was the third for the Reds' 24-year-old righthander in the past three seasons. It also got him back into the regular pitching rotation.

In his first two one-hitters, Maloney was the victim of early singles. Burton got one for the Chicago Cubs as the second batter of the game July 23, 1963. Christopher singled for the New York Mets with one out in the second inning last Sept. 25.

Bad Spring

In spring exhibition games, Maloney compiled a miserable 8.40 earned-run average in 30 innings.

"He was so bad that I had to take him out of our starting rotation," Reds manager Dick Sisler related Monday.

Explaining his poor spring, Maloney said:

"I didn't have any arm trouble. I just wanted to make sure I didn't get any. I just wanted to get in shape and not take any chances of starting the regular season with a sore arm."

Menke's single was a looping liner to left field, coming on a 1-2 pitch.

In other National League games, Philadelphia drubbed Houston 8-0 and Chicago whipped St. Louis 7-3.

Besides Menke, three Braves reached base against Maloney, all on walks. Menke was erased on a double play that pinch hitter Hank Aaron hit into — in his first time at bat this season. The Reds won the game on Deron Johnson's two-run homer off Wade Blasingame in the second inning.

Bunning Is Winner

A four-run third inning, started by Bunning's single and highlighted by Johnny Callison's two-run single, helped end Farrell's six-game winning streak against his former teammates.

Doug Clemens drove in three runs with a single and a homer while Ernie Banks clouted a two-run homer as the Cubs handed St. Louis its fifth loss in six games. Clemens' two-run single was the key hit in a four-run first inning that chased starter Ray Sadecki.

Celtics the Best Says Schaus Who Should Know It

While predicting his club will bounce back, Schaus minced no words about the Celtics, who are already 2-0 on the path to an expected seventh straight National Basketball Association playoff championship. Boston won 129-123 Monday night in the best-of-7 series which now moves to Los Angeles for games Wednesday and Friday.

"The Celtics are great because their defense is great and defense is the name of this game," said Schaus. "In K.C. Jones, Bill Russell and Tom Sanders, the Celtics have got the greatest defensive men in those positions in the history of the game."

Center Russell and forward Sanders did a little more than play defense Monday night, however. Each scored 23 points. Johnny Havlicek had 24, Tommy Heinsohn 22 and Sam Jones 20.

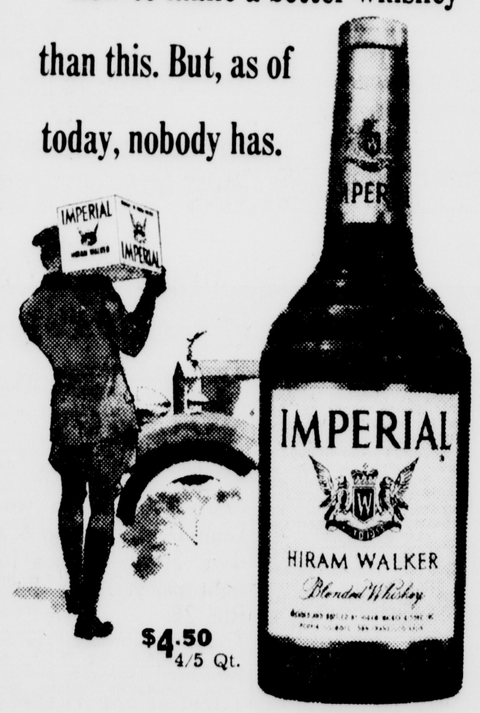

Russell had 25 rebounds, led both teams with 10 assists and missed only one of 11 field goal tries.

"Russell played his usual, great game," said Laker Jerry West, who hit a game high 45 points. "You just don't get those tap-ins with Russell in there. Too many teams make the mistake of trying to drive through the middle on Boston and Russell's always there."

"I feel a little better but I'll never feel good until it's over," said Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "Heinsohn had one of his really good games. And Russell was his usual good self. Sam was a little off and K.C. wasn't shooting like he was Sunday.

"This was a team effort. We played well but not really well."

Someday, someone may learn how to make a better whiskey than this. But, as of today, nobody has.

Gentile In Torrid Hit Streak

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Gentile, who used to put his foot in his mouth, now is leaving it in the batter's box.

And there's no doubt he hits better that way.

Gentile, the slugging Kansas City first baseman, revealed his change of stance Monday night after belting his third homer of the season and lifting his batting average to .412 as the Athletics walloped the New York Yankees 8-2.

The 30-year-old left-handed swinger was benched when the season started after he asked to leave the land of Finley green and gold because of what he termed unfair publicity given a spring training incident that resulted in a $500 fine.

But the outspoken Gentile has changed his mind.

"I decided the only way to get back in their good graces was to keep my mouth shut and just meet the ball," he said.

Has Three Homers

And so Gentile, who has never been able to match the 41 homers and 141 runs-batted-in levels he reached at Baltimore in 1961, has curbed his temper and cuffed the ball for seven hits in 17 trips while becoming the first player in the American League to hit three homers.

He wound up his shelling of the Yankees — 5-for-11 with all three homers in the three-game set — by collecting a single and a towering homer off Whitey Ford that hit 45 feet high on the scoreboard, which is 422 feet from home plate.

While the Athletics were pounding the Yankees, the Chicago White Sox located their home-run touch for the first time and whipped Baltimore 7-2 —but only after tying a league record by using five pinch hitters in one inning.

In the only other game played, Marcelino Lopez posted his first major league victory with a seven-hitter in the Los Angeles Angels' 4-2 victory over Detroit.

The A's pounced on Ford for four first-inning runs and that turned out to be enough for Diego Segui, who kept eight Yankee hits well scattered.

Rookie Ken Berry, Danny Cater and Moose Skowron homered for the White Sox, who had gone six games without one. But it took considerable managerial maneuvering by Al Lopez to put Chicago ahead to stay.

A Strong Bench

The White Sox trailed 2-1 in the seventh inning when Lopez went to work. His first two pinch hitters, Don Buford and Cater, didn't produce but regulars Ron Hansen and Berry stroked singles, so Lopez went to the bench again.

He tapped John Romano, who tied the game with a run-scoring single. Dave Nicholson was next but never got to bat. When the Orioles changed pitchers — Dick Hall for Steve Barber — Lopez countered with pitcher Gary Peters instead of Nicholson — and he singled in the lead run.

Marcelino Lopez had a shaky start but did not allow a Tiger past first base after the third inning. The Angels, meanwhile, posted their first victory against Mickey Lolich in six decisions.

Dick Little's 642 Major Loop High

No Trouble as Yet With Koufax' Elbow

Koufax' cherished elbow, which hurled nine victorious innings against the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday and was still slim and limber Monday, is nonetheless arthritic and could flare up again, warns Koufax.

Koufax, who threw a touch wild against the Phils, said Monday, "I'm very happy about the condition of my arm," after the precarious joint weathered the workout with no swelling.

But pleasure at the elbow's condition was tempered by Koufax' additional statement that: "I'm not looking for any trouble and I don't expect any. But I have still got arthritis. There's no telling when it will blow up next."

"No matter what I think of it, it's not going to help. It felt good yesterday, it feels good today. Tomorrow, who knows?"

Nevele Holiday Wins Feature at Yonkers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nevele Holiday paced to an easy victory in the $5,000 invitational feature at Yonkers Raceway Monday night before 22,345 spectators.

The winner returned $16.30 for his time of 2:04 1-5. Billy Rip was second and Royal Black showed.

Across New York State, at Batavia Downs, France Richelieu defeated Lloyds Direct in the $1,000 pace. The winner clipped the mile in 2:11 2-5 and paid $22.60. Linda Chief was third.

'Y' Health Club Very Successful

Classes are held each Monday and Thursday. In addition to the physical fitness classes, there is volleyball and paddleball.

Participants also use the steam room, weight room, swimming pool and exercise equipment in the health club proper. The club contains wall pulley weights, sets of solid dumbbells in graduated sizes, an isometric rack, barbells, rowing machine and an electric bicycle.

Virginia Tech Quits League

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Ambitious Virginia Tech has cut its Southern Conference ties and set an athletic course it hopes will lead straight into the arms of the powerful Atlantic Coast Conference.

After 44 years in the Southern, of which it was the last remaining charter member, Tech announced Monday night it was withdrawing June 1. It said bluntly that it had outgrown the league.

And although Tech President T. Marshall Hahn said the college had made no plans other than to operate independently, it was abundantly clear that Tech had ACC membership in mind.

Considerably less clear was whether the eight-member ACC would welcome the 6,500-student college with open arms. Six members must favor any addition to the conference, and not that many did in 1958 when Tech applied formally and didn't make the grade.

In any event, Tech Athletic Director Frank Moseley said he will attend the ACC spring meeting April 28 at Greensboro, N.C. He hinted, without saying outright, that any Tech bid for membership would await the winter meeting in December.

Tech's resignation as a Southern Conference member will coincide with the admission of East Carolina as a member at the league's spring meeting May 7 at Natural Bridge, Va. Thus, the Southern will continue as a nine-member league.

Goodrich Paces U. S. Cage Stars

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The deft touch of UCLA All-America Gail Goodrich and the smooth floor play of his teammates gave the U.S. All-Stars a 67-61 basketball victory over the Russian National team Monday night.

Both teams opened slowly before a crowd of 6,000. After nine minutes of play the score was tied at 16-16, with the Americans controlling the backboards but missing most of their shots.

Goodrich then came off the bench and popped in four jump shots within two minutes. He scored 13 points before the half and led the Americans at the final buzzer with 21.

Eight of the Russians played on the Olympic squad that finished second to the Americans in Tokyo.

The game was the first in an eight-game national tour by the two teams.

Holy Cross Receives Alcindor Application

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The entrance application of New York basketball star Lew Alcindor has been received at Holy Cross, the Boston Globe reported today.

The report said Alcindor, the 7-foot-1 star of Power Memorial High School, mailed his application last week.

Alcindor's high school coach, Jack Donohue, was recently hired to coach the Holy Cross basketball team next fall and already has started recruiting efforts.

Last Thursday, Donohue said Alcindor told him he wasn't interested in Holy Cross.

'Y' Gymnasium Exhibition Is Slated Saturday Night

Members of the YMCA Gymnasium team will present their annual exhibition on Saturday, 7:30 p. m. at the local gym. The public is invited and admission is free.

About 100 boys will participate in physical fitness drills and physical skills. The program will consist of marching groups and gymnastic dance drills.

A specialty will be the making of pyramids by 30 to 40 boys participating in human pyramids in physical fitness skill positions.

Louis H. Schafer YMCA secretary and Dr. Frederick Schwitz will have an acrobatic group performing many difficult stunts and acrobatic pyramids. Schafer will also give a demonstration of electric Indian club swinging.

Physical director (Bud) Sims has the "Y" leaders doing trampolet leaping over the vaulting box. Members of the gym team will also perform on the trampoline, as well as on the parallel bars and the gym side horse.

Several boys and girls from the Newburgh YMCA will give two gym demonstrations, one of which will be on the trampoline with girls performing.

Maloney Hurls 3rd 1-Hitter

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Add Denis Menke to Jim Maloney's collection of Ellis Burton and Joe Christopher.

The one-hitter was the third for the Reds' 24-year-old right-hander in the past three seasons. It also got him back into the regular pitching rotation.

In his first two one-hitters, Maloney was the victim of early singles. Burton got one for the Chicago Cubs as the second batter of the game July 23, 1963. Christopher singled for the New York Mets with one out in the second inning last Sept. 25.

Bad Spring

In spring exhibition games, Maloney compiled a miserable 8.40 earned-run average in 30 innings.

"He was so bad that I had to take him out of our starting rotation," Reds manager Dick Sisler related Monday.

Explaining his poor spring, Maloney said:

"I didn't have any arm trouble. I just wanted to make sure I didn't get any. I just wanted to get in shape and not take any chances of starting the regular season with a sore arm."

Menke's single was a looping liner to left field, coming on a 1-2 pitch.

In other National League games, Philadelphia drubbed Houston 8-0 and Chicago whipped St. Louis 7-3.

Besides Menke, three Braves reached base against Maloney, all on walks. Menke was erased on a double play that pinch hitter Hank Aaron hit into — in his first time at bat this season. The Reds won the game on Deron Johnson's two-run homer off Wade Blasingame in the second inning.

Bunning Is Winner

A four-run third inning, started by Bunning's single and highlighted by Johnny Callison's two-run single, helped end Farrell's six-game winning streak against his former teammates.

Doug Clemens drove in three runs with a single and a homer while Ernie Banks clouted a two-run homer as the Cubs handed St. Louis its fifth loss in six games. Clemens' two-run single was the key hit in a four-run first inning that chased starter Ray Sadecki.

Celtics the Best Says Schaus Who Should Know It

While predicting his club will bounce back, Schaus minced no words about the Celtics, who are already 2-0 on the path to an expected seventh straight National Basketball Association playoff championship. Boston won 129-123 Monday night in the best-of-7 series which now moves to Los Angeles for games Wednesday and Friday.

"The Celtics are great because their defense is great and defense is the name of this game," said Schaus. "In K.C. Jones, Bill Russell and Tom Sanders, the Celtics have got the greatest defensive men in those positions in the history of the game."

Center Russell and forward Sanders did a little more than play defense Monday night, however. Each scored 23 points. Johnny Havlicek had 24, Tommy Heinsohn 22 and Sam Jones 20.

Russell had 25 rebounds, led both teams with 10 assists and missed only one of 11 field goal tries.

"Russell played his usual, great game," said Laker Jerry West, who hit a game high 45 points. "You just don't get those tap-ins with Russell in there. Too many teams make the mistake of trying to drive through the middle on Boston and Russell's always there."

"I feel a little better but I'll never feel good until it's over," said Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "Heinsohn had one of his really good games. And Russell was his usual good self. Sam was a little off and K.C. wasn't shooting like he was Sunday.

"This was a team effort. We played well but not really well."

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than legal minimum wages or pay wage differentials based on sex. Most employers engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 40 in a week. Beginning September 3, 1964, most employes in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 42 in a week. The Act also requires equal pay for equal work for men and women. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act, call or write the U. S. Labor Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452. WYandotte 2-1235.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than legal minimum wages or pay wage differentials based on sex. Most employes engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 40 in a week. Beginning September 3, 1964, most employes in certain large retail service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and time and one-half for hours worked over 42 in a week. The Act also requires equal pay for equal work for men and women. If you are offered less pay by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act, call or write the U. S. Labor Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y., 10452. WYandotte 2-1235.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION
Ulster County, New York

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to Section 38.00 of the Local Finance Law and other applicable statutes, a special election of the qualified voters of the Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, will be held at the Port Ewen Fire House, in Port Ewen, New York, in said Fire District on the 4th day of May, 1965, between the hours of seven o'clock P. M. and ten o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of voting on the adoption or rejection of the following bond resolution:

BOND RESOLUTION DATED APRIL 6th, 1965

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO THE EXISTING PORT EWEN FIRE HOUSE AT A TOTAL ESTIMATED COST OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00 SERIAL BONDS OF THE PORT EWEN FIRE DISTRICT IN THE TOWN OF ESOPUS, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY THE COST THEREOF.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. The construction of an addition to the existing Port Ewen Fire House is hereby authorized at a total estimated cost of not to exceed $14,500.00.

Section 2. The plan of financing such object or purpose is by the issuance of not exceeding $14,500.00 serial bonds of said Fire District, which are hereby authorized, pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law. Such bonds are to be payable from amounts which shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property in said Fire District, and the faith and credit of said Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, are hereby pledged for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that subdivision 12 (a) (1) of Section 11 of the Local Finance Law applies to such object or purpose, and that the period of probable usefulness thereof is fifteen years.

Section 4. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the Fire District Treasurer, the Chief Fiscal Officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner as may be prescribed by said Fire District Treasurer, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 5. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1. Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said Fire District is not authorized to expend money, or
2. The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3. Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 6. This resolution shall not take effect unless approved by the qualified voters of said Fire District at a special election to be held therein.

The polls will be open for the receipt of ballots during the aforesaid hours, and the ballots will be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

PROPOSITION

Shall the resolution entitled: "BOND RESOLUTION DATED APRIL 6th, 1965. A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO THE EXISTING PORT EWEN FIRE HOUSE AT A TOTAL ESTIMATED COST OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00 SERIAL BONDS OF THE PORT EWEN FIRE DISTRICT IN THE TOWN OF ESOPUS, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY THE COST THEREOF." adopted by the Board of Fire Commissioners of said Fire District on April 6th, 1965, be approved?

Those who are qualified to vote on the aforesaid proposition are qualified voters who shall have resided in said Fire District for thirty days next preceding such election who are owners of property in said Fire District assessed upon the latest completed assessment roll of the Town of Esopus, New York.

Canadiens Hope To Win Another Over Chicago

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens will aim for a two-game bulge over the ailing Chicago Black Hawks Tuesday night and try to wrap up the Stanley Cup championship as soon as possible.

"Sure, we'd like to knock them out as soon as possible," said Montreal Coach Toe Blake. "If they are hurting, the sooner we win it the less chance they'll have of recovering and coming back."

The Hawks tried to strengthen themselves by recalling four minor league players Monday. Center Jerry Melnyk, winger Jack Stanfield, and defensemen John Miszuk and Don Johns will report from Buffalo in time for Tuesday's second game in the best-of-7 series.

Montreal took the opener 3-2 Saturday night on Yvan Cournoyer's tie-breaking goal midway in the third period.

Coach Billy Reay said it was possible that Hay, one of the top players in Chicago's come-from-behind victory over Detroit in the semifinals, might not be able to play Tuesday.

After Tuesday's game the two teams will go to Chicago for contests on Thursday and Sunday nights. If more than four games are needed they will be played in Montreal April 27, in Chicago April 29 and in Montreal May 1.

Held for Hearing

Frank E. Daley Jr., 31, of Sunset Drive, Port Ewen, was arrested by Thuway troopers in the Town of Ulster early today on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was held under $200 bail for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge.

SEC Charges 13 From Texas Gulf Had Inside Data

NEW YORK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has filed a civil suit against 13 executives and employes of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., alleging they purchased thousands of company shares while withholding knowledge of a rich Canadian ore strike.

Named in the suit were most of Texas Gulf's top corporate officers, including its president, Claude O. Stephens of Pleasantville, N.Y.

Stephens said in a statement Monday night that "the company is fully prepared to show that the company's conduct has been both legally and morally correct."

Broadway Service Station Damaged By Fire Today

An upper area and contents of Perry's Service Station, 316 Broadway was damaged by fire this morning.

Firemen said the blaze started in a rear attic section and moved toward the front burning inner tubes, foam rubber and automobile seat covers in the one-story and attic, brick structure. It damaged the roof and beams, and two openings were made in the roof fighting the fire.

Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks, Rapid and Cordts companies responded to an alarm from Box 3431, Broadway and East Chester Street at 7:15 a. m., with Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholtz in charge. Two 1½-inch pump streams were used.

Electrical wiring was damaged and it is believed the blaze could have started from defective wiring.

Bridgeport U. Names Blanch 1st Albert Dorne Professor

Arnold Blanch, internationally known Woodstock artist, will become the first Albert Dorne Professor in Drawing at the University, it has been announced by the university.

Blanch will be in attendance as a visiting critic in the university's Department of Art from April 26 through May 18 of the current semester.

The Albert Dorne Fellowship in Drawing was established at the University of Bridgeport in 1964 by Dorne, founder and president of the Famous Artists' School in Westport, Conn. Under the terms of the agreement, a distinguished artist will be brought to the university campus each semester as a Dorne Professor.

Professorships at the University of Bridgeport are endowed under a unique arrangement, according to Chancellor James H. Halsey. The university assumes the basic salary of the new faculty member at its regular salary schedule. Income from a $62,500 gift, the sum required to establish a named professorship, is used to supplement the basic salary and make it possible for the university to attract outstanding faculty members to its staff.

ARNOLD BLANCH

To Show Blanch Works

Dorne, the donor of fellowship and one of the nation's highest paid illustrators, believes firmly that a budding artist must have a thorough knowledge of drawing, if he is to become skilled in his craft.

A retrospective exhibition of Blanch's work will be on view in the Carlson Library of the university from today (April 21) through May 6. At 2 p. m. on Thursday, May 6, Blanch will discuss his exhibit at a convocation in the Carlson Library. The program will be open to the public.

Had Early Start

Arold Alder Blanch was born in Mantorville, Minnesota, June 4, 1896. At the age of 14 he was preoccupied with copying paintings of the masters. He quit school soon after this and entered the Minneapolis School of Art. Thereafter, he won scholarships, and one enabled him to enter the Art Students League in New York City where he studied under John Sloan and Robert Henri.

His paintings, as well as his ceramics, book illustrations and designs, are based on his travels throughout the world and reflect his range of expression and subject matter. In all facets of his art career he has been highly successful and his works have brought him countless prizes and awards and his paintings appear in many public and private collections.

Served In AEF

A hunger for more knowledge and background sent Arnold to Europe where he had served with the AEF in World War I. He painted throughout England, France and Italy. On his return to the States in 1923 he was penniless, so young Blanch bought a book on weaving, purchased a loom and turned weaver to earn enough money for his painting material. He also fished and hunted for his own provisions.

In 1928 Blanch had his first one-man show in New York City. He had five one-man shows from 1930 to 1932. While visiting San Francisco, Arnold became an instructor at the California School of Fine Arts which was the beginning of his spectacular career as a teacher. He found that he loved passing along his knowledge to others and he became a dedicated teacher.

In 1933, Blanch won the coveted Guggenheim Fellowship and he was off for Europe again to observe and paint. He returned to teach at the Art Students League from 1935 to 1939. During this period he worked on many Federal projects and painted murals in post office buildings in Ohio, Wisconsin, Connecticut and New York.

Married Doris Lee

In the spring of 1940, the artist held a one-man show at the Associated American Artists Gallery in New York that was heralded by the critics. In 1941 he married Doris Emrich Lee who had been one of his students at the California School of Fine Arts and who has since become one of America's most beloved painters. Their farmhouse and workshop in Woodstock, has been replaced by a beautiful studio home which they designed.

During the 40's the artist illustrated many books in addition to his own painting and he also found time to write two painting instruction books of his own — Methods and Techniques for Gouache Painting (1946), and Painting for Enjoyment (1947), the latter in collaboration with his wife, Doris Lee.

His unique versatility came to the front again in 1949 when he was awarded first prize for designs by the National Ceramic Exhibition of the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts and he received top prize again in 1951. The painter's work appears in 17 public collections, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Whitney Museum of American Art, Carnegie Institute and the Library of Congress.

Since his teaching term in California, the artist has never stopped teaching others. He has been a visiting artist at Michigan State College (1944), University of Minnesota, 1949), Ohio State University (1952), Florida Gulf Coast Art Center (1951 and 1953), University of Minnesota's Summer School (1953) and University of Hawaii (1955), Des Moines Art Center (1954), Colorado School of Fine Arts, Summer School (1939-1941), and Art Students League, Summer School at Woodstock (1947-1953).

The artists is now a guiding faculty member of the Famous Artists Schools of Westport, Connecticut. This unique home study method enables Blanch to pass along his painting techniques to thousands of students instead of only a few.

Overlook Church Events Slated

The sermon topic for Sunday, April 25, will be "After Death, What?" at the Overlook Methodist Church, Rev. James W. Cook, minister. Morning worship is held at 11 a. m. A nursery is provided for infants and toddlers.

Sunday school is held at 9:45 a. m. for primary through adult classes; and at 11 a. m. for beginners through first grade.

"Puerto Rican Profiles" will be the topic of a speech by the Rev. Richard Moore of South Bethlehem, when he speaks next Sunday at the second Family Night Supper this season. The Rev. Moore took part in a mission to Puerto Rico last fall.

Members and families are invited. Starting time is 6 p. m. Persons attending are asked to bring their own table setting and milk for the children and a good sized covered dish. Tea, coffee and rolls will be provided by the Missions Commission. There will be a program of games for the children.

Mrs. Carol Pike reminds all women of the church of the coming rummage sale on May 29. They are asked to save all white elephants, dishes, furniture, clothing, jewelry, shoes, hats, purses, toys, records, books and other items.

Thanks are extended to Mrs. Ken Vredenburg for the wonderful job she is doing collecting Betty Crocker coupons, all types of trading stamps and most other kinds of coupons to outfit the kitchen of the new church. Any coupons or stamps will be appreciated.

Church league bowling banquet is scheduled May 12 at 6:30 p. m. at the Shady Methodist Church.

The Tuesday morning women's prayer groups will meet as follows: 10 a. m. at Mrs. Williams; 11 a. m. at Mrs. Potters.

Top Figure in Theatre Speaker At WAA Meeting

The Woodstock Artists Association will present a cultural evening featuring a father and son combination, Lon Clark and his son by the same name, May 1, at 8:30 p. m. at the Art Gallery.

Poems in Painting will be read by the elder Clark who has been in theater, television, films and radio for more than 20 years. His son is on the Executive Board of the WAA, serving as Special Events chairman.

The father may currently be seen in the film, The Doctor, but out of some 150 plays he may be remembered in many more. Also a skilled director, he has produced plays such as The Pajama Game, Command Decision, and the operas Dido and Aeneas and Carmen. He recently returned from Brazil where he filmed the soon to be released The Gentle Rain.

Poems for the evening performance were selected by Clarke Jr., who is past chairman of the New York Studio School and is active in the Art Students League of Woodstock. He now resides in Woodstock.

Seats Available on Bus to New York

A few seats are still available on the chartered bus to New York city on Wednesday, April 28, sponsored by the Tuesday Club of Woodstock.

The bus will leave the Village Green at 8 a. m. and leave the Port Authority bus terminal in New York at 8 p. m. The public is invited.

Meeting Postponed

The Onteora Board of Education meeting scheduled last night was postponed until Tuesday, April 27 at 8 p. m. Action will be taken at that time on the proposed budget for 1965-66.

Bridal Shower Given For Joyce Van Voorhis

Miss Joyce Van Voorhis was given a bridal shower at Deanie's in Woodstock on March 27. She received many lovely and useful gifts. She will be married to Theodore F. Pade on May 15 at the Dutch Reformed Church in Woodstock.

The Misses Susan Foster and Dorothy Watson were the hostesses at the shower. Among the guests were: Mrs. Ambrose Van Voorhis, Mrs. Theodore Peterson, Florence Madden, Miss Susan Gumaer, Miss Emma Gumaer, all of Kingston; Mrs. Robert Freer, Port Ewen; Mrs. Allen Lund, Saugerties; Mrs. Lloyd Lund, Mrs. Robert Sperring, Mrs. Clifford Watson, Mrs. Charles Van Voorhis, Mrs. Holland Foster, all of Woodstock and Mrs. Robert Sturrack of New Paltz.

Local Ambulance Called

Doctors Ambulance Service of Kingston was called Monday from Boston to transfer a patient from the New England Hospital, Parker Hill Avenue, Boston, Mass., to Gloversville. Henry Bullis of 279 Kingsboro Avenue, Gloversville, underwent a stomach operation March 15 at the Boston Hospital. He was taken Monday to his home in the upstate city by the local ambulance service.

Area Lutheran Meeting Planned

Joseph Grandlienard, Associate Director, Church Planning and Mission of the New York State Council of Churches will be the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Hudson District of the New York Synod of the Lutheran Church in America on May 4th. Mr. Grandlienard will address the pastors and lay delegates representing the 36 churches of the District on the subject: "Planning for the Future in the Mid-Hudson Area." The meeting will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Red Hook which is one of two churches in the District observing its 250th anniversary this year. The other church is St. John's of Manorton in Columbia county. The oldest church in the District is also the only one in Greene county belonging to the New York Synod of the LCA, Zion, Athens, organized in 1703.

The Rev. Paul G. Alberti, president of the Lutheran Church of Maylaysia will speak to the women of the District on May 1, at their Spring Assembly to be held at Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties. Representatives from the area churches of Woodstock, Kingston, Ruby, Saugerties, West Camp, New Paltz and Rhinebeck will be in attendance at both of these meetings.

This Sunday, the relationship between Christian belief and doubt will be explored in a sermon entitled: "Healthy Doubt" by Pastor Krapf. In the evening at 7 p. m., an organ recital by Charles Brand of Kingston will be held at the church. The public is invited.

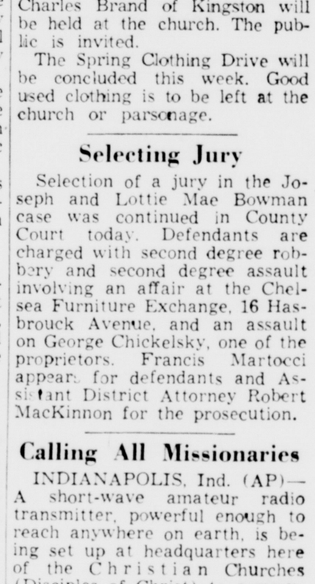

The Spring Clothing Drive will be concluded this week. Good used clothing is to be left at the church or parsonage.

Selecting Jury

Selection of a jury in the Joseph and Lottie Mae Bowman case was continued in County Court today. Defendants are charged with second degree robbery and second degree assault involving an affair at the Chelsea Furniture Exchange, 16 Hasbrouck Avenue, and an assault on George Chickelsky, one of the proprietors. Francis Martocci appears for defendants and Assistant District Attorney Robert MacKinnon for the prosecution.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION
Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus,
Ulster County, New York

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to Section 38.00 of the Local Finance Law and other applicable statutes, a special election of the qualified voters of the Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, will be held at the Port Ewen Fire House, in Port Ewen, New York, in said Fire District on the 4th day of May, 1965, between the hours of seven o'clock P. M. and ten o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of voting on the adoption or rejection of the following bond resolution:

BOND RESOLUTION DATED APRIL 6th, 1965

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO THE EXISTING PORT EWEN FIRE HOUSE AT A TOTAL ESTIMATED COST OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00 AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00 SERIAL BONDS OF THE PORT EWEN FIRE DISTRICT IN THE TOWN OF ESOPUS, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY THE COST THEREOF.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. The construction of an addition to the existing Port Ewen Fire House is hereby authorized at a total estimated cost of not to exceed $14,500.00.

Section 2. The plan of financing such object or purpose is by the issuance of not exceeding $14,500.00 serial bonds of said Fire District, which are hereby authorized, pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law. Such bonds are to be payable from amounts which shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property in said Fire District, and the faith and credit of said Port Ewen Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, are hereby pledged for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that subdivision 12 (a) (1) of Section 11 of the Local Finance Law applies to such object or purpose, and that the period of probable usefulness thereof is fifteen years.

Section 4. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the Fire District Treasurer, the Chief Fiscal Officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner as may be prescribed by said Fire District Treasurer, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 5. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:

1. Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said Fire District is not authorized to expend money, or
2. The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3. Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 6. This resolution shall not take effect unless approved by the qualified voters of said Fire District at a special election to be held therein.

The polls will be open for the receipt of ballots during the aforesaid hours, and the ballots will be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

PROPOSITION

Shall the resolution entitled: "BOND RESOLUTION DATED APRIL 6th, 1965. A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF AN ADDITION TO THE EXISTING PORT EWEN FIRE HOUSE AT A TOTAL ESTIMATED COST OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $14,500.00 SERIAL BONDS OF THE PORT EWEN FIRE DISTRICT IN THE TOWN OF ESOPUS, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY THE COST THEREOF" adopted by the Board of Fire Commissioners of said Fire District on April 6th, 1965, be approved?

Those who are qualified to vote on the aforesaid proposition are qualified voters who shall have resided in said Fire District for thirty days next preceding such election who are owners of property in said Fire District assessed upon the latest completed assessment roll of the Town of Esopus, New York.

Canadiens Hope To Win Another Over Chicago

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens will aim for a two-game bulge over the ailing Chicago Black Hawks Tuesday night and try to wrap up the Stanley Cup championship as soon as possible.

"Sure, we'd like to knock them out as soon as possible," said Montreal Coach Toe Blake. "If they are hurting, the sooner we win it the less chance they'll have of recovering and coming back."

The Hawks tried to strengthen themselves by recalling four minor league players Monday. Center Jerry Melnyk, winger Jack Stanfield, and defensemen John Miszuk and Don Johns will report from Buffalo in time for Tuesday's second game in the best-of-7 series.

Montreal took the opener 3-2 Saturday night on Yvan Cournoyer's tie-breaking goal midway in the third period.

It remained doubtful if either forward Kenny Wharram and defenseman and Captain Pierre Pilote would be ready for Tuesday's game.

Coach Billy Reay said it was possible that Hay, one of the top players in Chicago's come-from-behind victory over Detroit in the semifinals, might not be able to play Tuesday.

Wharram, nursing battered knees, has a good chance of being ready, but Pilote, who has a slight separation in his left shoulder, is very questionable.

After Tuesday's game the two teams will go to Chicago for contests on Thursday and Sunday nights. If more than four games are needed they will be played in Montreal April 27, in Chicago April 29 and in Montreal May 1.

Held for Hearing

Frank E. Daley Jr., 31, of Sunset Drive, Port Ewen, was arrested by Thuway troopers in the Town of Ulster early today on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was held under $200 bail for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge.

SEC Charges 13 From Texas Gulf Had Inside Data

NEW YORK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has filed a civil suit against 13 executives and employes of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., alleging they purchased thousands of company shares while withholding knowledge of a rich Canadian ore strike.

The suit seeks reimbursement by the insiders — a Wall Street name for officers, directors and major stockholders — to persons who, in ignorance, sold shares to the stockholders.

Named in the suit were most of Texas Gulf's top corporate officers, including its president, Claude O. Stephens of Pleasantville, N.Y.

Stephens said in a statement Monday night that "the company is fully prepared to show that the company's conduct has been both legally and morally correct."

Broadway Service Station Damaged By Fire Today

An upper area and contents of Perry's Service Station, 316 Broadway was damaged by fire this morning.

Firemen said the blaze started in a rear attic section and moved toward the front burning inner tubes, foam rubber and automobile seat covers in the one-story and attic, brick structure. It damaged the roof and beams, and two openings were made in the roof fighting the fire.

Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks, Rapid and Cordts companies responded to an alarm from Box 3431, Broadway and East Chester Street at 7:15 a. m., with Chief James M. Brett and Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholtz in charge. Two 1½-inch pump streams were used.

Electrical wiring was damaged and it is believed the blaze could have started from defective wiring.

Bridgeport U. Names Blanch 1st Albert Dorne Professor

Arnold Blanch, internationally known Woodstock artist, will become the first Albert Dorne Professor in Drawing at the University, it has been announced by the university.

Blanch will be in attendance as a visiting critic in the university's Department of Art from April 26 through May 18 of the current semester.

The Albert Dorne Fellowship in Drawing was established at the University of Bridgeport in 1964 by Dorne, founder and president of the Famous Artists' School in Westport, Conn. Under the terms of the agreement, a distinguished artist will be brought to the university campus each semester as a Dorne Professor.

Professorships at the University of Bridgeport are endowed under a unique arrangement, according to Chancellor James H. Halsey. The university assumes the basic salary of the new faculty member at its regular salary schedule. Income from a $62,500 gift, the sum required to establish a named professorship, is used to supplement the basic salary and make it possible for the university to attract outstanding faculty members to its staff.

To Show Blanch Works

Dorne, the donor of fellowship and one of the nation's highest paid illustrators, believes firmly that a budding artist must have a thorough knowledge of drawing, if he is to become skilled in his craft.

A retrospective exhibition of Blanch's work will be on view in the Carlson Library of the university from today (April 21) through May 6. At 2 p. m. on Thursday, May 6, Blanch will discuss his exhibit at a convocation in the Carlson Library. The program will be open to the public.

Had Early Start

Arold Alder Blanch was born in Mantorville, Minnesota, June 4, 1896. At the age of 14 he was preoccupied with copying paintings of the masters. He quit school soon after this and entered the Minneapolis School of Art. Thereafter, he won scholarships, and one enabled him to enter the Art Students League in New York City where he studied under John Sloan and Robert Henri.

His paintings, as well as his ceramics, book illustrations and designs, are based on his travels throughout the world and reflect his range of expression and subject matter. In all facets of his art career he has been highly successful and his works have brought him countless prizes and awards and his paintings appear in many public and private collections.

Served In AEF

A hunger for more knowledge and background sent Arnold to Europe where he had served with the AEF in World War I. He painted throughout England, France and Italy. On his return to the States in 1923 he was penniless, so young Blanch bought a book on weaving, purchased a loom and turned weaver to earn enough money for his painting material. He also fished and hunted for his own provisions.

In 1928 Blanch had his first one-man show in New York City. He had five one-man shows from 1930 to 1932. While visiting San Francisco, Arnold became an instructor at the California School of Fine Arts which was the beginning of his spectacular career as a teacher. He found that he loved passing along his knowledge to others and he became a dedicated teacher.

ARNOLD BLANCH

In 1933, Blanch won the coveted Guggenheim Fellowship and he was off for Europe again to observe and paint. He returned to teach at the Art Students League from 1935 to 1939. During this period he worked on many Federal projects and painted murals in post office buildings in Ohio, Wisconsin, Connecticut and New York.

Married Doris Lee

In the spring of 1940, the artist held a one-man show at the Associated American Artists Gallery in New York that was heralded by the critics. In 1941 he married Doris Emrich Lee who had been one of his students at the California School of Fine Arts and who has since become one of America's most beloved painters. Their farmhouse and workshop in Woodstock, has been replaced by a beautiful studio home which they designed.

During the 40's the artist illustrated many books in addition to his own painting and he also found time to write two painting instruction books of his own — Methods and Techniques for Gouache Painting (1946), and Painting for Enjoyment (1947), the latter in collaboration with his wife, Doris Lee.

His unique versatility came to the front again in 1949 when he was awarded first prize for designs by the National Ceramic Exhibition of the Syracuse Museum of Fine Arts and he received top prize again in 1951. The painter's work appears in 17 public collections, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Whitney Museum of American Art, Carnegie Institute and the Library of Congress.

Since his teaching term in California, the artist has never stopped teaching others. He has been a visiting artist at Michigan State College (1944), University of Minnesota, 1949), Ohio State University (1952), Florida Gulf Coast Art Center (1951 and 1953), University of Minnesota's Summer School (1953) and University of Hawaii (1955), Des Moines Art Center (1954), Colorado School of Fine Arts, Summer School (1939-1941), and Art Students League, Summer School at Woodstock (1947-1953).

The artists is now a guiding faculty member of the Famous Artists Schools of Westport, Connecticut. This unique home study method enables Blanch to pass along his painting techniques to thousands of students instead of only a few.

Overlook Church Events Slated

The sermon topic for Sunday, April 25, will be "After Death, What?" at the Overlook Methodist Church, Rev. James W. Cook, minister. Morning worship is held at 11 a. m. A nursery is provided for infants and toddlers.

Sunday school is held at 9:45 a. m. for primary through adult classes; and at 11 a. m. for beginners through first grade.

"Puerto Rican Profiles" will be the topic of a speech by the Rev. Richard Moore of South Bethlehem, when he speaks next Sunday at the second Family Night Supper this season. The Rev. Moore took part in a mission to Puerto Rico last fall.

Members and families are invited. Starting time is 6 p. m. Persons attending are asked to bring their own table setting and milk for the children and a good sized covered dish. Tea, coffee and rolls will be provided by the Missions Commission. There will be a program of games for the children.

Mrs. Carol Pike reminds all women of the church of the coming rummage sale on May 29. They are asked to save all white elephants, dishes, furniture, clothing, jewelry, shoes, hats, purses, toys, records, books and other items.

Thanks are extended to Mrs. Ken Vredenburg for the wonderful job she is doing collecting Betty Crocker coupons, all types of trading stamps and most other kinds of coupons to outfit the kitchen of the new church. Any coupons or stamps will be appreciated.

Church league bowling banquet is scheduled May 12 at 6:30 p. m. at the Shady Methodist Church.

The Tuesday morning women's prayer groups will meet as follows: 10 a. m. at Mrs. Williams; 11 a. m. at Mrs. Potters.

Top Figure in Theatre Speaker At WAA Meeting

The Woodstock Artists Association will present a cultural evening featuring a father and son combination, Lon Clark and his son by the same name, May 1, at 8:30 p. m. at the Art Gallery.

Poems in Painting will be read by the elder Clark who has been in theater, television, films and radio for more than 20 years. His son is on the Executive Board of the WAA, serving as Special Events chairman.

The father may currently be seen in the film, The Doctor, but out of some 150 plays he may be remembered in many more. Also a skilled director, he has produced plays such as The Pajama Game, Command Decision, and the operas Dido and Aeneas and Carmen. He recently returned from Brazil where he filmed the soon to be released The Gentle Rain.

Poems for the evening performance were selected by Clarke Jr., who is past chairman of the New York Studio School and is active in the Art Students League of Woodstock. He now resides in Woodstock.

Seats Available on Bus to New York

A few seats are still available on the chartered bus to New York city on Wednesday, April 28, sponsored by the Tuesday Club of Woodstock.

The bus will leave the Village Green at 8 a. m. and leave the Port Authority bus terminal in New York at 8 p. m. The public is invited.

Information on reservations and price of tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Ertz.

Meeting Postponed

The Onteora Board of Education meeting scheduled last night was postponed until Tuesday, April 27 at 8 p. m. Action will be taken at that time on the proposed budget for 1965-66.

Bridal Shower Given For Joyce Van Voorhis

Miss Joyce Van Voorhis was given a bridal shower at Deanie's in Woodstock on March 27. She received many lovely and useful gifts. She will be married to Theodore F. Pade on May 15 at the Dutch Reformed Church in Woodstock.

The Misses Susan Foster and Dorothy Watson were the hostesses at the shower. Among the guests were: Mrs. Ambrose Van Voorhis, Mrs. Theodore Peterson, Florence Madden, Miss Susan Gumaer, Miss Emma Gumaer, all of Kingston; Mrs. Robert Freer, Port Ewen; Mrs. Allen Lund, Saugerties; Mrs. Lloyd Lund, Mrs. Robert Sperring, Mrs. Clifford Watson, Mrs. Charles Van Voorhis, Mrs. Holland Foster, all of Woodstock and Mrs. Robert Sturrack of New Paltz.

Local Ambulance Called

Doctors Ambulance Service of Kingston was called Monday from Boston to transfer a patient from the New England Hospital, Parker Hill Avenue, Boston, Mass., to Gloversville. Henry Bullis of 279 Kingsboro Avenue, Gloversville, underwent a stomach operation March 15 at the Boston Hospital. He was taken Monday to his home in the upstate city by the local ambulance service.

Area Lutheran Meeting Planned

Joseph Grandlienard, Associate Director, Church Planning and Mission of the New York State Council of Churches will be the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Hudson District of the New York Synod of the Lutheran Church in America on May 4th. Mr. Grandlienard will address the pastors and lay delegates representing the 36 churches of the District on the subject: "Planning for the Future in the Mid-Hudson Area." The meeting will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Red Hook which is one of two churches in the District observing its 250th anniversary this year. The other church is St. John's of Manorton in Columbia county. The oldest church in the District is also the only one in Greene county belonging to the New York Synod of the LCA, Zion, Athens, organized in 1703.

The Rev. Paul G. Alberti, president of the Lutheran Church of Maylaysia will speak to the women of the District on May 1, at their Spring Assembly to be held at Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties. Representatives from the area churches of Woodstock, Kingston, Ruby, Saugerties, West Camp, New Paltz and Rhinebeck will be in attendance at both of these meetings.

This Sunday, the relationship between Christian belief and doubt will be explored in a sermon entitled: "Healthy Doubt" by Pastor Krapf. In the evening at 7 p. m., an organ recital by Charles Brand of Kingston will be held at the church. The public is invited.

The Spring Clothing Drive will be concluded this week. Good used clothing is to be left at the church or parsonage.

Selecting Jury

Selection of a jury in the Joseph and Lottie Mae Bowman case was continued in County Court today. Defendants are charged with second degree robbery and second degree assault involving an affair at the Chelsea Furniture Exchange, 16 Hasbrouck Avenue, and an assault on George Chickelsky, one of the proprietors. Francis Martocci appears for defendants and Assistant District Attorney Robert MacKinnon for the prosecution.

Salesman — You can save enough on your food bills to pay for the freezer.

Housewife—Yes, I know, but you see we're paying for our car on the carfare we save. Then, we're paying for our washing machine on the laundry bills we save, and we're paying for the house on the rent we're saving. We just can't afford to save any more right now.

A famous lawyer was called in to see a man in the county jail accused of murder.

When he returned to his office, his secretary said,

Secretary—Well, did you take the case, Mr. Blank?

Lawyer—No, I didn't take it.

Lawyer—My son, he certainly was not financially justified in committing murder.

June Allyson Charged

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Actress June Allyson's husband, Glenn A. Maxwell, charges in a suit for divorce that she has caused him mental anguish during their 18 months of marriage.

Maxwell, 33, a barber, asked in the suit filed Monday in Orange County Superior Court that he be awarded a share of the 40-year-old Miss Allyson's salary, which he said was $20,000 per month.

He said he is under a doctor's care for tuberculosis, and no longer is able to obtain work.

You want the right amount of heat, delivered at the right rate—automatically, silently, economically, steadily—from crisp autumn evenings, through icy winter nights, all the way to nippy spring mornings. In other words, you want an oil furnace that's built to deliver "Living Warmth."

"Living Warmth" from this furnace flows uniformly from floor to ceiling, from wall to wall, from room to room. Its cabinet is handsome. Its burners are self-cleaning. Its blower is big—and quiet. Its new automatic blower-speed control economizes on your fuel oil bill—yet steadily distributes all the warmth you need. And its heat exchanger — the "heart" of your furnace—is guaranteed in writing for 10 full years.

A summer cooling system can be easily added whenever you wish.

Eligible for Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — John F. Campion, acting postmaster at Saranac Lake, N.Y., is eligible for a presidential appointment to the job, the Civil Service Commission announced today.

He was the only applicant for the job. It pays $7,830 a year.

Strikes Sweep Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A wave of brief wage strikes swept Japan today, disrupting communications services and paralyzing major harbors, taxis and sightseeing buses. It was part of the annual spring labor offensive.

NAMED FOR A CITY: Quonset huts, which are the corrugated metal huts that were popular because of their ease of assembly during the war, were named after Quonset, Rhode Island where they were first manufactured.

AP Elects Coast Men as Directors

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of The Associated Press have re-elected four directors and elected two new ones to fill six vacancies in the 18-member board of directors caused by expiring terms.

The new directors — both Californians — are Otis Chandler of the Los Angeles Times, who received 7,499 votes at the annual AP meeting Monday, and James S. Copley of the San Diego Union, 5,898 votes.

Chandler and Copley replace Kenneth MacDonald of the Des Moines (Iowa) Tribune, and John W. Runyon of the Dallas (Tex.) Times Herald, who were not eligible for re-election because they had served three consecutive terms.

Directors Reelected

Directors re-elected to three-year terms from cities of more than 50,000 population by members of the worldwide cooperative news gathering agency were: Franklin D. Schurz, South Bend (Ind.) Tribune; 7,208 votes; Frank A. Daniels, Raleigh (N.C.) Times, 7,071; and Robert McLean, Philadelphia Evening and Sunday Bulletin, 6,741.

Hugh N. Boyd of the New Brunswick (N.J.) Daily Home News & Sunday Home News was re-elected as director from a city of less than 50,000 population. Boyd won by 7,558 votes to 2,913 over J. M. McClelland Jr., of the Longview (Wash.) Daily News.

At the business meeting, the AP members also heard the annual report of the board of directors and elected 13 associate member newspapers to full membership.

Romney Is Speaker

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who addressed about 1,350 newspaper executives and their wives at the annual AP luncheon, said the United States is playing into the hands of Communist pitchmen by calling the nation's economic system capitalistic.

The Republican governor said the U.S. system now is actually "consumerism" — controlled by the people in the marketplace.

Americans buried capitalism long ago, he said, but most of them "are still talking about our 20th century economy in 19th century terms."

At the business meeting, The Associated Press members heard Horst Faas, 32, an AP photographer assigned to the Viet Nam war, describe his experiences in Southeast Asia.

The members gave an ovation to Faas, who has taken many dramatic pictures of the Viet Nam war at the risk of his life. He will return soon to the Viet Nam war coverage.

Olive Picks Fox For 18th Term As Fire Leader

Albert S. Fox Jr. was reelected to his 18th consecutive year as president of the Olive Fire Department No. 1 Inc. at the organization's annual meeting at the Olive Bridge Fire Hall.

Seventy-five members representing the department's five companies attended the meeting. Chief Fox, in his annual report, said the department responded to 99 calls, including six calls for oxygen, four missing persons calls, three false alarms and two Mutual Aid calls. He also reported an estimated fire loss for the Town of Olive, for the year ending March 31, 1965, of $9,200. An increase of $6,450 over the previous year. In closing his report, Chief Fox thanked the officers and men for their loyal support given him during the past year.

Other officers elected for the 1965-1966 term included: Robert Adsit, assistant fire chief; John Adsit, director Co. 2; Henry Johnson, director Co. 4; James Clemens and Peter Tosi, directors Co. 5; also John V. Bachor, first vice president; Alfred Moses, second vice president; John Adsit, treasurer: A. S. Fox Sr., financial secretary; P. S. Tosi, secretary; R. Johanson, sergeant - at - arms; A. Macaluso, steward and the Rev. Paul Hoyt, chaplain.

Paul Malek served as chairman of the voting. Secor, upon assuming the chair as president, made the following appointments: Marcel Maier, delegate, and R. Henderson, alternate delegate, to the Ulster County Firemens Association; and R. Johanson, delegate; and J. Clemens, alternate delegate, to the Hudson Valley Firemens Association.

Chief Fox also expressed his thanks for the honor of serving the Olive Fire Department No. 1, Inc., as its chief for the eighteenth consecutive year and urged that all officers of the five companies meet at the Olive Bridge Fire Hall Wednesday, April 21 at 8 p. m.

The meeting closed in prayer lead by Chaplain Hoyt. Refreshments were served.

Asks Outside Help

Branigin said today donations are needed to help finance the massive cleanup and rebuilding confronting victims of the devastation, when 131 persons were killed in Indiana and more than a thousand injured. Damage has been estimated in the millions.

Photo Correction

In the caption of a snowy Easter scene, Monday night, there was reference to Old Dutch Church. This was in error, the photo was of Fair Street Reformed Church in a setting of snow - covered shrubbery and with large flakes still falling. It was not a Freeman, photo, as stated, but was taken by a freelance photographer and submitted for publication.

Police Dinner For 2 Officers, To Hear Torraca

District Attorney Joseph Torraca will be guest speaker at the May 13 dinner in Skytop Restaurant honoring Deputy Police Chief Grover S. Hoffay and Patrolman Gerald L. Every, it was announced today.

The two will have completed 25 years of service on the local force, as of May 1. Both started on the force May 1, 1940.

The dinner is to be given by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and those interested in obtaining tickets are asked to contact Sgt. Julius Glassman, who is in charge of arrangements. He may be reached through police headquarters, City Hall.

Fur Thieves Busy

LONDON (AP)—Fur thieves stole $140,000 worth of mink over the Easter weekend, it was discovered today.

Within 100 yards of a police station, they broke into a seed store from which they mounted an attack on two adjoining fur companies. They used high-speed drills to cut through a two-foot thick wall.

Notes Progress

Can't Be Lulled, King Asserts in New Selma Visit

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says there have been signs of progress in the Negro's struggle for civil rights in Alabama, but adds, "We must make sure that noble words are implemented."

Positive Step Forward

The Negro integration leader made his first visit in a month Monday to the area where he began the battle for Negro voting rights three months ago. He climaxed a busy day of conferences with Negro leaders by addressing a cheering crowd of Negroes Monday night at Browns Chapel A.M.E. church, headquarters of the civil rights drive.

The most notable sign of progress, King said, was a recent newspaper advertisement by Chambers of Commerce and other buyiness leaders from around the state calling for law and order, fair employment opportunities and compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

"That at least represents a positive step forward," he said. "But we can't allow any developments to lull us to sleep. No longer can we live on promises. We must make sure that noble words are implemented all over Alabama and that Negroes are able to get jobs like anybody else."

King said that more than 150 Negroes have been fired from their jobs in Selma for taking part in the rights movement.

"We can't take this lying down," he said. "We are going to call on our friends all over the nation to help us."

Cuts Speech Short

He cut his speech short and headed for Montgomery to catch a plane back to Atlanta.

Earlier, he met with civil rights leaders in Camden after police turned back two marches to the Wilcox County courthouse.

King arrived while about 125 Negroes, their march halted by police, stood beside a street near a Negro church. He led the marchers back to the church for a rally and strategy meeting.

As he drove into town, King was handed a state court injunction prohibiting him and other civil rights leaders from taking pupils out of school to demonstrate.

Minutes after he left the Antioch Baptist church and headed for Selma, nearly 400 Negro pupils marched from the church. They were stopped by police.

Fair to Reopen

more admission-free exhibits and light entertainment.

37.5 Million Expected

Fair President Robert Moses said it "is a brighter, bigger fair than 1964" and he predicted that 37.5 million people would visit it before the gates close Oct. 21.

Unlike last year, the fair this year will offer dance hall entertainment, games of skill, "family-geared" girlie shows and regular can-can performances.

Back again will be the large industrial exhibits dotting the 646-acre site.

Also on display again will be priceless art treasures in many of the foreign pavilions and church-sponsored exhibits.

Other new exhibits include paintings and personal belongings of the late Sir Winston Churchill and some of this nation's most treasured documents.

Put on Probation

One of three teeenagers charged with being involved in a disturbance at or near a midtown tavern last month, was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail in city court today and was placed on probation. He is Francis S. Gillespie, 16, of Port Ewen, who with the others was charged with disorderly conduct. The others, James Clark, 18, of Box 15-B, Rhinebeck, and Edward Kerwin, of PO Box 71, Eddyville, are due in court April 26.

Eligible for Post

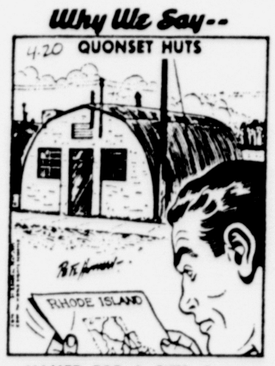

WASHINGTON (AP) — John F. Campion, acting postmaster at Saranac Lake, N.Y., is eligible for a presidential appointment to the job, the Civil Service Commission announced today.

He was the only applicant for the job. It pays $7,830 a year.

Strikes Sweep Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A wave of brief wage strikes swept Japan today, disrupting communications services and paralyzing major harbors, taxis and sightseeing buses. It was part of the annual spring labor offensive.

Why We Say--

NAMED FOR A CITY: Quonset huts, which are the corrugated metal huts that were popular because of their ease of assembly during the war, were named after Quonset, Rhode Island where they were first manufactured.

AP Elects Coast Men as Directors

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of The Associated Press have re-elected four directors and elected two new ones to fill six vacancies in the 18-member board of directors caused by expiring terms.

The new directors — both Californians — are Otis Chandler of the Los Angeles Times, who received 7,499 votes at the annual AP meeting Monday, and James S. Copley of the San Diego Union, 5,898 votes.

Chandler and Copley replace Kenneth MacDonald of the Des Moines (Iowa) Tribune, and John W. Runyon of the Dallas (Tex.) Times Herald, who were not eligible for re-election because they had served three consecutive terms.

Directors Reelected

Directors re-elected to three-year terms from cities of more than 50,000 population by members of the worldwide cooperative news gathering agency were: Franklin D. Schurz, South Bend (Ind.) Tribune; 7,208 votes; Frank A. Daniels, Raleigh (N.C.) Times, 7,071; and Robert McLean, Philadelphia Evening and Sunday Bulletin, 6,741.

Hugh N. Boyd of the New Brunswick (N.J.) Daily Home News & Sunday Home News was re-elected as director from a city of less than 50,000 population. Boyd won by 7,558 votes to 2,913 over J. M. McClelland Jr., of the Longview (Wash.) Daily News.

At the business meeting, the AP members also heard the annual report of the board of directors and elected 13 associate member newspapers to full membership.

Romney Is Speaker

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who addressed about 1,350 newspaper executives and their wives at the annual AP luncheon, said the United States is playing into the hands of Communist pitchmen by calling the nation's economic system capitalistic.

The Republican governor said the U.S. system now is actually "consumerism" — controlled by the people in the marketplace.

Americans buried capitalism long ago, he said, but most of them "are still talking about our 20th century economy in 19th century terms."

At the business meeting, The Associated Press members heard Horst Faas, 32, an AP photographer assigned to the Viet Nam war, describe his experiences in Southeast Asia.

The members gave an ovation to Faas, who has taken many dramatic pictures of the Viet Nam war at the risk of his life. He will return soon to the Viet Nam war coverage.

Olive Picks Fox For 18th Term As Fire Leader

Albert S. Fox Jr. was reelected to his 18th consecutive year as president of the Olive Fire Department No. 1 Inc. at the organization's annual meeting at the Olive Bridge Fire Hall.

Seventy-five members representing the department's five companies attended the meeting. Chief Fox, in his annual report, said the department responded to 99 calls, including six calls for oxygen, four missing persons calls, three false alarms and two Mutual Aid calls. He also reported an estimated fire loss for the Town of Olive, for the year ending March 31, 1965, of $9,200. An increase of $6,450 over the previous year. In closing his report, Chief Fox thanked the officers and men for their loyal support given him during the past year.

Other officers elected for the 1965-1966 term included: Robert Adsit, assistant fire chief; John Adsit, director Co. 2; Henry Johnson, director Co. 4; James Clemens and Peter Tosi, directors Co. 5; also John V. Bachor, first vice president; Alfred Moses, second vice president; John Adsit, treasurer; A. S. Fox Sr., financial secretary; P. S. Tosi, secretary; R. Johanson, sergeant - at - arms; A. Macaluso, steward and the Rev. Paul Hoyt, chaplain.

The following company officers were elected:

Paul Malek served as chairman of the voting. Secor, upon assuming the chair as president, made the following appointments: Marcel Maier, delegate, and R. Henderson, alternate delegate, to the Ulster County Firemens Association; and R. Johanson, delegate; and J. Clemens, alternate delegate, to the Hudson Valley Firemens Association.

Chief Fox also expressed his thanks for the honor of serving the Olive Fire Department No. 1, Inc., as its chief for the eighteenth consecutive year and urged that all officers of the five companies meet at the Olive Bridge Fire Hall Wednesday, April 21 at 8 p. m.

The meeting closed in prayer lead by Chaplain Hoyt. Refreshments were served.

Asks Outside Help

Branigin said today donations are needed to help finance the massive cleanup and rebuilding confronting victims of the devastation, when 131 persons were killed in Indiana and more than a thousand injured. Damage has been estimated in the millions.

Photo Correction

In the caption of a snowy Easter scene, Monday night, there was reference to Old Dutch Church. This was in error, the photo was of Fair Street Reformed Church in a setting of snow-covered shrubbery and with large flakes still falling. It was not a Freeman, photo, as stated, but was taken by a freelance photographer and submitted for publication.

Police Dinner For 2 Officers, To Hear Torraca

District Attorney Joseph Torraca will be guest speaker at the May 13 dinner in Skytop Restaurant honoring Deputy Police Chief Grover S. Hoffay and Patrolman Gerald L. Every, it was announced today.

The two will have completed 25 years of service on the local force, as of May 1. Both started on the force May 1, 1940.

The dinner is to be given by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and those interested in obtaining tickets are asked to contact Sgt. Julius Glassman, who is in charge of arrangements. He may be reached through police headquarters, City Hall.

Fur Thieves Busy

LONDON (AP)—Fur thieves stole $140,000 worth of mink over the Easter weekend, it was discovered today.

Within 100 yards of a police station, they broke into a seed store from which they mounted an attack on two adjoining fur companies. They used high-speed drills to cut through a two-foot thick wall.

Notes Progress

Can't Be Lulled, King Asserts in New Selma Visit

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says there have been signs of progress in the Negro's struggle for civil rights in Alabama, but adds, "We must make sure that noble words are implemented."

Positive Step Forward

The Negro integration leader made his first visit in a month Monday to the area where he began the battle for Negro voting rights three months ago. He climaxed a busy day of conferences with Negro leaders by addressing a cheering crowd of Negroes Monday night at Browns Chapel A.M.E. church, headquarters of the civil rights drive.

The most notable sign of progress, King said, was a recent newspaper advertisement by Chambers of Commerce and other business leaders from around the state calling for law and order, fair employment opportunities and compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

"That at least represents a positive step forward," he said. "But we can't allow any developments to lull us to sleep. No longer can we live on promises. We must make sure that noble words are implemented all over Alabama and that Negroes are able to get jobs like anybody else."

King said that more than 150 Negroes have been fired from their jobs in Selma for taking part in the rights movement.

"We can't take this lying down," he said. "We are going to call on our friends all over the nation to help us."

Cuts Speech Short

He cut his speech short and headed for Montgomery to catch a plane back to Atlanta.

Earlier, he met with civil rights leaders in Camden after police turned back two marches to the Wilcox County courthouse.

King arrived while about 125 Negroes, their march halted by police, stood beside a street near a Negro church. He led the marchers back to the church for a rally and strategy meeting.

As he drove into town, King was handed a state court injunction prohibiting him and other civil rights leaders from taking pupils out of school to demonstrate.

Minutes after he left the Antioch Baptist church and headed for Selma, nearly 400 Negro pupils marched from the church. They were stopped by police.

Fair to Reopen

37.5 Million Expected

Fair President Robert Moses said it "is a brighter, bigger fair than 1964" and he predicted that 37.5 million people would visit it before the gates close Oct. 21.

Unlike last year, the fair this year will offer dance hall entertainment, games of skill, "family-geared" girlie shows and regular can-can performances.

Back again will be the large industrial exhibits dotting the 646-acre site.

Also on display again will be priceless art treasures in many of the foreign pavilions and church-sponsored exhibits.

Other new exhibits include paintings and personal belongings of the late Sir Winston Churchill and some of this nation's most treasured documents.

Put on Probation

One of three teeenagers charged with being involved in a disturbance at or near a midtown tavern last month, was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail in city court today and was placed on probation. He is Francis S. Gillespie, 16, of Port Ewen, who with the others was charged with disorderly conduct. The others, James Clark, 18, of Box 15-B, Rhinebeck, and Edward Kerwin, of PO Box 71, Eddyville, are due in court April 26.
